

The Mightiest Little Peasant Chapter 2371

“Gulp!”

The group of old monsters stood stiffly on the spot and swallowed their saliva with difficulty.

This monster already had nine thousand blood!

What’s the point of fighting!

Although they had a lot of people, the strongest only had around 8000 HP. How could they beat this monster with 9000 HP?

Many old monsters looked at Xu Qi, Daoist nanshou, and the others with a resentful expression.

Motherf * cker! Didn’t you guys say that it only had five to six thousand HP? How did it become 9000 HP now? The difference was too great! It had over 3000 HP!

Daoist nanshou and the others looked aggrieved.

They weren’t lying. It was only 5000 to 6000 HP before, so it couldn’t be wrong. As for why it suddenly became 9000 HP, who the hell knew!

“Let’s go!”

Then, they revealed terrified expressions and jumped up to escape.

At this moment, Daoist nanshou didn’t have time to care about the stars. He had to escape first.

“This kid ...”

Daoist Luo of Emperor Xi heaven took another look at the young man in white before he left, his eyes full of emotion.

He was not even a hundred years old, but he had nine thousand blood!

If he had not seen it with his own eyes, he would not have believed it.

“It seems that Pangu will have another venerable sovereign soon!”

He sighed, turned into a divine light, and left.

Soon, the 18 old monsters left.

Tang Hao only retracted his gaze when he saw them disappear into the distance. He looked around and sensed the rich immortal Qi on the planet. Then, he looked at the origin core clone with an astonished expression.

He didn't expect that this star would change so much. The immortal Qi was dozens of times richer, and many new immortal veins had been born. In terms of cultivation environment, it was almost better than the eight desolations land.

Also, the speed at which the origin core clone advanced far exceeded his expectations.

"Not bad! Not bad!"

"Amazing!" Tang Hao praised.

The origin core avatar laughed and flew over.

"If this star continues to improve, it will truly become a heavenly abode. In the future, I can move the people of Kun Lun here and let them cultivate here!"

Tang Hao flew into the air and examined the planet beneath his feet.

"No! It can't be placed here. The location of this star has already been exposed. Moreover, this star isn't big. Among the five old monsters I killed before, there must be a star bigger than this one. Their location is also more hidden, no one knows."

Tang Hao thought of the five stars.

He would have to pick up Kun Lun's people sooner or later. The spiritual energy in the lower realm was too thin, and there wasn't even a decent immortal Meridian, so it wasn't suitable for cultivation.

And now that his strength was almost there, he could start to consider picking up Kun Lun's people.

The heaven-equal Department and a few dynasties from the central sacred planet would also be brought here. It would be best if there were more of them. Tang Hao even wanted to select all the geniuses from the lower universe and bring them here.

The nine-colored clan's invasion wouldn't be too far away, so he had to make as many preparations as possible.

"I'll first look for those five stars, then choose the largest one and let the origin core transform it. After I've passed the eighth tribulation, I'll be able to go and pick up the people from the lower realm."

"As for the people from the gate of fortune, there's no need to move them. The mountain range of fortune is a high-grade immortal vein. Furthermore, the gate of fortune is the center of the elixir realm. It's not easy to move them!"

Tang Hao calculated.

"By the way, I've heard that some treasures will be born on the stars. This star should have some too!"

Tang Hao circled the star and found many valuable items. There were some rare spirit herbs and many mineral veins.

“The things born on the stars should be affected by the density of the immortal Qi. The denser the immortal Qi, the more good things will be born.” Tang Hao guessed.

He remembered clearly that the planet was still barren when he first came here. However, as the immortal Qi increased by dozens of times, the environment of the planet had undergone an earth-shaking change, the most obvious of which was the vegetation.

“You can continue with your cultivation! When I find a new Star, I’ll let you know!”

Tang Hao said to his clone.

The avatar nodded and returned to the star core.

Tang Hao walked around the planet again. He threw out many rare spirit herb seeds in various places. He also took out some beast eggs that he had with him. After hatching them, he set them free.

This star was a good place to plant some spirit herbs and raise some spirit beasts, becoming his back garden.

“Let’s call it planet No. 1!”

Tang Hao thought about it and came up with a name. He planned to follow the rules and name the stars he found. They would be called planet No. 2, planet No. 3 ...

Of course, the biggest one couldn’t be called that. It had to be called the Kunlun star, a star that belonged to his Kun Lun.

After sowing the seeds and releasing the spirit beasts, Tang Hao began to set up the formation. He set up layers of great formations around the star to hide it.

Then, he left.

He took out the remains of one of the old monsters and used his tracking method to track them.

In the vast void, Tang Hao relied on this weak sense to run here and there. He searched for more than half a month before he found the star.

In such a large space, it was too difficult to find something. Even if it was a star, a slight deviation could cause it to be thousands of miles away.

After discovering the position of the star, the next step was simple. Tang Hao easily broke the formation and arrived on the star.

He glanced at it and was slightly disappointed.

This star was about the same size as planet No. 1.

The immortal Qi on this planet was similar to that on planet No. 1. However, there were many kinds of fierce beasts on this planet, which were obviously deliberately cultivated by the old monster.

“This is planet No. 2!”

Just like before, Tang Hao scattered spirit herb seeds everywhere, then set up layers of formations to hide the stars.

Then, he began to move on to the next Star.

This time, it was a little simpler. He only spent ten days and found it.

Compared to planet No. 1 and planet No. 2, this one was much bigger, which made Tang Hao quite happy.

After setting up the formation, Tang Hao left and continued to look for the next one.

Soon, he found two more stars, one of which was old devil MU’s star.

“F * ck! It’s so big!”

Tang Hao was dumbfounded when he saw old devil MU’s star.

This star was completely different from the previous ones. It was more than ten times bigger. According to the standards of the lower realm, the previous ones were medium-grade stars, but this one was already a large-grade star.

The immortal Qi was also several times denser.

“How much growing soil did this old devil get!”

Tang Hao was speechless.

He knew that the size of a star was determined by the amount of growing soil. The larger the star, the more growing soil was used when transforming into a star.

“This old devil is so good to me, he even gave me such a big star!” Tang Hao grinned.

This planet would be called the Kunlun star in the future, and it would be the main sect of his Kunlun Sect.
