

The Mightiest Little Peasant Chapter 1835

“Since I can’t escape, I might as well muddy the waters! Maybe there’s still a chance of survival!”

Tang Hao gritted his teeth, his face determined.

He was very clear that with his current strength, it was almost impossible to escape from the pursuit of the six tribulations old monster. Since he was already in a situation of certain death, he might as well cut off all means of retreat and take a gamble.

When the water was muddy, he would have a chance to live.

With a thought, the clones and souls in the distance all received his order and began to move.

“Little brat, where are you running to?”

Behind him, the old monster roared and chased after him with a ferocious expression.

Tang Hao immediately activated the void bone and shuttled through the void. He continued to escape, but the old monster caught up not long after and bit him tightly.

“Stinky brat, why didn’t you just stay in the lower realm? why did you have to come here? I’ll make you regret it!”

Qin hai shouted in a hushed voice.

“Old man, don’t be too proud!”

As Tang Hao Ran, he turned around and sneered at the old man. The old man was infuriated.

At this time, not far away from the mountain range, a spiritual light flew over from a city. It seemed to be seriously injured, and when it arrived in front of the city gate, it fell head first.

“Oh! What’s wrong with this guy?”

“Hiss! How tragic!”

The cultivators in front of the door took a closer look and all sucked in a cold breath.

This guy was too miserable. He was covered in blood, his breathing was weak, and he looked like he was about to die.

“He must be fighting with someone or running into some ferocious beast!”

Everyone secretly speculated.

They sized up this person, and many people’s eyes flickered, but they had crooked ideas.

This guy's cultivation didn't seem weak, and he should have some good things on him. Since he was going to die soon, he might as well let them take advantage of it.

Immediately, they surrounded the area.

"Cough cough!"

At this moment, the man struggled to lift himself up, revealing a face full of blood. He said with difficulty, "That ... That kid ... Has ... Has appeared!"

Hearing this, everyone was stunned.

"That kid? Who is it?"

For a moment, they couldn't react.

However, in the next moment, their expressions changed drastically.

That kid?

Who else could it be other than that Tang guy?

Now, everyone on Pangu continent was looking for that kid!

"Is it that Tang guy? He has appeared?"

"Quickly say it! Where's that kid?"

In an instant, the crowd went crazy!

The entire continent had been searching for him for a long time, but they still couldn't find any trace of him. Even the Almighty from the Cangjie clan couldn't find him. Now, he had appeared in the vicinity. How could they not be excited?

Two Supreme artifacts!

Just the thought of it made them tremble with excitement.

Even if he couldn't get the two Supreme artifacts, that kid still had many treasures on him. He even had several Emperor artifacts. He was a moving treasure vault!

"Y-yes! That's the kid!"

That person coughed out another mouthful of blood. "He has appeared and is being chased by the people of the Qin clan. He ... He is over there ... I ... Accidentally bumped into them and they wanted to silence me!"

"Qin clan? Spiritual wilderness?"

When everyone heard this, they were all a little surprised.

So many clans had tried all sorts of methods but were still unable to find that brat. Even the Tang Clan couldn't find him. Yet, the Qin clan had found him. It was truly strange.

However, they didn't have the time to think too much. In order to kill that brat, the Qin clan must have sent out a 6th tribulation expert. If they were late, they would have nothing left.

"This Qin clan is too detestable! You actually want to eat it all for yourself!"

"Hurry up! Inform the elders that that brat has appeared and is being chased by the Almighty experts of the Qin clan. Tell them to send more people over quickly!"

They angrily cursed a few times, then hurriedly moved and soared into the sky.

At the same time, rays of spirit light flew out from their hands and scattered in all directions.

Very quickly, the news spread from outside the city gates to the city, causing a huge commotion. The entire city was in an uproar.

"Run! We must stop the Qin clan. We can't let them take the person away!"

"Hmph! This Qin clan actually wants to monopolize it. They didn't even ask if all the other clans in the world agreed!"

Everyone rushed out in a hurry, and countless messages were sent back to their respective forces through various means.

"Hmph! This Qin clan...Is simply too bold!"

In a restaurant in the city, an old man slammed the table and stood up, his eyes wide with anger.

He was wearing a black robe and had a cold temperament.

"This isn't their spirit wilderness, this is the West wilderness! Since that kid has entered the West barren, he will be our prey. How can we allow the Qin clan to taint him?" He flicked his sleeves heavily and snorted angrily.

"Go! Let's go and meet them. I want to see what kind of people the Qin clan has sent!"

He turned into a long rainbow and shot into the sky.

"Yes! Elder!"

Behind him, a group of people turned into spiritual lights and followed.

At this time, from all four directions of the city, several long rainbows also flew up. Their momentum was particularly astonishing, and they were all 6th tribulation Almightyies.

Originally, these 6th tribulation Almightyies were very rare, and most of them were in seclusion. But now, in order to find that kid, these Almightyies came out one after another and wandered around the world. Naturally, there were many in this city.

When they heard the news, they couldn't help but rush in the direction of the crowd.

In the depths of the earth, two spiritual lights were still chasing each other. However, the one in front was already unable to hold on and its speed gradually slowed down. Even if it shuttled through the void, it could not travel far at a time and was about to be caught up.

"Stinky brat, run! Hahaha! A mere 4th tribulation dares to be so insolent in front of me, you're really looking for death!"

Qin hai laughed out loud, a smug and mocking expression appearing on his face.

"Come over here, you stinky brat!"

He suddenly sped up and closed the distance. Then, he stretched out his hand, and a giant palm appeared. It tore the void apart and grabbed at the light in front of him.

Seeing that he was about to succeed, he couldn't help but feel ecstatic.

When they catch this brat, all the treasures on him would belong to the Qin clan. Not only that, they would be able to take revenge for Shijie.

However, at this moment, there was a sudden change. From above, a few cold snorts suddenly exploded. Then, a strong aura gushed down and blocked his giant palm.

"So it's you! Qin hai!"

"Old Qin hai, your Qin clan is really good! You want to take all of it for yourself? you should ask if the other races of the West barren agree!"

Along with a few cold shouts, a few figures came down at an extremely fast speed, arriving in front of them in the blink of an eye.

"Not good!"

Qin hai looked up, and his expression changed drastically.

They were all at the 6th tribulation, the same level as him, and they were all from the XI Huang clan.

"Dammit! Why are they here?"

Qin hai gritted his teeth, feeling somewhat vexed. He had clearly been so close to catching that brat, yet he had been discovered by this group of old monsters from the Western Desert. This time, things were going to get troublesome.
