

The Mightiest Little Peasant Chapter 2189

Tang Hao sat cross-legged in the cave abode.

He closed his eyes and held the five-colored divine crystal in his hand. He did not move at all, and his primordial spirit had already entered the crystal ball.

Inside the crystal ball was an empty space.

Countless golden characters were arranged into rows and floated in the air.

These were the array Dao insights left behind by Great Yan immortal venerable.

As Tang Hao walked, he read through the Enlightenment line by line.

“As expected of the Grand Yan immortal venerable!”

He gasped in admiration from time to time.

The Grand Yan immortal venerable was worthy of being a top-tier ancient formation Dao expert. His profound knowledge and attainments in formation Dao greatly amazed Tang Hao.

In this comprehension, countless ancient array Dao inheritances were integrated into it. At the same time, it was also integrated with what great Yan immortal venerable had learned. It could be said to be a great array Dao Encyclopedia, which was completely comparable to his great alchemy Dao Encyclopedia.

Tang Hao walked and stopped. When he saw a problem, he would sit down and think about it.

Not long after, he laughed out loud, as if he had realized something. He stood up and continued to walk forward, looking forward.

He was intoxicated, completely immersed in this ocean of array Dao knowledge.

As a top-notch array Dao Almighty, the great Yan immortal venerable's comprehension was mostly profound and abstruse. Many of the array techniques were top-notch arrays, and ordinary array Masters could not even understand a tiny bit.

But Tang Hao was different. He was very skilled in formations, but not as good as in alchemy.

He could understand most of the insights after thinking for a while. Nothing could stump him.

As he walked, he constantly absorbed these insights and turned them into his own knowledge.

His formation path attainment was continuously rising.

Tang Hao finally finished reading it after ten days.

He had completely absorbed all of da yan immortal venerable's array Dao insights, and his array Dao attainments had also improved by leaps and bounds.

"My array Dao ... Is almost complete!"

Tang Hao's primordial spirit walked out of the five-colored divine crystal. He couldn't help but laugh. He was extremely happy.

At this moment, his array Dao finally caught up to his alchemy Dao.

"However, it's still not enough! I'm just a little bit away from perfection!"

Tang Hao furrowed his brows. He was not satisfied.

He also had many ancient books on array Dao. Some of them were from the Qiyuan great void heaven, some were from the endless starry sky, and some were from Pangu.

He wanted to read all of these ancient books one more time and master all of them. Only then would he be able to truly reach the realm of perfection!

He immediately took out all of these ancient books.

Among these books, there were many ancient array paths, and many of them were later developed array paths. Tang Hao read through them one by one, removed the weeds and kept the fine ones, and integrated them, further improving his array path attainments.

He sat there for a full month.

In this one month, Tang Hao had sorted out his knowledge of formations and thoroughly integrated them, truly reaching the realm of perfection.

"When I have time in the future, I'll also create an array path Encyclopedia and pass it down to strengthen our sect's array path strength!"

Tang Hao mumbled.

His alchemy Encyclopedia had shaken the world of alchemy, causing the weakened creation alchemy Dao to rise rapidly and become the center of the world of alchemy. Thus, he had the idea of compiling an alchemy Encyclopedia of formations.

If he could really write it, he would definitely be able to increase the strength of the gate of fortune again. At the same time, he would be able to rope in those array Dao forces and strengthen his reputation.

However, he didn't have much time for now, so he could only put it aside for now.

After he had perfected the array Dao, the path of crafts was in front of him.

If he wanted to rebuild the immortal abode, he couldn't do without either of the Dao of arrays and crafts!

"The Dao of arrays and crafts are of the same origin. The foundation of these two is talismans and talismans. After I perfected the Dao of arrays, my attainments in talismans have reached the peak. I just need to go through all the books on crafts I have and integrate them together. That will be enough."

From Qiyuan to the endless starry sky, and then to Pangu, Tang Hao had not only collected books on alchemy and formation, but also on craftsmanship.

Tang Hao had obtained many books on the Dao of crafts from the ruins of the Buddhist Academy.

The heavenly Buddha Academy had been famous for its craftsmanship since ancient times. Its unique craftsmanship techniques were not inferior to those of the most ancient craftsmanship.

Kun Lun's Dao of craftsmanship was the most famous Dao of craftsmanship in ancient times.

Tang Hao took out the books and studied them again.

The books were as vast as the ocean. Tang Hao's gaze swept through them, and his divine will was as fast as lightning. He quickly went through them and memorized every word and sentence.

After looking through all of them, he sorted them out and integrated them.

Tang Hao took out pieces of materials from time to time and began to refine them.

Flying swords, dharmic seals, treasured mirrors, Ling armor ...

Countless treasures appeared in his hands, and they shone brightly with immortal radiance.

He tested out some of his insights and ideas on these treasures.

Just like that, a month passed, and the treasures in the immortal's cave had already piled up like a mountain.

"My Dao of crafts ... Has reached perfection!"

After crafting another armor artifact, Tang Hao sat quietly for three days. He suddenly stood up and laughed.

At this point, his three DAOs of alchemy, weapons, and arrays had all reached perfection!

No matter which of the three DAOs of alchemy, weapons, and arrays was perfected, it could shock Pangu. But now, he had perfected all three DAOs. Once the news spread, it would shock Pangu and the world again.

"I can finally reforge My Immortal estate!"

Tang Hao rested for a while, then sat down again.

The reason why he had delved into the Dao of arrays and crafts was to reforge his immortal estate.

“I already have the materials. There are already three kinds of divine materials in the original immortal abode. The first is the materials for the nine Dragons divine coffin, the second is the Fortune true gold, the third is the embryo of the ice sea divine metal, and the materials from the great Yan immortal Palace. It’s enough for me!”

“What we need to solve now is the formation! My previous formation was already complicated enough. I’ve carved millions, even tens of millions of talismans into an immortal estate, but now I can carve even more to form an even more complex super formation.”

Tang Hao’s heart surged with ambition.

The perfection of both arrays and crafts greatly boosted his confidence. He was going to inscribe an unprecedented super large array, making his immortal mansion a super treasure with unparalleled power!

“My great formation must be complicated and powerful enough. The entire immortal mansion must be hard and strong enough. It must be unbreakable like those ancient cities of the clans!”

Tang Hao calmed his mind and began to focus on drawing the formation.

He sat there for a full two months.

In these two months, he had exhausted all his efforts and finally drew a perfect array diagram.
