

The Mightiest Little Peasant Chapter 1997

Tang Hao plucked a few five-colored rice grains and studied them.

Each grain of rice contained an astonishing amount of immortal Qi.

Even though it had accumulated over time due to its age, Tang Hao was certain that the immortal Qi in it would not be low even if it had only been planted for a few years.

“This is much better than immortal crystals!” Young master Li said, “eating this apothecary rice is easier to absorb, and the efficiency is higher than absorbing immortal crystals. This is also a unique treasure of the heavenly Buddha courtyard. In ancient times, many forces were jealous of it!”

“It’s indeed a good treasure!”

Tang Hao praised.

For a force, such a treasure was the most precious. With this treasure, they could quickly enhance the strength of their disciples, create more experts, and the entire sect could prosper.

“When I go back, I’ll do some research and get some seeds to plant these rice seeds.”

Tang Hao calculated.

He couldn’t let go of such a good treasure. It just so happened that there were many herbal fields in the mountain range of fortune, so he could free up a few to plant these rice seeds.

Right now, the gate of fortune was the center of the pill world. They had no lack of pills and immortal crystals from the Tian Luo mountain range. In addition to the apothecary rice, the cultivation speed of the disciples of the gate would be faster.

This way, he could raise more disciples. With more disciples, there would be more monstrous geniuses. This was also one of the indispensable conditions for reviving the creation sect and realizing his great ambition.

After harvesting all the rice and the spirit herbs in the field, the two of them continued forward.

Along the way, the two of them had a lot of gains.

All kinds of Buddhist treasures, armors, mystical materials, and elixirs were found.

Moreover, these things were full of Buddhist characteristics. For example, those pills, whether it was the formula or the refining method, were different from ordinary pills. They were unique.

Soon, a tall Pagoda appeared in front of the two.

The pagoda was a thousand feet tall and made of golden colored glass. It shone with a bright Buddhist light. At a closer look, one could see that there were countless Arhats, bodhisattvas, and Buddhas carved on the outside of the pagoda. The images were vivid and lifelike.

“Waa!”

Tang Hao looked up and exclaimed in surprise.

“This should be the heavenly Buddha courtyard’s treasure vault!” Young master Li said. Then, she showed a look of pity, “it’s a pity that this treasure Pavilion has been broken through. Brother Tang, look, there’s a gap over there. It was broken by the Allied forces of the 33 heavens. The treasures inside must have been taken away.”

Tang Hao looked in the direction she was pointing at and was disappointed.

At a corner of the pagoda, there was a huge gap that had been smashed from the outside.

“That’s true! Every Force’s treasure Pavilion is the place with the most treasures. Once they attack, they will definitely come here first to snatch the treasures.” Tang Hao shook his head in regret.

How great would it be if this Pagoda hadn’t been broken through? how many treasures would there be in the treasure vault of an ancient sacred ground of Buddhism that could compete with the 33 heavens?

Tang Hao could not imagine it!

“Back then, more than a dozen orthodoxies participated in this battle. These treasures should have been divided up. My Vermillion Bird heaven also received quite a lot. Until now, there are still quite a few Buddha treasures in my Vermillion Bird heaven’s treasure vault that were obtained from here.”

Li gongzi said.

Then, she turned to Tang Hao and smiled. “Brother Tang, don’t be disappointed. Not long after the Allied forces broke through this place, the remnants of the heavenly Buddha Academy activated the last formation in an attempt to perish together. The Allied forces also retreated in a hurry. They didn’t have enough time to search this place clean.”

“Let’s go in and take a look. We might have missed something!”

With that, li gongzi’s figure moved and swept towards the gap.

Tang Hao followed closely behind.

He entered the building through the gap and landed in the middle of the tower. Tang Hao looked around and saw that it was a spacious hall. There were rows of shelves inside, and he could not see the end of them.

These shelves should be used to place treasures.

However, at this moment, the treasures on these shelves were all gone. There was nothing left. Some of the shelves had even been moved away with the treasures.

The two of them walked around but found nothing.

“They’ve moved too thoroughly!” Tang Hao mumbled angrily.

Even if he was left with one or two, that would be good!

“It seems like there’s nothing on this floor. Let’s go to the next floor!” Li gongzi said.

The pagoda was divided into nine levels. Each level was extremely high, and the total height was about 300 meters.

The two of them entered through the gap and entered the ninth floor, which was the highest floor.

Generally speaking, the highest place was the place where the best treasures were stored. Therefore, when the coalition Army first entered, they directly rushed to the ninth floor and swept away all the treasures.

The two of them came to the middle, where there was a large hole that led to the next level.

On the eighth floor, the space was even wider, and it was clear that there were more treasures stored there.

However, what surprised the two of them was that there were still countless treasures here. Back then, the Alliance Army of the 33 heavens had only taken less than half of them.

“That’s great!”

Li gongzi said happily.

“Hahaha!” Tang Hao also laughed heartily. He was overjoyed.

“Look, these are all battle armors. The Buddha’s light armors in the heavenly Buddha Academy are all from the seventh tribulation. They’re the same as the one you found before, but they’re more complete and have never been used.”

Li gongzi swept over and with a wave of his sleeve, the treasure boxes on the shelf opened one by one, and a dazzling Buddha light bloomed from inside.

The complete Buddha’s light armors were placed neatly in these treasure chests.

“One, two ...”

The two of them did a count. There were more than a thousand of these seven tribulations Buddhist light armors.

“Hiss! Hiss! Hiss!”

Tang Hao gasped after he finished counting. He was shocked by the huge amount of treasure.

Battle armors were quite special among all kinds of tribulation weapons. Compared to offensive ones, battle armors had always been rare. When he had gone through the Tribulation of Dao, he had killed many sixth tribulation cultivators and robbed many treasures in panhuang city.

However, among the treasures he had on him, there were not many armors and treasured clothing. There were even fewer treasures of the seventh tribulation level.

In front of him, there were more than 1000 pieces of 7th tribulation armor!

Moreover, these were all famous ancient armors with unparalleled power. Although they were only at the seventh tribulation, they could be compared to ordinary eighth tribulation armors!

“Heavens!”

Li gongzi’s beautiful eyes also widened, and she was a little speechless.

“As expected of an ancient sacred land!”

“It’s so cool!” Tang Hao exclaimed when he came back to his senses.

To be able to casually store more than 1000 pieces of seven tribulations armor in the Treasury, the heritage of this ancient Holy Land was truly terrifying!

Moreover, this was not the highest layer. There should be better armor on the ninth layer, the eighth tribulation Buddha’s light armor. Unfortunately, all of them had been moved away.

However, Tang Hao was already very satisfied that he could find so many seven tribulations armors this time.

He didn’t even know how to use more than 1000 pieces of seven tribulation armor. He had the Supreme armor, so he had no use for it. Such a treasure could only be used in the hands of a fifth tribulation at least.

The entire gate of fortune only had a few 5th tribulation cultivators!

Kun Lun?

That was even less. Even Saints were rare, let alone the five tribulations!

Tang Hao was at a loss as he looked at the huge amount of treasure.