

The Mightiest Little Peasant Chapter 1913

At creation peak.

Tang Hao was sitting cross-legged under an ancient tree.

Suddenly, his eyelids trembled and he opened them.

There was a divine light in those eyes, and one could vaguely see the strange phenomenon of the reincarnation of all living beings. After a moment, the divine light faded and everything returned to normal.

Then, he frowned slightly.

He had been sitting there for more than a month. In terms of reincarnation doctrine, his comprehension was much deeper. However, he was still far from the realm of great success.

“Great Dao completion! It’s difficult!”

Tang Hao sighed.

It was extremely difficult to master a great Dao and grasp its Dao laws. Ordinary cultivators would need a hundred years, but those geniuses and freaks would need at least a dozen years or even a few decades.

“It’s difficult to achieve the great Dao. Once young master Taixu comes out of seclusion, I won’t be able to guarantee success!”

Tang Hao looked worried.

He was the young master of the great void heaven. His skills and treasures were not inferior to his. Furthermore, his cultivation level was higher than his. In addition to that, he had a powerful avatar. He did not have much confidence in defeating his opponent.

And now, it was not far from young master Taixu’s exit.

The outside world had also started discussing this.

Everyone knew that young master Taixu’s clone had once suffered a loss at his hands. Once his real body came out of seclusion, he would definitely take revenge and use him to establish his might.

During this period of time, everyone’s attention was focused on the creation sect and the great void heaven.

He, too, felt a trace of pressure.

“It seems like ... I have to make a trip back to the lower realm!”

“It’s over,” Tang Hao mumbled as he stood up after a long while.

Before fighting young master Taixu, he had to return to the lower realm and retrieve his most powerful technique.

“I’ve been in Pangu city for a while now, and it’s time to go back and take a look! I wonder what’s the situation in the lower realm. How are Kun Lun, Daoist priest, and the others?”

When he thought of Kun Lun, the Taoist priest, and the others, Tang Hao’s heart raced.

He had walked for so long, it was time to go back and take a look.

He immediately went to see Zao Huazi and explained his intention. Then, he set off for the ancient wilderness.

Seven or eight days later, a ray of light flew over the ancient wilderness and landed on a mountain range.

“Devil Star Mountain!”

Tang Hao muttered to himself as he looked down.

This mountain range was the first place he had settled down after coming to Pangu. He had stayed here for several months and had also obtained some opportunities, which had allowed him to advance to the third tribulation.

Tang Hao grinned when he thought about that.

“Let’s go and take a look!”

He somewhat missed the days when he was here, so he landed and walked forward.

He had once walked through the entire mountain range, and he could still vaguely remember it.

“That’s the thousand spirit sect. That’s ... Where I used to live! As for that place, it’s the devil Star City. ”

Tang Hao looked into the distance and saw the thousand spirit sect’s Gate.

With his hands behind his back, he walked away leisurely.

He first went to the devil Star City. It was still as lively as before. It was packed with people everywhere. They were all here to pick herbs and hunt beasts. The cultivators’ cultivation levels were also uneven. Most of them were at the level of Dao severing and immortal transformation.

Occasionally, they would see Saints, but most of them were one-tribulation.

Most of their discussions were about what had happened here, such as who had discovered some rare spirit medicine, who had encountered some powerful fierce beast, and who had been so unlucky. There was also gossip about the thousand spirit sect and the other sects.

After a while, Tang Hao even heard his own name being called.

“That demon surnamed Tang is really F * cking powerful. Didn’t you say that he even dared to provoke the young master of the great void heaven? just a while ago, he did something sensational again!”

“What is it? What earth-shattering thing has this guy done this time?”

At the mention of that Tang guy, the audience’s interest was piqued.

Even in this remote place of the ancient wilderness, the name of the devil surnamed Tang was well-known.

He was born in the lower realm and rose up in the spiritual wilderness. He dominated Pangu and was almost invincible among the younger generation. Once, all the races in the world joined forces to kill him, but they could not do anything to him. It was this time that made him famous in Pangu and became a legend.

When the news had reached here, it had caused a great commotion. The xiuzhe were all shocked. Another exceptional monster had appeared in this world.
