

The Mightiest Little Peasant Chapter 2001

“This heavenly Buddha courtyard is one of the three Holy Lands of the ancient Buddhism. There must be a stupa that envelops the sariras left behind by their eminent monks after they pass away!”

The night race elder said decisively.

The eyes of the clan elders were burning with desire.

How many sariras were there in the stupa of the heavenly Buddha courtyard?

“I’m afraid it’ll be the same as the Sutra library, emptied out!”

Then, an elder frowned and said.

The rest of the clan elders also revealed a look of worry. The Sutra Pavilion and the medicine field were all empty. The treasure Pavilion was not found, so it was probably empty. The stupa might have been emptied by the people of thirty-three heavens.

After all, they would not let go of such an important place.

“That’s possible!” The night clan elder said, “however, there is still a glimmer of hope. Let’s look around first! What if there are more?”

“That’s true!”

The group of clan elders responded.

If they had not seen with their own eyes that such an important treasure land had been emptied, they would definitely not have given up.

They continued to search around. Each of them activated their spirit eyes and divine pupils. Divine light of all colors burst out from their pupils. Some were golden, some were five-colored, and they swept in all directions, searching the entire ruins.

“Look at that Pagoda. Don’t you think it’s a little strange?”

Soon, they found a tower in the center of the ruins.

This Pagoda was different from the Sutra-hiding Pagoda. The Sutra-hiding Pagoda was dazzling and resplendent. However, this Pagoda was very simple. It seemed to be made of yellow mud and there were no decorations on the outside.

At first glance, it looked very ordinary and unremarkable.

However, upon closer inspection, one could sense a vast and solemn Buddhist aura from the pagoda.

When their divine senses reached a thousand feet outside the tower, they could no longer enter.

This tower was protected by a powerful ancient restriction!

Not only did this mean that the tower was extraordinary, but it also meant that the tower was undamaged. No matter what was inside, it had not been taken by the people of the 33 heavens.

“It is indeed a little strange!”

A group of clan elders flew over and stood a thousand feet away, sizing up the pagoda in front of them.

“It doesn’t look like a treasure vault! The treasure Pavilion should be the same as the sutras Pavilion, but the one in front of us is more solemn, more like a place to worship relics!” The night race elder said.

The rest of the elders nodded.

Their eyes were burning with passion as they stared at the pagoda.

At this moment, they were all ecstatic!

The tower of relics was an important place, but it was completely undamaged. The many relics inside would belong to the hundred races.

“Hahaha! I really didn’t expect that the people from the 33 heavens didn’t take this relic. We just happened to benefit from it!”

“This trip was not in vain!”

They all burst out laughing.

After a long while, they calmed their minds and began to study how to break these restrictions and obtain the treasures inside.

“These restrictive spells are all powerful restrictive spells of the ancient Buddhist League. They are very powerful and not easy to break!”

After they saw it, they all frowned and shook their heads, their faces troubled.

“It’s actually not that bad. After all, more than 10000 years have passed. Moreover, this is a crack in the void. Without enough immortal Qi to support it, these restrictions have become much weaker. Moreover, I can see that some parts of these restrictions are still broken. They must have been destroyed by the people of the 33 heavens.”

The one who spoke was an elder of the Yao clan.

Among these people, he had the highest attainment in the Dao of restrictions.

After a pause, he continued, “how could the 33 heavens let go of such an important place? they must have come to attack it. It’s just that they didn’t succeed.”

“Then ... In fellow Daoist Yao’s opinion, how should we break these restrictions?” The night race elder said.

“BOOM! He directly exploded! We have more people, so if we gather all of us, we’ll be able to break this restrictive barrier. ” The Yao clan elder said.

“That’s right! He directly exploded! F * ck them for a few days and nights!”

The clan elders were all excited and eager to try.

“Good! Then let’s do this. Quickly gather them and bombard them together!” The night race elder said.

Soon, the cultivators of the hundred races who were scattered in all directions to search for the lost treasures all gathered together. They used their treasures to attack the restriction.

Boom! Boom! Boom!

The violent explosions continued.

Knowing that there were countless relics in the pagoda, they were all full of energy and did not hold back. They used all means and kept blasting. When they were tired and their celestial core power was exhausted, they would sit down and take a rest.

Soon, they stood up again and continued to attack.

Everyone maintained a very excited state, as if they had been injected with chicken blood.

After about a day of bombardment, the second group arrived. They had long heard that a complete stupa had been found here. They were all very excited and immediately joined the bombarding Army.

Soon, the third and fourth teams arrived on the ship.

All five teams gathered here and worked together to bombard the restriction.

Although they had a lot of people, they were all at the 6th tribulation. If it had been 10000 years ago, they wouldn’t have been able to move this restriction at all. However, it had been so long, after all, and this restriction had been destroyed by the 33 heavens, so it had become much weaker.

Under their relentless attacks, the restriction finally began to collapse bit by bit.

They were advancing foot by foot.

After five days and five nights of hard work, they finally advanced to three meters in front of the tower.

BOOM!

There was another loud noise.

The last barrier was finally broken.

“Success! We’ve succeeded!”

“Hahaha! That’s great!”

In an instant, the crowd burst into a deafening cheer.

“It’s finally broken! It wasn’t easy!”

“All the hard work is worth it!”

A group of clan elders stood in front of the tower and sighed.

“Then let’s go in! The relics we find should all be placed together and later divided. This way, it will be more fair.”

After discussing for a while, they walked forward and pushed open the tower’s door.

As soon as the door of the pagoda opened, bright Buddhist light burst out from inside, blinding everyone.

At the same time, an extremely Grand Buddhist aura rushed over, causing everyone’s hearts to tremble.

“So many altars!”

“Heavens! Those were all relics! So many!”

When they stepped into the tower and looked around, they were stunned.

This Pagoda was hundreds of feet tall and there was no partition in the middle. The walls of the pagoda were filled with Buddhist shrines. They were stacked from the bottom of the pagoda to the top. With a glance, it was impossible to count how many Buddhist shrines there were.

In every shrine, there was a ball of Buddhist light floating.

Upon a closer look, these Buddhist lights were all Jade-like objects of different colors. Some were golden, some were silver, and some were multi-colored, but they were all crystal clear and as warm as Jade.

The sizes and auras of these jade stones were all different. Some were the size of a fingernail, while others were the size of a goose egg.

And these jade stones were relics!

The treasure that they dreamed of!
