

The Mightiest Little Peasant Chapter 1953

Pangu continent was in an uproar again.

It had only been a month since the battle on the ancient deity plateau.

It was still that monster surnamed Tang who had successfully passed the Tribulation under the obstruction of the people of various races. He had also displayed his divine might and killed many 6th tribulation lightning cultivators in one fell swoop.

This news was even more sensational than the fact that he had defeated young master Taixu in the battle of the ancient deity plateau!

Before this, people had guessed that once he passed the Tribulation, he would attract many old monsters, which would become the biggest danger for the kid.

But no one had expected things to turn out like this.

“It’s said that he used some kind of eye technique. As long as he sees it, his soul will be extracted immediately. The sixth tribulation Saint is no exception. It’s very strange!”

“So powerful? What kind of eye technique is this?”

Everyone was discussing the shocking eye technique that the demon surnamed Tang had displayed in that battle.

With just a single glance, he was able to defeat a three path expert. Even the clone of the Yao clan’s master was not spared. The formidability of this eye technique had truly caused the world to sigh in admiration.

“I heard that it’s related to the sky demon. It’s the news that the Yao clan spread!”

“In that battle, that kid once entered the heavenly Devil World as a primordial spirit. He must have used those heavenly Devils to cultivate some kind of eye technique!”

“On that day, all parties were caught off guard, so they fled in defeat. In fact, now that we’ve figured out that this is related to the heavenly demons, we can still think of a way to deal with it. It’s not hard to deal with that kid!”

“All the races are thinking of a way. I reckon that it won’t be long before they have to find that kid to settle the score!”

All the wastelands of Pangu were like a boiling pot.

At the same time, somewhere in Pangu, a figure was wandering in an ancient mountain range.

It was a young man dressed in white. On his handsome face, there was a trace of inexperience and naivety. At first glance, this was a young man who had just come out of the hut and had not experienced the world.

He was also carrying a medicine basket on his back, wandering around the mountain.

“Medicine! Where is the medicine? Where are they?”

“Master asked me to find the medicine. If I can’t find it, I’ll be in trouble when I go back!”

As he walked, he muttered to himself, revealing a very distressed expression.

At this time, there was a pair of eyes observing him in the dark.

“What a delicious smell!”

“This human brat must taste good!”

In the dark, there was the sound of swallowing saliva.

It was a beast.

It sniffed the fresh smell in the air and couldn’t hold back.

To it, nothing in this world was more delicious than the flesh and blood of human cultivators, especially young ones.

It almost howled and scurried out.

However, at this moment, it seemed to have suddenly thought of something. Its entire body quivered, and it revealed a vigilant expression.

“No! I can’t be impulsive! I’ve heard that a terrifying demon has recently come to the mountains and specifically hunted down Saint realm beasts like me. Many of our fellow cultivators have already fallen to his hands. ”

“I heard that this guy is very brutal. With a sword in his hand, he cuts everywhere without even blinking his eyes. He also likes to cut corpses into eight pieces and eat them in all kinds of ways, such as roasting, steaming, and stir-frying. This man’s techniques are so brutal that it makes one’s hair stand on end!”

When it thought of this terrifying demon, it couldn’t help but shiver and reveal a trace of fear.

It was a 6th tribulation existence!

In the entire Pangu continent, it was a rather powerful existence.

But now, facing this terrifying demon, it was still a little afraid.

You can't blame it, you can only blame that fellow for being too terrifying and too brutal.

Ever since that guy had come, the ferocious beasts of the Saint realm in the mountain had disappeared one by one. From the first calamity to the sixth calamity, none of them had survived.

For a moment, all the beasts in the mountain were in danger.

Occasionally, there would be ferocious beasts that would witness this terrifying demon. They would all be scared out of their wits. Through their mouths, all sorts of rumors would spread, causing this fellow's image to become even more terrifying.

"This guy doesn't look like a cruel and terrifying demon!"

It stared at the human youth and sized him up again and again as it thought to itself.

No matter how he looked at it, this human before him was a young and inexperienced kid. He was still childish and innocent.

"There shouldn't be anything to worry about!"

It was getting a little restless.

However, there was still a hint of uneasiness in its heart.

There were many rumors that said that this fellow was extremely cunning and was extremely good at disguising himself. The fellow in front of him was very likely to be him in disguise.

"This ... This is great!"

"A stalk of Red Cloud grass. If I bring it back, master will definitely be very happy!"

At this time, the human youth found a spirit herb and smiled happily.

This smile looked especially innocent and innocent, and even a little shy.

The beast was stunned.

"Al! It seemed that I was overthinking. Such an innocent and shy smile, how could it be fake! That demon must have lived for at least a few thousand years. How could he still have such an innocent smile?"

"This kind of smile can't be faked!"

The beast was very certain.

It felt that it had been overthinking.

How could such an innocent young man be a cruel old monster?

Its doubts were all gone, and it was ecstatic.

It howled and pounced out, roaring, ""Human brat, stop there obediently and let this master Tiger eat you!"

In its mind, the moment it appeared, this human brat would definitely be so scared that he would pee himself. Under its tyrannical might, he would shiver and kneel down to beg for mercy.

However, to its surprise, the kid did not.

He stood there and looked up at it. He didn't know if it was an illusion, but there was a smile at the corner of his mouth.

"Wait! Something's not right!"

Subconsciously, it realized that the situation was not right.

The smile on the young man's face grew wider.

"Little tiger, you're finally out!"

He opened his mouth and smiled brightly. His smile was still so innocent, pure, and shy.

However, in the eyes of the fierce tiger, it was exceptionally terrifying.

"F * ck! He had been tricked! This kid is that demon!"

The fierce tiger finally reacted and almost vomited blood.

This bastard was too cunning! Too detestable!

It cursed in its heart.

Then, he jumped up and was about to escape.

"Little tiger, stop!"

The young man roared and chased after the Tiger with a cold and shiny sword in his hand. With a few swishing sounds, he chopped the 6th tribulation Tiger into pieces.

"You tricked another one, not bad!"

Tang Hao landed, put away his sword, and chuckled.

Most of these 6th tribulation beasts were extremely cunning and good at hiding. They escaped quickly too. After he came here, he had only killed a few and it was difficult to catch them.

He had no choice but to use this method to lure them out one by one.

“Let’s go! We’ll make braised tiger meat tonight!”

Tang Hao picked up the body and left.

He ate a portion of the corpse and used the rest to refine pills. With one pill, he could increase his cultivation by a small amount.

In the past few days, he had killed many fierce beasts, and his cultivation had also increased by a lot. It was a delightful thing to see him enter the realm.
