

The Mightiest Little Peasant Chapter 1943

Whoosh! Whoosh! Whoosh!

A dozen beams of light shot out from the ripples in the void toward the center of the lightning tribulation.

“It’s a puppet!”

The four sides gasped.

These were all puppets that had been refined into the appearance of battle generals. They were all dressed in ferocious black armor and were shrouded in a shocking baleful aura.

And the aura they emitted was that they were all at the 6th tribulation.

A total of 15 6th tribulation puppets charged into the area covered by the Tribulation lightning at an extremely fast speed. In a flash, the sea of lightning in the sky reacted and immediately shot down bolts of lightning at these puppets.

However, at this moment, the puppets’ armors suddenly lit up, and ripples appeared in the void around them. Then, their figures entered the armor and disappeared.

“It’s the void armor!”

“Hiss! What a big move!”

Seeing this, everyone cried out in shock, and many people gasped.

Void-type treasures had always been extremely rare. This kind of void armor was a treasure that every xiuzhe dreamed of, but because it was too rare, very few xiuzhe had one.

Now, he had taken out 15 void armors and 15 6th tribulation puppets. This was truly a shocking move.

In the next instant, the puppets emerged from the void and appeared at the center of the Tribulation lightning.

They were scattered all around Tang Hao, holding battle Spears in their hands as they charged toward him.

“I don’t know which fellow Daoist it is, but you’re really willing to part with it!”

Tang Hao’s eyes swept across the room and he was shocked.

He didn’t panic. With a flash of golden light above his head, the origin core avatar rushed out again with two Emperor weapons in his hands and blocked several of them.

“Explode! Explode! Explode!”

At the same time, he flicked his hand, and tribulation weapons flew out and exploded one after another.

The grades of these tribulation weapons were not high. Even if they exploded, they would not be able to deal with these 6th tribulation puppets. However, they could hold them back for a moment. In just a few short breaths, the Tribulation lightning in the sky had arrived.

The puppets reacted extremely quickly. They activated the void armor again and disappeared into the void.

However, a few of them were a step too slow and were hit by the divine retribution lightning, causing half of their bodies to explode.

Following that, the origin core avatar pounced forward and completely blew him up.

Out of the 15 puppets, three had exploded, leaving only 12.

After the 12 puppets entered the void, they no longer appeared, as if they were waiting for an opportunity.

At this moment, the sea of lightning in the sky surged and another bolt of lightning tribulation was born.

BOOM!

With an earth-shaking sound, the forty-fifth tribulation lightning bolt struck down.

“They haven’t shown themselves yet. These puppets must be waiting for me to take on the Tribulation Lightning head-on before launching a sneak attack. There are too many of them. Even with the help of my origin core avatar, I can’t stop all of them.”

“Moreover, I have to go all out against the lightning tribulation. I don’t have the energy to deal with them ...”

Tang Hao’s eyes swept across the room, and his heart sank.

A strong sense of danger emerged in his heart.

“This kid ... Is in danger!”

Everyone exclaimed in their hearts.

The current situation was practically a situation of certain death. What other methods did this brat have to resolve this crisis?

“It’s done!”

From the ripples in the void where the Yao clan was hiding, a few cheers could be heard.

These puppets were the methods that the Yao clan had prepared.

“No, the Tribulation lightning is coming. I can’t just sit here and wait for death!”

Tang Hao’s mind raced, and he quickly made a decision.

He raised his head to look at the sky and began to activate the immortal mansion to meet the lightning.

BOOM!

The Tribulation lightning fell and struck the immortal abode.

The immortal mansion shook, its aura dimmed a little, and many bricks and tiles exploded.

Tang Hao gritted his teeth and activated his immortal abode to resist the lightning.

At this moment, ripples appeared in the void around them. Killing intent seeped out from them and locked onto Tang Hao. They were the twelve sixth tribulation puppets.

Moreover, the place where they appeared was very close to Tang Hao.

“Now!”

Tang Hao’s divine sense flickered, and the immortal abode above his head suddenly shrank and returned to his body.

This action stunned everyone, and they could not react in time.

The 12 puppets were also unable to react in time. At this moment, they had already emerged from the void. They held battle Spears in their hands and rushed towards their target.

However, without the immortal abode’s obstruction, the enormous lightning bolt came crashing down, shrouding Tang Hao and the twelve puppets.

Clang clang clang!

Tang Hao summoned the Taiyi mind-clearing armor and put it on the moment the lightning tribulation struck.

Even with the protection of the Supreme Being armor, Tang Hao was still struggling. He could only hold on for a moment before he was blasted straight down to the ground. He coughed up blood, and his face turned as pale as a sheet.

He was in such a sorry state, but those puppets were not any better. They were all struck down by the Tribulation lightning, and before they could land, another bolt of lightning struck down from the sky, hitting these puppets.

The twelve puppets all exploded and turned into ashes under the terrifying power of the lightning tribulation.

“This ...”

When the Tribulation lightning dissipated, everyone was still in a daze.

Everything that had happened just now had happened too quickly, so quickly that he was caught off guard.

In just a short moment, the situation had reversed.

The kid survived the forty-fifth lightning bolt, but the twelve puppets were all dead.

“How could it be like this!”

After a short moment of shock, the Yao clan members roared with vexed expressions.

“This kid ... He’s too bold! He dared to resist the Tribulation lightning. If he had been a second slower in summoning the Supreme beast, he would have died along with those puppets.”

“This kid is ruthless! He was also decisive! As expected of the monster who defeated the great void sect’s successor!”

The Saints who were watching all exclaimed.

They all thought that everything was over, but they didn’t expect that this kid would turn the situation around with his extraordinary courage and insight.

“I failed again!”

“I didn’t expect this kid to survive two attacks. However, it’s still not optimistic! There are still a few dozen lightning bolts left, and there are many people from the four sides.”

After a moment of clamoring, the crowd continued to watch.

Tang Hao stood up, took out a few bottles of pills, and gulped them down. His aura quickly returned to normal.

He raised his head and looked around. Then, he shouted, “How many of you are there? if you want to fight, stop hiding. You’re all famous people. What’s the point of hiding? come out and fight me together. Do you think I’m afraid of you?”

“I’d like to see what you can do to me today!”

His voice was clear and powerful, reverberating in the air.

The surroundings were deathly silent.

No one made a sound.

“This kid is so arrogant!”

“Hmph!”

However, angry snorts could be heard from all over the void.

“Since this brat is so eager to die, we’ll fulfill his wish!”

Many people couldn’t hold back.

Soon, beams of light shot out from the void. They were the means prepared by various clans and forces.

Some of the flags waved and black smoke surged out, turning into thousands of ghosts that wailed and howled. There were also puppets with different appearances and auras. There were even many cultivators who stepped out of the ripples.

These were all avatars refined at the 7th tribulation or 6th tribulation.

All of these techniques were at the 6th tribulation. They covered the sky densely and were uncountable.
