

The Mightiest Little Peasant Chapter 1801

“Hahaha! The heavens are really helping me!”

“I didn’t expect to catch such a treasure this time!”

The man laughed in his heart and was extremely excited.

His eyes lit up as if he was looking at some Supreme treasure. He looked at the figure in the array in the distance.

“I must seize this brat’s body!”

His eyes were filled with extreme greed.

The more he looked at him, the more he found this person to be a monster. Not only did he have a powerful divine bone and a Supreme divine body, but there was also a powerful treasure hidden between his eyebrows. There were also several powerful auras exuding from his body, which seemed to be some powerful treasure.

He was certain that this kid was hiding a great treasure!

As long as he seized this body, the treasure would naturally be his!

“Hahaha! That’s great!”

He was getting more and more excited.

But then, his brows furrowed, and he looked a little confused.

Like the other young monsters, they would come in groups and be surrounded by many experts. They should all be the Holy Sons of the major clans, but this guy was all alone. It was really strange!

Since this person was so monstrous, he should at least be the Holy Son of a race!

Why didn’t such a person bring a few experts with him?

“It’s really strange! This kid ... Which clan is he from?”

He was secretly puzzled.

Just as he was sizing him up, he was suddenly startled. It was that person who had suddenly turned around, as if he had sensed something, and looked in his direction.

Those two eyes were bright, like lightning, and extremely sharp.

At that moment, he felt like he had been completely seen through.

He was shocked and couldn't help but take a few steps back, his heart in turmoil.

Could it be that he had been seen through?

But ... How was this possible?

He was hiding in this illusionary formation, so it should be impossible for anyone to see through him!

However, this kid's gaze was so sharp, as if he had really seen through her.

"Strange!"

Tang Hao stood in the middle of the formation. He turned around and looked at the formation. He furrowed his brows in surprise.

Just now, he had clearly felt that someone was spying on him. At first, he was not sure, but this feeling gradually became stronger, as if there was a dagger at his back.

However, when he turned around and looked, he could only see the fog and found nothing.

"Could it be an illusion?"

He mumbled to himself and revealed a look of relief.

But in his heart, he was secretly on guard.

"So it was a false alarm!" Seeing this, the man immediately heaved a sigh of relief, as if a heavy burden had been lifted off his shoulders.

That's true! Even those 5th tribulation experts had not discovered his existence, so it was absolutely impossible for a tribulation 4th tribulation kid to discover him.

He continued to spy on the boy, carefully investigating his situation.

Tang Hao took a few steps forward, but he suddenly stopped in his tracks. That feeling came from behind him again!

After a slight pause, his expression returned to normal as he continued walking forward.

"It seems like there's really a ghost in this formation!"

He thought to himself.

About ten minutes later, the feeling disappeared.

Tang Hao turned around to look. He was confused. He was not sure what was going on.

"Forget it!"

After confirming that the feeling of being watched had completely disappeared, Tang Hao shook his head and put the matter aside.

The most important thing now was to break this illusion array and leave this place.

“This formation is quite mysterious!”

He wandered around and gradually figured out the structure of the formation. It was also a big formation evolved from the nine palaces and Eight Trigrams. He was quite good at this. After some effort, he walked out easily.

After stepping out of the bewildering formation, there was a Valley in front of them.

Tang Hao looked around and was surprised. There was no one in the valley, and he was the first one to arrive.

“It seems that those so-called array Masters are nothing more than this!”

Tang Hao looked back at the formation and chuckled.

He looked ahead, but it was still foggy. The shocking murderous aura was coming from ahead.

Tang Hao hesitated for a moment, then stopped in his tracks. He did not dare to step forward.

There must be an extremely dangerous formation in front of him. It was absolutely impossible for him to break through it alone. He would only have a chance to break through in the chaos when the main force came.

He sat down at the side and waited.

After waiting for about ten minutes, they heard movement from the formation behind them. A man stepped out of the formation and saw the valley in front of him. He was stunned at first, then he laughed out loud, wild with joy.

“He’s out! I’m finally out! Hahaha! I, Daoist priest horizon, will definitely be the first to pass the formation!”

He laughed in joy and was extremely proud.

Many array Masters had come to challenge the array this time, and they were all at the peak of the spiritual wilderness.

As a master, everyone had a bit of pride in their hearts. When they encountered such an ancient psychedelic formation, they naturally had to compete openly and secretly to see who was better. Now it seemed that he, Daoist priest horizon, had won, and had greatly stolen the limelight.

He laughed and laughed, but suddenly stopped.

He was stunned and stunned. His eyes were as wide as copper bells as he stared at the figure sitting cross-legged in the corner of the valley.

His mouth slowly opened, and his face was filled with shock.

Who ... Was this guy?

What ... What was he doing?

Oh my God! He was actually drinking tea!

In this dangerous place, he had actually set up a tea table and a teapot. He was leisurely drinking tea. His expression and actions were unspeakably free and at ease.

He didn't look like he was here to challenge the array, but more like he was here to tour the mountains and play with the water!

"Who ... Who are you?"

He blurted out, full of doubts.

This fellow didn't seem like he was here to challenge the formation at all. Furthermore, how could there be someone who had cleared the formation earlier than him and arrived here?

He knew all the array Masters who came, but there was definitely no such person!

Tang Hao glanced at him and smiled. "You're too slow, fellow Daoist!"

Daoist priest horizon was stunned, and his expression changed drastically.

From his tone ... Could it be that this fellow had really broken through the formation and arrived here earlier than him?

'How ... How is this possible?'

Looking at this fellow's appearance, he had clearly broken through the formation much earlier than him!

When did such an array expert appear in the spiritual wilderness?

"Come! Sit down! Let's have some tea together!"

Tang Hao picked up the teacup and waved at him.

That day, Daozi hesitated for a moment and was somewhat resistant. However, for some reason, he walked over, sat down at the table, and also tasted the tea.

He sat there and drank his tea, feeling a little uncomfortable.

What the hell is this!

He was clearly here to break through the formation and seize the treasures, so why was he sitting here and drinking tea leisurely?

“Hahaha! I’m finally out! I’m definitely the first one!”

After a while, there was movement in the formation. A figure rushed out and laughed loudly.

However, as he laughed, he suddenly stopped. His eyes widened as he looked in shock at the two figures sitting and drinking tea in the corner of the valley.

“Aiya! That’s strange! He’s still in the formation!”

He was stunned for a long time before he shouted in frustration. He then turned around and scuttled back into the formation.
