

The Mightiest Little Peasant Chapter 200

In the Xu family mansion on the outskirts of Provincial City, Xu Jianghai was restless.

He was getting impatient. Earlier, his son left the house to attend a dinner party. He was beaten up badly and even arrested by the police.

That had angered him greatly.

He only had one son whom he spoiled, never laying a finger on him. However, someone beat him up at the dinner party.

He knew that the perpetrator was connected to the He family, but that had not stopped his thirst for revenge.

The He family would be helpless against him if he hid his tracks.

Right now, he was waiting for the good news from the hitman.

He looked at his watch. It was already one and a half hours since the hitman had accepted the mission, but there was no news yet.

"I can still wait. Maybe he hasn't found the perfect opportunity yet!" He mumbled as he looked at his phone.

At that moment, a black car appeared outside of the mansion and stopped at the entrance.

"Who is it?" Two bodyguards yelled as they stepped closer to the steel gate.

Soon, a car door opened and a man flopped out of it. He was dressed in black, and his head was swollen like a pig's head. It was a pathetic sight.

The two bodyguards were shocked. They ran away and activated the alarm.

The entire mansion was immediately alerted. Bodyguards came rushing to the entrance.

Xu Jianghai was a ruthless businessman. He had offended many parties on his road to riches. That was why he did not spare any expense on security.

“What’s going on?”

Xu Jianghai, in his room on the third floor, stood up and went next to the window to see.

The window faced directly toward the mansion’s entrance. He could see everything from there.

He saw the figure curled up next to the car and had an uneasy feeling.

Then, he saw another figure exit the car. He was a teenager in a trim business suit.

After he got out of the car, he loosened his tie and cracked his neck. Then, he lifted his head and looked toward the window. His gaze was as sharp as a sword.

Xu Jianghai was shocked when he saw that.

‘What’s going on?’

If he was not mistaken, the kid was the individual who had beaten up his son. Why would he be at the Xu family mansion though?

Xu Jianghai looked incredulous. 'Didn't I send a hitman to take care of him?'

Still shocked, he took a closer look at the figure who was curled up on the ground.

'Isn't that... the hitman?' He thought as he sucked in a mouthful of cold air. 'Oh my god! Who the hell is this kid?'

He could not believe everything that was happening.

The hitman whom he sent to kill the kid was defeated, and the kid had found his way to his house.

While he was still in a daze, Tang Hao stepped up to the entrance of the mansion and kicked at the steel gate.

The security guards at the gate started laughing.

'Does he think he can kick the gate open? The steel gate is strong enough to withstand a car crash! This kid must be insane! Does he want to look for trouble here? He'll be just wasting his time. He won't even get past the entrance.'

The foot landed on the door and caused a loud bang.

Everyone's jaw dropped when they saw the gate being kicked open.

No one said a peep when the steel gate fell. The bodyguards' eyes were about to pop out of their sockets.

"Oh my god! Is he even human?" Someone screamed in panic.

Some other people appeared to be scared and looking for a way to escape.

'Kicking open a steel gate with one kick? This kid is inhuman!'

"Hold it right there! This is private property. Trespassing is a crime!" Someone shouted.

"Get out of my way!" Tang Hao roared.

"Stop him!" A bodyguard shouted. Then, many people rushed forward with stun batons.

"Tsk!" Tang Hao found it very troublesome. Then, he flicked his wrists and rushed toward the bodyguards.

In less than three minutes, the bodyguards were all sprawled on the floor. They were curled in the fetal position and wailed in pain.

Tang Hao grunted, then went to the front door of the mansion and kicked it open.

Meanwhile, in the room on the third floor, Xu Jianghai's legs were trembling and his face was pale as a sheet.

'Oh my god! Just who is that kid? Is he even human?'

He became even more afraid when he heard the cries of pain coming from the floors below.

"No, I have to call the police!"

He pounced at his phone. Just when he was going to dial the number, the room door was kicked open with a bang.

Xu Jianghai cried out in surprise. He retreated toward the wall.

"You... Don't you dare come any closer!" He yelled in panic. "I'm the president of Long Jiang Group, and I'm well-connected in the police force. You'll be dead if you lay a finger on me."

Tang Hao narrowed his eyes and stepped closer.

"I would've considered the matter settled after your son was arrested, but you just had to send a hitman to kill me. I can't forgive you for that!"

"Don't... Don't kill me!" Xu Jianghai shrieked in panic.

"Kill you? There's no need to!" Tang Hao grunted coldly. "Killing you would have been too easy. I want you to suffer a fate worse than death, and at the same time bring the Long Jiang Group to ruin."

Then, he flicked his wrist and a small pill appeared in his palm.

He pinched Xu Jianghai's jaw and tossed the pill into his mouth.

“What... What did you feed me?” Xu Jianghai said fearfully.

“Don’t worry. The pill is like a truth serum. When the police arrive later, you can tell them all the evil things that you did.”

Then, Tang Hao gently patted his shoulder and channeled a gust of hidden qi into his body, just like what he did to Xu Xiangdong.

It would have been too easy if he had killed Xu Jianghai. Furthermore, if Xu Jianghai died, someone would take over his position and continue to enact revenge on Tang Hao. Things would be incredibly troublesome if that were the case.

It would be more thorough to ruin the Xu family and Long Jiang Group so that he need not worry about any future troubles from them.

“Cough cough!” Xu Jianghai bent over and stuck a finger into his throat, trying to dig the pill out.

Tang Hao ignored him. He took the phone and called the police.

He threw the phone away, then turned around and prepared to leave.

“Wait. I’ll have to collect some interest!” He stopped walking, then turned around and beat up Xu Jianghai. Then, he clapped his hands and left, satisfied.

Once he was out of the mansion, he took out his phone, gave a call to Vice Governor He, and told him everything about the Xu family, asking him to conduct a thorough investigation.

After receiving a confirmation from Vice Governor He, Tang Hao returned to Qin Gang's house.

"F*ck me! What's going on, Younger Brother-in-law? I've never seen you dress up so properly!" Qin Gang exclaimed in surprise when he saw Tang Hao in his new business suit.

"It's nothing. I went to attend a dinner party."

Tang Hao returned to his room and gave Sis Xiangyi a call.

He had stayed in Provincial City for two days, and he missed Sis Xiangyi very much.

After the call, he booked a train ticket to return to Westridge District the next day.
