

The Mightiest Little Peasant Chapter 1954

“Medicine! Where is the medicine? Where is he?”

“Master sent me here to find the medicine ...”

On the mountain, the young herb-gatherer began to wander around again.

His innocent and naive look and the innocent smile on his face had charmed many beasts.

“How could this be that demon!”

They were very certain.

However, when they jumped out, this innocent and naive human youth’s expression changed immediately, and he became a cruel and terrifying demon.

“This is too hateful!”

Before they died, they were still cursing in their hearts.

“My luck is not bad. I’ve killed another one. Tonight, I’ll have braised meatballs!”

“The snake meat is delicious, it’s best to make soup!”

Tang Hao could bring back a few every day. When he returned to the valley where he lived, he would slaughter them and pick the best part of their meat to keep. The rest would be thrown into the pill cauldron to be refined into pills.

“Gulp!”

After he had eaten his fill, Tang Hao sat down cross-legged, took out a large pill, and popped it into his mouth.

This was a great supplement pill refined from a sixth tribulation ferocious beast. Its medicinal effects were very strong. Once it entered his stomach, the surging medicinal power exploded and turned into rolling waves, rolling toward his limbs and bones. A part of it was absorbed by his body, while the rest surged toward his dantian.

After a while, he opened his eyes and looked inside. He was satisfied.

The effect of a 6th tribulation great supplement pill was still pretty good.

But soon, he frowned again and revealed a trace of distress.

A 6th tribulation beast is too difficult to catch!

These days, the number of 6th tribulation cultivators he caught was getting lesser and lesser. Many of them were 5th tribulation and 4th tribulation. To him, these were not very effective.

“If this continues, when will I reach perfection?”

Tang Hao sighed.

He had eaten so many nourishing pills these few days, and his cultivation had increased by quite a bit. However, it was still far away from reaching perfection.

In the sixth tribulation realm, the amount of immortal Qi required was massive. Ordinary cultivators would need hundreds or even thousands of years to advance to the completion.

Just by catching fierce beasts and refining a great supplement pill, it would take many years of effort.

After all, it was very difficult to catch a sixth tribulation fierce beast, and the bloodline of the primeval era was even more difficult to find. It was not easy to prepare the materials for the six tribulation great supplement pill, and it would take a lot of celestial water to cultivate it.

He had to cultivate the creation fruit and the materials for the great supplement pill. The celestial water was already running out.

“Looks like I’ll have to go outside and get some spirit herbs!”

Tang Hao pondered.

The tonic pill was not the only pill that could improve one’s cultivation. In the sixth tribulation realm, there were also many pills that could increase one’s cultivation. He more or less had some of the materials for these pills. As long as he collected a few more, he would be able to gather them.

“There are a total of 108 ingredients for the dark Dao pill. I have more than 90 of them on me. I just need to collect a dozen more. I should be able to make dozens of portions.”

“Infinite origin returning pill! This is an upgraded version of the normal GUI Yuan pill. The ingredients are the same as the normal GUI Yuan pill, but the ages are different. They’re all thousands of years old, or even tens of thousands of years old. It’s harder to collect than the dark Dao pill, and the effects are better.”

“And this four true spirit pill is even more precious. It doesn’t require many ingredients, only 36 types, but each of them is not simple. The main ingredient is four true spirits, and they have to be at the 6th tribulation. The other ingredients are also rare.”

Tang Hao studied them one by one, then compared them to his own collection. He picked a few that were easier to make and made a list.

“If I want to collect materials, I’ll have to go to the markets and Chambers of Commerce.”

After making up his mind, Tang Hao set off. He first went to the nearest city and shopped at the shops. As long as he saw something on the list, he would buy it.

However, these materials were all at the sixth tribulation level and were very rare in the market. After visiting many cities, Tang Hao only found one or two.

He had been to many large Chambers of Commerce and inquired in detail, but he had not found anything.

“Senior, the materials you want are all extremely rare. Our Chamber of Commerce doesn’t have them. Even if we do, they are very rare and will only appear in auctions.”

“The materials you want are too precious. We don’t have them here. I don’t mean to say this, but the things you want can’t be found anywhere else. If you really want them, you’ll have to go up there to buy them. They might have them.”

“What’s ... That place above?”

“Emperor Pan City! It’s normal that you don’t know about it, because this city doesn’t belong to our Pangu continent, but to the thirty-three heavens. It’s located near the entrance of the thirty-three heavens, and not many people know about it.”

“That place is filled with people from the 33 heavens. The 33 heavens is a good place. It’s filled with immortal Qi, and there are many spiritual and immortal herbs. There are also all kinds of top-grade beast materials.”

“Many people go to Emperor Pan City when they want top-grade materials. Among the 33 heavens, there’s also the spirit treasure heaven. This spirit treasure heaven can be said to be the richest orthodoxy in the thirty-three heavens. They have a shop in Emperor Pan City and I heard that they have everything and can get anything.”

Tang Hao visited a few Chambers of Commerce, and one of the managers mentioned panhuang city to him.

“There’s such a place!”

Tang Hao was surprised. He had never heard of this city.

He had heard of the spirit treasure heaven before. It was indeed very rich. It was said that the ground in the spirit treasure heaven was filled with treasures. The number of treasures was unimaginable.

“Ordinary people can’t enter the city, but you’re a six-tribulation expert, so you’re still qualified to go in. You just have to pay some fees. It shouldn’t be a problem for you.”

The manager said.

“Good! Then I’d like to go take a look and meet the people of thirty-three heavens.” Tang Hao’s interest was piqued.

He didn't know much about thirty-three heavens, so he decided to take a look.

"Senior, if you want to go to Emperor Pan City, you need one more thing, the Emperor PAN token. You can only find the city with this token. This token is very rare and can't be found in ordinary places. However, our Chamber of Commerce happens to have two. If you want, we can sell you one."

The manager said.

"Alright!"

Tang Hao nodded. "I'll pay with immortal crystals!"

"Alright! Senior, please wait a moment!"

The steward left for a while, and when he returned, he brought back a pitch-black token. A cloud was carved on one side, and a majestic city could be vaguely seen in the fog. It was a city in the clouds.

On the other side, there was a large word "pan" carved on it.

"A board? Is it related to Pangu?" Tang Hao mumbled as he stared at the badge.

"There really is one," the manager said with a smile. "It's said that this city was built to commemorate the great God Pangu. All 33 heavens contributed to it."

"Good! Then I'll accept it!"

Tang Hao accepted the token, paid the fee, and left the Chamber of Commerce. He took out the token and followed the signal on it, flying up into the sky.
