

The Mightiest Little Peasant Chapter 2010

“Brother Li is too kind!”

Tang Hao smiled and said humbly, “my alchemy skills are just so-so. It’s not worth mentioning!”

“Not worth mentioning? Everyone in Pangu’s pill world knows Grandmaster Hao. There are many senior pill Saints in the pill Dao of Vermillion Bird heaven, and they’ve all heard of Grandmaster Hao. ”

Li gongzi pursed his lips and smiled.

“Is that so?” Tang Hao was surprised.

“Of course! They’ve also heard about you and highly respected the idea of equality in learning you proposed. They’ve also been admiring the alchemy Scripture you compiled for a long time. ”

Li gongzi said.

At this point, she exclaimed, “That’s right, the pill Scripture! Do you have any? can you give me one? I have to bring it back and show it to them. Besides, I really want to see it too. I heard that it’s an unprecedented masterpiece!”

“There are still some!”

Tang Hao focused his mind and scanned the ring. He found an alchemy Scripture and took it out.

“What great works? brother Li, you are too kind. These are just some of the alchemy techniques I have accumulated over the decades of alchemy. There are also some unique insights. Brother Li, you can just take a look.”

Tang Hao smiled and handed the pill Scripture over.

“I’m not complimenting you. Everyone in the world of alchemy says so. So, I really want to see how high your alchemy skills are!” Li gongzi took the pill Scripture and said.

“Brother li,” Tang Hao said with a smile, “you must be quite accomplished in alchemy as well!”

“It’s alright! Ever since I was young, I’ve been known as the Vermillion Bird pill Dao’s once-in-a-thousand-years genius!” Li gongzi raised her eyebrows and said proudly.

“So that’s how it is! I’m sorry, I’m sorry!”

“Since you’re so accomplished, brother Li, I won’t hold back today!” Tang Hao smiled and cupped his hands.

After saying that, he pondered for a moment and said, “Then I’ll choose this dark Dao pill and refine one for you on the spot!”

“Right here?”

Li gongzi was stunned.

“That’s right! Otherwise?”

“How do I refine it here? “Young master Li was stunned.

Refining pills was not child’s play. He had to find a quiet and safe place to refine pills. Moreover, refining a furnace of six tribulations pills was not easy. It usually took several days to refine them. How could he refine them here?

“I’ll just do it like this! It’ll be quick!” Tang Hao smiled.

He sat down cross-legged on the cloud.

With a wave of his hand, balls of spiritual light flew out. After counting, there were exactly 108 balls.

Seeing this, young master Li was more and more shocked. Looking at brother Tang’s posture, he really wanted to open the furnace and refine pills here.

“Alright, let’s do it here! I’d like to see just how amazing brother Tang’s alchemy skills are!”

She thought to herself.

Then, she put her hands behind her back and stepped back to watch.

Her beautiful eyes sized up Tang Hao. There was a strong sense of curiosity, but also a trace of suspicion.

This brother Tang’s reputation in the world of alchemy was too resounding. His status was so high that even she found it somewhat unbelievable. They were clearly of the same generation and were all alchemy geniuses. What right did he have to have such a high status?

“In my opinion, a large part of his reputation is due to his principle of equality! In terms of alchemy, he’s probably just a little better than me!”

She secretly guessed.

Tang Hao’s eyes swept across the materials in front of him.

Then, he raised his hand. With a boom, a ball of blood-colored flame shot out from his palm.

In an instant, rolling heat waves spread out.

Seeing this scene, young master Li was stunned again.

“Where ... Where’s your cauldron?” She exclaimed in a low voice.

“Why are you still using a cauldron? No need!”

Tang Hao shook his head and chuckled.

The next moment, his spiritual will moved, and the 108 materials in front of him flew over at the same time. Then, with a boom, the flame in his palm burned brightly and swallowed these materials.

“This ...”

Li gongzi’s Red lips were slightly open, and his face was full of shock.

Using his palm as a cauldron, he refined pills with his bare hands!

For her, this wasn’t anything strange. She could also do it, but this was only limited to some lower-grade pills. With her current level, refining 1st tribulation and 2nd tribulation pills this way was not a problem at all.

However, the key was that this was a six tribulations pill!

All of these materials were rare spiritual herbs that were thousands of years old. How could he refine them without a cauldron?

Even the most senior pill Saints in the Vermilion Bird pill Dao would not dare to do this.

Where did brother Tang’s confidence come from?

Just as she was smacking her lips, the flame continued to incinerate the materials. Under her somewhat shocked gaze, in just a quarter of an hour, these rare thousand-year-old spirit herbs were refined.

Balls of colorful spiritual liquid floated in the air. Each ball of spiritual liquid contained extremely shocking spiritual essence.

“How could it be so fast?”

She was in disbelief.

The speed of refinement was too shocking!

“His control of fire and his understanding of mystical materials are too terrifying!”

She pondered for a moment and quickly understood why Brother Tang could refine these 6th tribulation materials so quickly even though they were all true flames.

In the process of refining materials, the quality of the flame was not the only thing that mattered. One’s control of the flame and one’s understanding of the mystical materials were also important.

Each kind of spiritual material had its own unique characteristics. They had different melting points. Some materials needed a very high temperature to be refined quickly and to prevent the spiritual essence from leaking out.

Some materials had a relatively low temperature.

108 different materials. Brother Tang had controlled the flame and used 108 different temperatures to refine these 108 materials.

What an amazing skill!

“I’m afraid brother Tang’s alchemy skills are unfathomable!”

She originally had some doubts in her heart, but this move had shocked her and completely dispelled the little doubt in her heart.

After the refinement, the next step was the fusion.

Tang Hao’s divine sense moved, and the one hundred and eight balls of spiritual liquid flew over at the same time. They gathered together without the slightest conflict and smoothly fused together.

He had already refined this dark core many times and was very familiar with the process.

“This move is a little plain. I didn’t use any fusion technique, but it’s steady and fast!” Li gongzi secretly commented.

When she saw the flame transform into a Dragon and a Tiger, circling around the pill embryo, she was slightly stunned.

This was the most common Dragon Tiger pill refining technique, and any Alchemist would know it.

“This is too ordinary!”

At first, she frowned, feeling a little strange.

It wasn’t that she looked down on the Dragon Tiger pill refining technique, but it was just too ordinary.

Any Alchemist of a higher grade would not use this alchemy technique.

After observing him carefully for a moment, she felt that something was strange. The Dragon Tiger pill refining technique he was using didn’t seem to be the same pill technique she remembered. It was a little different.

But she couldn’t tell what was different at the moment.
