

The Mightiest Little Peasant Chapter 2107

In the sky above the square, the cloud of dark and yellow Qi gathered again and turned into a Buddha.

The Buddha was vivid and lifelike, and its whole body was blooming with a shocking light of Buddha, illuminating the entire dipamkara temple.

He sat cross-legged in the air with a solemn expression. His entire body was crystal clear like jade, but his appearance was exactly the same as the Buddha in the painting. Even the minute details were the same.

However, the Buddha in the painting had his eyes open, while this one had not.

As the monks of dipamkara temple continued to chant Buddhist sutras and visualize the Dharmakaya of the true Buddha, the body of the Buddha became more and more solid. At the same time, his eyes began to tremble as if they were about to open.

“Once the Buddha’s eye opens, it’ll be the time to complete the task!”

“Continue to chant the Buddhist scriptures, don’t be distracted!”

The three old monks shouted in all directions.

The monks immediately gathered their thoughts and continued to chant the Buddhist scriptures.

Two hours later, the body of the Buddha had completely solidified and transformed into a real body. Its eyes opened and closed from time to time, emitting a dazzling golden light.

Another hour passed. The pair of eyes trembled and finally, they opened completely.

At this moment, the golden light shone brightly.

From the pair of Buddha eyes, there was an endless golden light that bloomed and illuminated the surroundings.

At the same time, the Buddha’s body trembled, and a vast Buddhist might spread out, shaking the world.

“Hahaha! Finally!”

The three old monks stood up excitedly and shouted in joy.

“We welcome the arrival of the true Buddha!”

Then, they bowed to the Buddha.

The monks in the square followed suit.

The Buddha moved his hands and feet. After getting used to this body, he turned his head and swept his gaze across the monks in the square.

“I am the eternal Buddha. From today on, I will protect the dipamkara temple and all living beings of Buddhism!”

He shouted in a low voice, his voice was like thunder, shaking the void.

“We pay our respects to The Guardian Buddha!”

Under the lead of the three old monks, all the monks knelt down and called out in unison.

Be it the three old monks or the disciples, they were all extremely excited. With such a Guardian Buddha, the strength of the dipamkara temple would increase greatly. There was hope for the revival of Buddhism!

“Protect your head!”

However, at this moment, they heard a loud shout.

A figure clad in pitch-black armor rushed out from the crowd with a divine halberd in his hand. He swung the halberd at the eternal immortal Buddha in the air.

Everyone was stunned by this scene!

They were all stunned on the spot, unable to react.

Even the eternal Buddha was stunned. He had just gained his complete sentience and his corporeal body, which made him as weak as a newborn baby.

“What eternal Buddha? I’ll destroy you today!”

The person shouted and slashed down with the halberd.

“Ah!”

There was a miserable cry.

The Buddha raised his hand to block it, and the Buddha’s hand was immediately shattered.

He cried out in pain and retreated in panic.

He had just been born. Although he had many Buddhist secret techniques in his mind, he could not use them at the moment. How could he block such a fierce attack?

Kachaa!

With another strike, the other palm of the Buddha was also split open. The figure swept over and pressed his palm on the Buddha's head.

In an instant, Tang Hao's primordial spirit left his body and entered the Buddha's body. His primordial spirit turned into an Azure Dragon and rushed into the sea of consciousness, devouring the Buddha's will, leaving only an empty shell.

All of this happened in a split second. From Tang Hao's sudden attack to his successful attack, only a few breaths had passed.

Before the monks of dipamkara temple could react, Tang Hao had already put the Buddha's body into his bag.

"Who ... Who are you?"

"How audacious! Return the true Buddha!"

The monks finally reacted. They were all shocked. How could there be an outsider here? Who was this person?

"I'm your grandfather!"

Tang Hao chuckled.

"You ... How dare you!"

"You're only at the 16th tribulation and you dare to be so presumptuous in my dipamkara temple!"

The three old monks were furious, and their faces were twisted.

For the sake of this incense ceremony, the dipamkara temple had waited for thousands of years and spent countless efforts to cultivate a true Buddha. But now, it had been snatched away by this fellow. How could they not go crazy?

"You're looking for death!"

They shouted and charged toward Tang Hao, unleashing their divine abilities.

Although the true Buddha's consciousness had been obliterated, it was fine. As long as they could get their physical body back, they could still find a way to recover it.

However, if they lost their physical bodies, their thousands of years of hard work would be completely wasted.

"Old bald donkeys, I'm not playing with you anymore! Goodbye!"

Tang Hao activated ye Cha and immediately fled.

Ye Cha was more powerful than an ordinary void armor. He could travel through the void and return to Pangu continent without even walking out of the exit.

“Where is he?”

“Where did he go? Quick, seal the exit!”

The three old monks looked around. When they saw that there was no one around, they immediately realized that something was wrong and rushed to the exit.

However, when they reached the exit, they still couldn't see anyone. The old monk guarding the exit had a look of confusion on his face, not knowing what had happened.

“What? No one went out?”

“I've checked, there's no trace of that guy in this world. If he didn't leave this place, where could he be?”

The three old monks were confused.

“Who is this person? How can he appear and disappear so unpredictably?”

They were even more curious about this person's identity.

Their Buddha realm had never been exposed, and no outsiders had ever come in before. How did this person know about this place and sneak in?

“Losing the true Buddha is a small matter. If his location is exposed and the people of the thirty-three heavens find out, we will be in great trouble!”

They were even more aware of the seriousness of the matter.

“Hurry up! Search this world thoroughly, we must find this person. ”

An old monk left in a hurry to search.

The two old monks stayed behind to guard the exit.

“Has anyone entered or left recently?”

They pondered for a moment and asked the old monk who was guarding the door.

“There are! A few days ago, the great sage Buddha bujie brought his men out!” The old monk replied.

“Not quit? Oh! I know he's going to catch that demon surnamed Tang. With his strength, he'll be fine. He's also very cautious, so it's impossible for him to expose his location. ”

“Other than bujie, did anyone else go out?”

“No more! During this period of time, other than the bujie Saint Buddha, no one else had gone out. That’s right, although no one has gone out, someone has returned. ” The old monk said.

“Eh? Who’s back?”

“It’s huicong! He had followed bujie out previously and just returned today. When I asked him why he was back, he said that bujie asked him to come back to get something. ” The old monk said.

“What?”

The two old monks were shocked.

They finally realized that the problem was with this “Hui Cong.”

“Where’s huicong?”

“Hurry up! Let’s find him!”

They immediately rushed back.

“Huicong? What happened to him? What? The person who attacked just now was Hui Cong?”

After hearing the news, the monks of dipamkara temple were all shocked.

The group of grandmasters was even more confused.

That Hui Cong was a fake?

They found it hard to believe. That Hui Cong was clearly very normal. He was even exchanging pill techniques with them and joking around!

“Aiya! It’s broken! That huicong is a fake! If he was really huicong, how could he have such high level pill refining skills!”

Then, they came to a realization.

Previously, when they were talking and laughing with Hui Cong, they were all bewitched by him.

“This guy...Who is he? With such superb alchemy skills and such astonishing courage, he’s definitely not an ordinary person!”

In their hearts, they were somewhat amazed.
