

The Mightiest Little Peasant Chapter 1775

The people around him noticed Tang Hao's movements and looked over, sneering at him.

They could tell with a single glance that this guy was planning to take the law comprehension stage.

"Tsk! What red-refined godly metal? it's not a problem for me!"

Tang Hao thumped his chest and said loudly.

His eyes lit up. Red refined godly metal? This was good stuff! A divine material for refining weapons!

"Yo! You're quite arrogant!"

The people around him burst into laughter.

When they saw the butcher knife in Tang Hao's hand, they were stunned for a moment, then they laughed even more happily.

"What kind of broken blade is this!"

"Hahaha! Don't break this stupid blade in one go!"

They all sneered.

But then, they couldn't laugh anymore. Each of them trembled and froze on the spot. Under their horrified eyes, the pig slaughtering knife was waved and the chain was broken with a ding.

"How ... How is this possible?"

Their eyes were wide open in disbelief.

This was red-refined godly metal, one of the toughest metal in the world. Many people had wanted to cut open this chain, but only a few had been able to do so, which was why so many law comprehension platforms had been left behind.

But now, this guy was cutting the red-refined godly metal as easily as cutting cabbage. It was unbelievably easy.

While they were still in a daze, Tang Hao flicked his sleeve and put away the Enlightenment platform and the chain.

"One is in my hands!"

Tang Hao mumbled excitedly as he darted toward his next target.

Of course, he couldn't just take one of these good things. There were many more here, so he took them all.

His hand rose and his blade fell, and another law comprehension stage was in his hands.

He was even more excited. He lifted his butcher knife and walked around like a gust of wind. He swept away the law comprehension platforms one by one.

At this time, everyone finally reacted and was greatly shocked. In the past, there had been people who had taken away a few law comprehension stages, but each person had only taken one and didn't dare to take more. But this guy was completely different, he was actually so unscrupulous.

"This bastard is too detestable!"

Then, they were furious. If all of them were taken away, what the hell would they be able to comprehend!

At the same time, their eyes were red with envy. This law comprehension stage was a priceless treasure.

"Stop!"

They angrily rebuked and were about to attack.

By then, Tang Hao had already swept away all the unoccupied enlightenment platforms. He left immediately when he saw that the situation was not in his favor.

"I've earned!"

Tang Hao stopped and counted after they were far away.

"This tianlao mountain is really a treasure land! Nine immortal fish and these spell comprehension platforms, this trip was worth it!" Tang Hao was in a good mood. He had gained a lot this time.

He hummed a little tune and continued to head up the mountain.

The higher he went, the thicker the fog became. It was misty all around, like a dream.

The mountain path beneath his feet was longer. After a long walk, Tang Hao finally reached his next destination. It was the most famous place on the heavenly grandmother divine mountain, the misty divine herb garden.

The medicine garden was built in a Valley and was shrouded in a thick fog. When one looked inside, one could hardly see anything.

At the entrance, there were people going in and out from time to time.

When they entered, those people were all in high spirits, but when they came out, they were all dejected.

"It's too difficult!"

Many people even sighed dejectedly.

Tang Hao was surprised. He went in and found out that the divine herbs in the divine herb garden were protected by a formation. It was similar to the herb garden at the Green Emperor mountain.

However, the formation techniques of the two were different. The one at the Green Emperor mountain was a protective formation. It was a circle of light screen that surrounded the medicine garden.

However, these were all bewilderment formations, illusionary formations, and so on. They could see the divine medicine, but they couldn't touch it.

Those that were relatively simple had already been broken by others and the godly medicine inside had been taken away. The remaining ones seemed to be more difficult.

After going around the entire herb garden, there were only seven godly herbs left. Each of them was protected by a powerful array. There were many people surrounding them, trying to break the array.

Tang Hao stopped at one of the spots and looked around.

"This is ... The eight trigrams sky concealing array?!"

Tang Hao recognized the formation after a while.

Tang Hao's attainment in formations was not weak either.

This Eight Trigrams sky concealing formation was a very famous maze formation. It was set up with the number of the eight trigrams. Once you entered the formation, you would be trapped in a maze. If you did not know the method, you would be trapped inside and would no longer be able to move.

From time to time, people would enter through the entrance, and from time to time, people would fall out of the spatial ripples. However, they were all transferred out by the great formation. All of them were dejected, clearly having failed.

"This array ... I'm afraid it won't be easy to break!"

Tang Hao mumbled after observing for a while.

The eight trigrams sky concealing formation was also divided into different levels. According to the number of the eight trigrams, it would evolve into various changes. The more changes there were, the more complicated it was and the more difficult it was to break through. The less changes there were, the simpler it was.

This formation had been set up by an ancient Almighty, so it must be a top-notch bewildering formation with endless changes and very difficult to break.

However, it was precisely because of this that Tang Hao's interest was piqued.

He wanted to see just how profound this formation set up by an ancient omnipotent was.

After one of them went in, Tang Hao stepped forward and followed.

Tang Hao felt his head spin as soon as he stepped into the formation. When he landed again, he was in an unfamiliar space surrounded by pitch-black walls.

Tang Hao looked around him. He felt like he had seen her before.

Back then, when Liu heihu had obtained the star-picking Daoist priest's relics, there was a similar maze in the trap he had set up.

Tang Hao calmed his mind and walked toward the door.

As he walked, he paid attention to any small changes in his surroundings.

Soon, every path and every change was imprinted in his mind.

He walked back and forth, over and over again. As he fumbled around, the outline of the bewildering formation took shape in his mind.

He sat down cross-legged, closed his eyes, and began to simulate the changes of this bewildering formation in his mind.

After an hour, he opened his eyes and said, "I see!"

Then, with a smile, he stood up and walked forward.

After going through many twists and turns and many forks, his eyes suddenly brightened up. He had successfully walked out of the maze and arrived at the medicine garden. What appeared in front of him was a Purple Lotus flower. It was crystal clear and divine light flowed around it.

At this moment, the people outside also saw the figure who appeared in the herb garden.

They were stunned at first.

Subconsciously, they thought that their eyes were playing tricks on them. No one had broken through these formations for many years, and they were also the most difficult and almost impossible to break. But now, someone had actually succeeded in breaking through.

"Who is he?"

They focused their gazes, trying to see Tang Hao's face.

"I don't know him!"

Then, they shook their heads. None of them recognized the man.

In the herb garden, Tang Hao carefully took the purple Lotus and planted it in his mobile immortal's cave.
