

The Mightiest Little Peasant Chapter 2404

“It’s the Golden myriad disaster pill!”

“This kid’s Foundation is truly terrifying!”

The two venerable sovereigns sighed.

They also did not expect that it would be this person who snatched this wisp of Black Yellow ancient Qi.

At this moment, they did not have the slightest intention of chasing after him to snatch it. After all, that was the Golden pill of all disasters! Even an 8th tribulation undying immortal body couldn’t resist such a killing weapon. There was a risk of death if one was not careful.

They looked around and then swept to the side to snatch the other wisps of profound yellow ancient Qi.

“Eh? What’s going on?”

At this time, in several other battlefields, the group of venerable sovereigns noticed the three lights that were chasing each other in the sky. The first two were shrouded in the undying celestial glow, which meant that they were both eight-tribulation venerable sovereigns, but the latter one did not have the aura of an eight-tribulation venerable sovereign.

However, it was this divine light that wasn’t at the eighth tribulation that was chasing after the previous two. It was really strange!

“It’s that kid!”

“In front of us are the great void and the divine curse old men!”

After seeing it clearly, they were all a little dumbfounded.

That kid didn’t use the divine boat of creation. No matter how powerful he was, he was only at the seventh tribulation. How could he chase after two true venerable sovereigns?

“That golden sand ... There’s something strange about it!”

Then, they saw the clues and realized that the Golden sand mist must be extraordinary.

“This damn brat!”

In the distance, the huang xie demon Thearch had already obtained the black Yellow ancient Qi and was waiting for the second one. When he saw Tang Hao from afar, veins popped out on his forehead.

This brat was undoubtedly the bravest and most detestable person he had ever seen in his life!

In terms of hatred points, the Dao Lords of the 33 heavens could not compare to this kid!

“Hahaha! The heavens are really helping me!”

The desolate evil demon Thearch laughed out loud. He was ecstatic.

If this kid had stayed on the creation divine boat, he wouldn't have been able to do anything. But now, this kid had actually come out. Wasn't this a once in a lifetime opportunity?

“I'm afraid this kid is using some kind of secret technique to be so powerful. However, this kind of secret technique can't last long. Moreover, it consumes a lot of energy. Once the effect wears off, he will become extremely weak. This is the best time for me to kill him!”

“Brat, you've come at the right time!”

“Let's go!” He shouted as he charged toward that direction.

The demonic Qi on his body surged, and his entire person's aura was like a rainbow, extremely powerful.

Tang Hao was stunned when he saw him. The two old monsters, Taixu and Shenqi, were stunned as well. Then, they were overjoyed. Although they did not know who he was, they were grateful from the bottom of their hearts.

“Fellow Daoist, many thanks!”

They thanked him solemnly, then sped up and fled.

Old demon desolate evil snorted.

These Dao Masters of the 33 heavens were also his enemies. When his cultivation base recovered, he would take care of them one by one.

“Kid, do you remember me?”

Then, he glared at the front and shouted.

“I remember!” Tang Hao nodded. “Of course I remember. How could I not remember someone as kind as you, senior?” His tone and expression were especially sincere.

The old demon of desolation nearly blew his top when he heard that.

Good-hearted?

F * ck! This kid was using all sorts of ways to call him an idiot!

“You're looking for death!”

He roared in anger and shot out, throwing a punch.

Tang Hao wasn't afraid. Instead, he grinned and was a little happy. This old demon had obtained a wisp of Black Yellow ancient Qi. It wouldn't be long before he recovered most of his cultivation. This wasn't a good thing. He could use this opportunity to deal him a heavy blow and buy himself some time.

"What are you laughing at ... Hmm? Wait, What is this?"

"Don't ... Don 't!"

The old demon huang xie was first infuriated. However, very quickly, his angry curses turned into shrill screams of pain. His old face contorted into a look of fear and regret.

He wanted to escape, but it was too late. Tang Hao's fist had already arrived, accompanied by a sky full of poisonous golden sand.

"Ah, Yingluo!"

Another shrill scream pierced through the sky.

The old demon of desolation cried out in pain as his entire body began to convulse.

By the time he managed to escape from the poisonous mist, his body was already covered in blood and flesh, looking extremely miserable.

"You ... This is ... The Golden elixir of all disasters!?"

His eyes were wide open as he looked at Tang Hao in fear.

"You're right!"

Tang Hao's smile became even brighter.

He moved and chased after the old monster.

"Don 't! Don't come any closer!"

"Don't ... Don 't!"

The old demon of desolation shrieked as he retreated. His face was filled with fear, like a little wife who had been bullied.

Then, he bit the tip of his tongue and spat out a mouthful of blood essence. His figure turned into a ray of light and escaped madly.

In the blink of an eye, he had fled tens of millions of miles away. When he stopped, his body shook and he almost fell.

At this moment, his face was as pale as a sheet of gold paper and his body was covered in blood and flesh. He looked extremely miserable.
