

The Mightiest Little Peasant Chapter 1747

“Hey! This Tang guy must be a fool! What right did he have to challenge the pill God tower with his level? Isn’t that a joke?”

“Hmph! You really don’t know your place!”

The square was in an uproar.

Everyone raised their heads and their gazes landed on the figure standing in front of the pill God tower’s door. Their faces were filled with disdain and mockery.

“You people from the medicine God mountain are really interesting!”

The members of the Yao clan also laughed mockingly.

A mere tenth grade dared to speak with such a frightening tone, saying that he would break the pill God tower. Wasn’t this a joke? Even the most outstanding genius of his Yao clan had failed. How could this tenth-grade trash break it?

The two elders couldn’t hold their expressions any longer. This guy was causing trouble and disgracing the medicine God mountain.

Just as they were about to reprimand him, they saw him take a step and enter the tower.

“Fine, let him go in. He’ll be out soon anyway!”

“That’s true! A mere tenth-grade can’t even pass the first level. At most, in fifteen minutes, he’ll roll out!”

The crowd laughed for a while and waited.

While they were waiting, everyone started talking about this Tang guy.

Before yesterday, no one knew who this guy was. There were too many tenth-grade alchemists on the medicine God mountain, so no one would pay attention to him. It was only during the gathering yesterday that this guy had arrogantly said that he would empty the pill God Palace. That was how he became famous.

At first, everyone thought that it was a joke, but they never expected that this guy would really empty this place.

“This guy is really a talent!”

Many people were amazed.

The pill God Realm had been open for many years, and no one had ever been able to move the treasure chest and steal the treasures inside. Only this guy had done it!

“Bah! What kind of talent is he? he just has a good knife. If I had that knife, I would be able to do it too. What’s the big deal?”

But more people were disdainful.

What kind of skill was it to empty the treasure chest with the sharpness of that treasured saber?

“Speaking of which, what kind of blade is that? How could it be so sharp? Didn’t they say that the box was very hard and invulnerable? no one could break it open, but I saw him raise his hand and cut it open with a Kacha sound, as if he was cutting tofu. ”

Everyone started to discuss the saber again, their eyes filled with enthusiasm.

They knew that it must be a peerless treasured saber!

“A treasured saber?”

After the members of the Yao clan by the side heard this, their expressions changed.

They had also heard of this box from the alchemy God World. It was personally refined by alchemy God Bai Feng. It was said that the alchemy God had a cultivation of the seventh or eighth tribulation. To be able to easily split open this box, that knife was definitely an extraordinary treasure.

“A mere tenth realm Alchemist, what right does he have to own such a treasured saber!”

They were all thinking about that treasured saber.

At this time, on the first level of the pill tower, Tang Hao was standing in the void. In the void in front of him, a ripple appeared, and then a figure changed. It was a young man with a handsome face and a graceful temperament.

He was dressed in white. He cupped his hands at Tang Hao and smiled warmly. “I am Bai Feng. Greetings, fellow Daoist!”

Tang Hao immediately returned the gesture.

“Is this the alchemy God of youth?!” Tang Hao thought to himself as he studied the young man.

He was almost 50 years old, so the alchemy God in front of him was almost 50 years old. It was said that he had already become a saint at this time, which should be similar to his realm.

And that Yao Kong Xuan should also be facing an alchemy God of this period.

“Fellow Daoist, how should I address you?”

The incarnation of the alchemy God said.

“Surnamed Tang!”

Tang Hao cupped his hands.

“Oh,” the clone said as he sized Tang Hao up. “Fellow cultivator Tang, you’re so young, but your cultivation base is not weak!” And I seem to have some impression of the surname Tang.”

He furrowed his brows slightly as if he had recalled something.

However, he quickly shook his head and turned to Tang Hao. “Alright, let’s start. This first round will test the most basic of alchemy skills, plants. There are a total of 100 questions. If you can answer 60 of them, you’ll pass.”

“Please speak!”

Tang Hao extended his hand and gestured for her to go ahead.

“You’re pretty confident!” The incarnation smiled and sat down cross-legged in the air. With a wave of his sleeve, a light flashed and condensed into a few plants.

At first glance, these plants were exactly the same.

“The first question is to identify these three plants!”

The incarnation pointed at the plants and said.

Tang Hao furrowed his brows when he read the message.

These three stalks really looked exactly the same, making it difficult for people to distinguish them.

“This is ... Profound essence grass?”

Tang Hao mumbled. All three of them looked like the mysterious essence herb.

However, since the alchemy God had asked him to identify them, these three should be different. They just looked similar. There were so many plants in the world that looked similar. Most of them were mutated.

Tang Hao pondered for a moment, then pointed at the one in the middle and said, “This is a profound elemental herb.”

The alchemy God’s incarnation said with interest, “Are you sure?”

“I’m sure!”

Tang Hao said with certainty.

“What about this one?” The incarnation pointed to the one on the left.

“This is ... Nine-leafed mysterious origin grass!” Tang Hao stared at it for a while, then said with certainty, “an ordinary profound essence herb only has seven leaves, but this one has nine leaves. It’s a variant.”

“These two are both young grass and haven’t grown yet, so I can’t see any big difference!”

The incarnation nodded and revealed a look of admiration. “You’re right! You’ve guessed these two correctly, what about this one?”

As he spoke, he pointed to the one on the right.

Tang Hao looked at it for a while, and his brows furrowed slightly. No matter how he looked at it, he could not see any difference. There was another variant of the mysterious elemental herb, but its characteristics did not match the one in front of him.

He was a little hesitant.

“What’s wrong? You can’t recognize me?”

The incarnation said.

Tang Hao thought for a moment, then smiled. “This is still profound essence grass!”

He had figured it out. The alchemy God was lying to him. When an ordinary person saw these three spiritual herbs, they would definitely think that they were different. However, in reality, two of them were the same, and only one was different.

“Are you sure?”

The incarnation laughed again.

“I’m sure!”

Tang Hao’s tone was even more confident.

If it was someone who wasn’t strong enough or didn’t have a strong will, they would definitely be scared and doubt their own judgment. But he wouldn’t.

He was very confident in his judgment. This was just an ordinary Xuanyuan grass.

“Congratulations, you’re right!”

The incarnation laughed.

As expected!

Tang Hao thought to himself. He also breathed a sigh of relief.

“This test ... Is quite interesting!”

He muttered.

It's only the first question and there's already a hidden mystery. It seems that this alchemy God's test is indeed different.

“Next, the second question!”

As the incarnation spoke, he flicked his sleeve and the three Xuanyuan herbs disappeared. Three more spiritual herbs appeared.
