

The Mightiest Little Peasant Chapter 1862

“Since I can’t force my way in, I can only sneak in!”

Tang Hao said to himself.

Previously, he had heard that there were 6th tribulation experts in the gate of fortune. With his current 5th tribulation cultivation, he was far from being a match for them. Thus, he could not force his way in.

However, how to sneak in without being discovered was another big problem!

This creation sect was not a small sect that allowed him to come and go as he pleased. Even if he disguised himself as a disciple and sneaked in, there was still a risk of being discovered.

“Let’s wait and see!”

Tang Hao pondered for a long time and decided to investigate the situation.

The gate of fortune wasn’t very famous. Therefore, he didn’t manage to find out much on his way here. He had to ask around before he could make a plan.

He searched around and found a market near the mountain range.

“The gate of fortune? Not bad, right? In this area of tens of thousands of li, the gate of fortune is the most powerful sect!”

“6th tribulation? There were a few of them, but as for the seventh tribulation? This gate of fortune used to be very powerful and glorious for a period of time. There were countless experts in the sect, but now, they are no longer in the ranks of our desolate.”

In the restaurant, someone answered Tang Hao’s question enthusiastically.

“What’s wrong, little brother? are you asking this because you want to enter the gate of fortune?”
Someone asked after sizing Tang Hao up.

Tang Hao looked very young, and his cultivation level was very low. He looked like a young cultivator who had come to the gate of fortune to join it.

There were many such young people every year.

“That’s a good idea!” Tang Hao smiled.

“Hey! Then you’re too late. Not long ago, the gate of fortune opened once and accepted a batch of disciples!”

“Little brother, you’re out of luck!”

Everyone sighed.

“I see!”

Tang Hao was stunned. He felt sorry for her.

If he could make it in time, he might be able to use this opportunity to sneak in.

As a new disciple, the risk of being exposed was relatively small.

“Hey! Little brother, you don’t know how high the requirements for the gate of fortune are. The competition is intense. If you don’t have extraordinary talent, you will definitely not be able to enter. ”

“Right! “Don’t look at how the gate of fortune is not doing well now. Back then, it was rather glorious. It’s said that it has a very long history. Every year, countless disciples come because of its reputation. Moreover, the gate of fortune only recruits disciples once every five years. The competition is even more intense!”

“Just a while ago, hundreds of thousands of people came. Many clans sent their clansmen here to join the creation gate! That situation is simply a sea of people and very lively!”

“Hundreds of thousands of people?”

Tang Hao was surprised.

Unlike the starry sky of the lower realm, Pangu continent was ruled by clans, and the sects could only be considered second-rate sects. It was not a small number to have hundreds of thousands of people participating.

“Exactly! There were too many people who came and blocked the entire mountain range. Do you know how many people we accepted in the end? I’m telling you, don’t be scared, there are only five hundred!”

“Only 500 out of hundreds of thousands of people were selected. Each of them is a one-in-a-thousand genius!”

Everyone argued.

“Speaking of which, the gate of fortune has had a lot of geniuses in recent years. There were even more geniuses in the previous years than this year!”

“Yeah! It’s really strange. This gate of fortune isn’t a top sect, so why do they have so many geniuses?”

Then, they started to discuss among themselves.

Tang Hao did not mind.

These people’s cultivation was low and their vision was also low. In their eyes, how powerful could a genius be?

In his eyes, even the Holy Sons of the clans could not be considered geniuses. Only Liu heihu, Yuchi Xuan, ye jiuquan, and other top figures of the younger generation could be considered geniuses.

“It’s indeed a pity to miss this opportunity. We can only wait and see if there are any other chances to sneak in!”

Tang Hao continued his investigation in the market.

After a few days, he had a better understanding of the gate of fortune.

He had also become familiar with the people in the market.

“Brother, do you really want to enter the gate of fortune? If you really want to enter, I have a way!”

The owner of the herb store in the market told Tang Hao in a secretive manner.

“Oh? Shopkeeper Wang, do you have any ideas?”

Tang Hao’s heart skipped a beat.

Wasn’t the reason he was lingering here looking for an opportunity to enter the gate of fortune?

“It’s not a good idea. Most people might not be willing to do so. However, I can see that you really want to enter the gate of fortune. I’ll tell you. Whether you’re willing or not, it’s up to you.” Shopkeeper Wang said.

“You also know that I’ve been doing business here for decades, almost sixty years! I’m also very familiar with the elders in the mountain. They often come to me to buy medicine, and I’m also the first to know any news in the mountain. ”

“These days, an elder who often comes to buy medicine told me that the mountain is short of a few odd-job workers!”

“Handyman?”

Tang Hao was stunned. “Didn’t you say that the gate of fortune just recruited disciples a while ago?” he asked, confused. “I’m sure that includes handyman disciples!”

“That’s right. We did take in a group of odd-job workers, but I heard that we’re still short of a few. We’re short of people, especially disciples who know medicine. The elder asked me to help him find a few.”

“By the way, brother, do you know anything about medicine?”

Shopkeeper Wang said.

“Understood!” Tang Hao quickly nodded.

This medicinal pill path was what he was best at.

“Alright then! If you’re willing, I’ll go talk to them and help introduce them to you.” Manager Wang said.

“Of course I’m willing! I heard that the gate of fortune has very high requirements for its disciples. I’ll be satisfied if I can become a service disciple!” Tang Hao said with a smile. He took out another storage bag and handed it over.

“Aiya! Why are you so polite ... I’m only helping you because you’re getting along well with me and we have similar interests ...”

After half-rejecting and half-accepting, shopkeeper Wang still accepted it.

“How about this! Come over tomorrow. I’ll find a few others and introduce them to the elder.” Shopkeeper Wang said, “by the way, that elder’s Daoist name is Fu Yunzi, and he’s a fifth tribulation Saint. When the time comes, he might test you. You must perform well.”

“I know! Many thanks!”

“Thank you.” Tang Hao bowed and thanked him.

“Five tribulations ...”

He muttered to himself, “with my disguise, those of the same rank shouldn’t be able to see through me. I can successfully hide from them!”

He was relieved and stayed in the market for another day. At noon the next day, he came as promised and met Daoist priest floating clouds in the medicine shop.

There were three other young people with him. They were all of different ages. One was in his thirties, and the other was in his fifties, just like Tang Hao.

As for their cultivation, they were all Dao pursuing and Dao severing.

In the younger generation, this realm was only average.

“As for cultivation, it’s not too bad!”

Fu Yunzi glanced at the four of them and frowned slightly, “however, we’re not recruiting official disciples now, so I won’t be calculative about your cultivation. I’ll just see how good you are in the field of medicine!”

“If you can satisfy me, you can enter the gate of fortune as servants. Although service disciples can’t compare to official disciples, they can still learn some of our sect’s techniques and divine arts. In the future, when their cultivation is successful, they might have a chance to become official disciples.”

“Alright, I won’t say much. There are a hundred plants here. As long as you can accurately say 70%, you’ll pass.”

As he spoke, Fu Yunzi flicked his sleeve, and rays of light flew out. They were all plants of various colors.