

The Mightiest Little Peasant Chapter 2433

Tang Hao retracted his divine telekinesis after scanning the area. He was a little disappointed.

This Vairocana statue did not seem to be abnormal. At least, he did not find any mystery.

Numinous treasure Dao master and the others noticed Tang Hao's actions. They examined the Buddha statue again, but they did not find anything.

"This Buddha statue ... Doesn't seem to have any profound mysteries."

Numinous treasure path master examined it again and couldn't help but shake his head. "This is just an ordinary Buddha statue. At most, it's made of some special materials. It's made of superior spiritual materials, but it's of no value to us great emperors."

"But why is the Mahesvara Buddha staring at this Buddha statue? Could there really be a mystery?"

He turned his gaze to the Golden Pagoda and revealed a trace of doubt.

"Where is it?"

At this moment, a roar was reverberating in the pagoda.

The Mahesvara Buddha was also a little anxious. He had examined the Buddha statue countless times, but he still could not find the mystery.

"I won't be wrong, it must be inside!"

He mumbled to himself and continued his investigation.

Although he was The Guardian Buddha of the dipamkara temple, the three Holy Lands of Buddhism and Daoism had a close relationship in ancient times. They had many interactions, so he knew some of the secrets of the Rulai divine sect. He knew that the biggest secret of the Rulai divine sect was hidden on this Buddha statue.

"As long as I can find that treasure, I can quickly recover my powers. At that time, we, the Buddhist sect, can destroy all the mantras in the heavens and dominate this world!"

He was a little excited. That treasure was too important to him and the revival of Buddhism!

As long as he could recover his peak strength, it would be a piece of cake to annihilate these heavenly Daoist teachings!

"There's still nothing here ... Could it really not be here? Or did something happen and it was taken away by the celestial sect?"

He was greatly disappointed when he examined it again, and he became even more suspicious.

“No, it’s impossible for the people of the celestial gate to know this secret, and they don’t have the time to do so. The formation was activated not long after they broke through the gate, so the treasure must still be there. Since we can’t find anything in this way, we’ll just break it and find out what’s going on!”

He pondered for a while and made a move decisively. He condensed a huge Golden Buddha Palm and slapped it toward the Buddha statue.

“He’s making his move!”

The venerable sovereigns were shocked and looked over.

Bang! Bang!

A deafening explosion.

The Buddha statue shattered and exploded into thousands of pieces in a golden light.

In an instant, spiritual will surged in from all directions and quickly scanned these fragments. But soon, the divine thoughts retreated and the venerable sovereigns shook their heads.

These were just ordinary fragments.

“No?”

The Mahesvara Buddha quickly scanned the area and was disappointed.

“No, what’s that?”

Just as he was about to give up, he suddenly discovered something and revealed a look of wild joy. In the next moment, the Golden Pagoda trembled. He turned into a golden light and rushed out toward the fragments of the Buddha statue.

“What’s going on?”

Everyone was shocked.

They had already searched the area, but they did not find anything.

“Strange!”

The Vermillion Bird path master muttered with a puzzled expression.

Tang Hao was confused as well. He focused his gaze on the broken pieces again.

In the next moment, he seemed to have discovered something. His entire body trembled, and he revealed an excited expression. “It’s that sand!”

“Sand?”

The Vermillion Bird path master was stunned when he heard this.

There was indeed some sand in the debris, but wasn't this the sand and stone produced after the Buddha statue had crumbled? What's so strange about it? Besides, he had already scanned the sand with his spiritual force, and there was nothing special about it!

"Right! It was sand! That's the Holy sand of the Ganges!"

Numinous treasure Dao master looked over and came to a realization.

"What? That's the legendary Holy item of the Buddhist sect, the Holy sand of the Ganges?" The Vermillion Bird path master was stunned.

He had heard of the divine sand of the Ganges before. It was something that had appeared in the legends of Buddhism. It was said that this item was very magical. One grain of divine sand could create a small world inside. Hence, there was a saying in Buddhism that one grain of sand was a world.

"This is the Holy sand of the Ganges. In every grain of sand, there is a Buddhist Kingdom. The legendary item must be in one of the Buddhist kingdoms!"

Tang Hao said.

After he finished speaking, he moved and rushed towards the Golden divine sand. At the same time, he used his divine will and thousands of rays of light emerged from his body. They were all his split souls.

"Not enough! It's still not enough!"

Tang Hao mumbled to himself. His primordial spirit expanded, and he continuously slashed out more split souls toward the divine sand.

There were probably more than a hundred million grains of divine sand here, which meant that there were more than a hundred million small worlds. If he wanted to quickly search through these small worlds and find the location of the shrine, he would need more split souls.

The Mahesvara Buddha was one step ahead of him. He also split off many of his split souls and rushed into the divine sand.

"Hurry up!"

After him, the venerable sovereigns of the four directions also took action. Each of them displayed their magical powers and began to explore these Buddhist kingdoms.

At that moment, the souls and bodies of the various Supreme emperors rushed into the Buddhist kingdoms and started to search.

When the split souls of the various Daoist Masters met, most of them would be fine. However, if they met the Mahesvara Buddha, they would fight.

Among the venerable sovereigns, Tang Hao had cut out the most number of split souls. It was inevitable that he would encounter Mahesvara Buddha or the great void sect master. Fierce battles broke out in various Buddhist kingdoms.

This was especially so for the great void sect master and the others, who would chase after and kill his split soul whenever they saw it.

“Hmph! We can’t destroy this kid’s original body, but can’t we destroy a part of his soul?”

Tang Hao was helpless against their pursuit. He could only run. It was just a split soul. Without the abilities of his main body, how could he be a match for the great void sect master and the others?

“You destroyed my soul, so I’ll destroy yours!”

Tang Hao returned the provocation of the great void sect master and the others. Every time his main body entered a Buddhist Kingdom, he would search for the souls of the great void sect master and the others. Once he found them, he would kill them.

The two sides exchanged blows, and the fight was quite enjoyable.

Four hours passed. With Tang Hao’s abilities, he had searched almost half of the Buddhist Kingdom, but he did not find any treasures.

These were ordinary small worlds. They were not large in size. Some had living creatures and mortal Buddhist kingdoms. Some were just barren lands without a single living creature. The environment was so bad that even mortals could not survive in them.

After another two hours, suddenly, a split soul returned with news, saying that there was a discovery. In one of the Buddhist kingdoms, a temple had appeared and was surrounded by the light of Buddha. It must be the place where the treasure was.

Tang Hao moved immediately. He rushed out of the Buddhist Kingdom and entered the Buddhist Kingdom.

Following the guidance of the split soul, he landed in a mountain range.

The temple was located on one of the mountain peaks. The light of Buddha shone from the temple. It was a million feet tall and extremely dazzling. Tang Hao could feel the shocking aura of Buddha even before he got close.
