

The Mightiest Little Peasant Chapter 2341

Elder lie stood rooted to the ground, his expression conflicted.

He was the Grand Elder of Vermillion Bird heaven, a thousand-blood expert. Other than Daoist Tang, he was the only one with the highest cultivation level and seniority. If he did not take out an Emperor weapon, he would be embarrassed.

However, he was also a little reluctant.

After all, it was an Emperor artifact! He didn't have many!

"Forget it!"

After struggling for a moment, he gritted his teeth, took out a wooden box, and walked forward.

As a member of the true hou clan, this little girl has a bright future ahead of her. In addition to her relationship with Daoist Tang, it's worth it to invest in an Emperor weapon on her.

"Hahaha! Congratulations, fellow cultivator Tang! This is a small gift from the sky of Vermillion Bird. I hope you can accept it!"

As he spoke, he opened the wooden box, and a red light burst out from it.

Inside was a piece of red jade, carved into the shape of a Vermilion Bird, exuding a scorching aura.

"It's also an Emperor artifact!"

Everyone exclaimed in shock.

This was the third emperor artifact!

"This piece of Jade is a defensive treasure. It contains the divine fire of the Vermilion Bird. It also has many other uses. There's an immortal gathering array inside it that can greatly speed up the absorption of immortal Qi. In addition, it can also calm one's mind and focus one's mind."

Elder lie took out the Jade and introduced.

Then, he demonstrated it. He instilled a trace of immortal Qi into the Jade, and the Jade came to life, turning into a Vermillion Bird. It flew around the divine boat and finally fell into the hands of Little Phoenix, turning into a piece of Jade again.

Little Phoenix looked at this piece of Jade and his eyes lit up. It was obvious that he liked it very much.

"Many thanks!"

Tang Hao thanked her on her behalf.

Following elder lie's lead, the elders of the Shi clan and Jiang clan also took out their Emperor weapons.

As the elders of a super large clan, they had a very deep foundation.

"Isn't it just an Emperor artifact? Who can 't!"

Ling Zhanxu mumbled to himself as he took out a tortoise-shell Shield.

He had been poor, but he had been plundering with Tang Hao all these years, and had accumulated a lot of treasures.

Seeing this, the other seven tribulations gritted their teeth and took out their weapons as well. Soon, they had given out more than 30 Emperor weapons.

Looking at the little Phoenix, who was covered in Emperor artifacts and holding a bunch of Emperor artifacts in her hands, the 7th tribulation cultivators felt a little emotional. There was really no comparison between people. Look at this girl, she had a 6th tribulation cultivation base and a pile of Emperor artifacts when she was just born.

This kind of treatment was simply too heaven-defying!

"I think this girl will also be a monster in the future!"

"Exactly! Divine Lord Tang is such a monster. As his daughter, how could she be weak?"

They discussed in low voices.

She was already so heaven-defying when she was just born, how could this girl be? She had a full set of Emperor weapons now. By the time she ascended to the seventh tribulation, she would have a full set of Supreme weapons. Tang shenjun had quite a number of Supreme weapons on him. In addition to her powerful Phoenix bloodline, she would be another top-tier monster!

"I really don't know what those demons will think when they find out!"

Someone sighed.

In Pangu, the demon tribe was not well off. Every one of them lived a miserable life. On one hand, they were despised by the untainted tribe, and on the other hand, they were hunted down by the human tribe. If they knew what kind of treatment this girl was receiving, they would be jealous to death.

"I think this might be an opportunity! With this girl, the gate of fortune might be able to rope in many demons!"

As the person in charge of the Vermillion Bird sky, elder lie's perspective was different from that of ordinary people. He sharply discovered another value in this girl.

"Thank you, everyone!"

Tang Hao told the little Phoenix to keep the treasures, then thanked the cultivators.

“You’re too kind, fellow Daoist Tang!”

All the cultivators returned the greeting with a smile.

Tang Hao brought Little Phoenix and introduced her to the creation sect disciples on the divine boat. Then, he handed her over to young master Li and Yu Shiyao to look after her while he continued to craft wood-type treasures.

Three days later, the divine boat arrived at its destination.

The ruins this time were different from the previous three. It was a small world. They found a passage in the void and successfully entered this small world.

“This is a true immortal’s relic. Unfortunately, this relic has been discovered long ago. Many orthodoxies in our 33 heavens have been here before, and most of the areas have been explored.”

Elder lie pointed at the mountain range and Palace in front of them as he introduced.

“However, we can still look around. Perhaps our predecessors might have missed something and left behind some treasures.” Elder lie said.

This time, they were here to pick up scraps.

In this kind of ruins that had been visited by people, there would often be a situation of picking up a treasure. The higher the grade of the ruins, the higher the possibility.

Because sometimes, the treasure would be hidden in a very hidden place, and it was very difficult to find. If one looked carefully, there might be a surprise.

Tang Hao scanned the place. Everything that he could see was bare. Anything of value had been taken away, leaving only some rotten, broken walls.

“Let’s go to the herb garden first. The immortal Qi here is quite abundant. Every once in a while, divine herbs will be born.” Elder lie said, “this place is, after all, the remains of a true immortal. It is extremely dangerous. Ordinary people would not dare to take the risk here. Therefore, most of these godly medicines are preserved.”

“Three hundred years ago, I came here once and collected some medicine. I don’t know if anyone else has been here recently.”

As he spoke, he led the group forward and soon arrived at the medicine garden.

This herb garden had long been in ruins, but there were still many spiritual herbs growing inside. Some of them had already evolved into godly herbs.

Tang Hao did not see any rare spirit herbs, so he gave them all to the others.

“This place is more like the ruins of a sect. There are herbs, elixirs, and weapons. There are also many palaces. It doesn’t look like a genuine immortal’s cave at all.”

Tang Hao pondered as he looked around.

A true immortal’s cave abode wouldn’t be so messy.

“It might be a Daoist Rite temple established by a true immortal! After the Second Great War, most of the true immortals died, but there was still a small number of survivors. They were the ones who established the Pangu world, and the owner of this place was one of them. He survived and took in many disciples.”

Tang Hao guessed.

There were records of such Daoist rites in Pangu’s history books, but they were all things that happened when Pangu was just created, before the era of the hundred Immortals.

Later on, these true immortals also disappeared, and there were no more true immortals in the world. The so-called ‘Immortals’ later on were all nine tribulation Supremes.

After making some guesses, Tang Hao began to focus on his search. He released his divine sense and scanned every corner of this world.

The Group of Seven tribulations also spread out, each displaying their own magical powers and rummaging around, wanting to pick up something here.

However, this was clearly not an easy task. After searching for a long time, no one found anything.

Many people gave up and returned to the divine boat.

At this moment, a wild laugh suddenly spread.

“Hahaha! Treasure! It was a treasure! I’ve found it!”

Tang Hao raised his head and looked over in shock. It was Ling Zhanxu. He had emerged from a Lake and was laughing wildly. He was wearing a sparkling golden battle armor, which made him look indescribably valiant and cool.
