

The Mightiest Little Peasant Chapter 2539

“Two out of five ...”

“And that Daoist yunyue, he won 500!”

Tang Hao rubbed his chin and pondered.

This medicinal effect was not bad, much stronger than he had expected.

However, he was still not very satisfied. After all, the success rate was less than 50%. If it could reach 50% or 60%, that would be more ideal.

“Lord alchemy God, do you still have more of these pills?”

The tone of those few people became extremely respectful.

In the entire Holy region, there were only eight alchemy gods, especially those from the Holy Temple's alchemy Pavilion. They were all highly respected and admired by the world.

“There's more!”

Tang Hao gave each of them a pill so that they could go back and try again.

After distributing the pills, Tang Hao went back to his room to study and improve the recipe. He had the second version of the recipe.

After that, he went to buy the materials and made ten more.

The next day, he brought the improved version of the pill to Linglong city and distributed it.

After the experiment, the effect of this improvement was not bad. The success rate had increased by 20% to 30%, reaching 60% to 70%. This success rate was already very high.

After that, Tang Hao changed the recipe a few more times and gave it a try.

These few improvements were mainly to change some rare materials and replace them with more common ones to see how the effect was.

After all, this was a pill that needed to be promoted on a large scale. If the ingredients were limited, it would not be able to be promoted.

The experiment went on for more than half a month, and Tang Hao changed the recipe more than a dozen times.

After combining the effects, he finally decided on two versions of the pill recipe.

One was the luxury version, where ingredients were crazily piled up and the medicinal effects were pushed to the extreme, reaching 80 – 90%.

The other one was the normal version, with low ingredients, and could maintain the medicinal effect at 50%.

The so-called success rate here was the success rate produced from the first time one consumed the pill.

From this half a month of testing, Tang Hao had also come to the conclusion that the pill's effects would last for a period of time. As long as he took one pill a day for a few days, he would be able to continuously increase the success rate.

Furthermore, the effects of the medicine would last for several days before it would fail.

Therefore, in theory, as long as one ate more of these pills, they could achieve a 100% success rate.

Tang Hao finally breathed a sigh of relief after he settled on the recipe.

At this time, in the city of delicacy and the surrounding areas, this elixir was gradually becoming famous.

In the beginning, there was a rumor that an Alchemist from the sacred Hall had invented a yang strengthening pill and was looking for someone to test it on in the city of delicacy.

After the news spread, many people came to the corner of the street every day, waiting in secret to test the effects of the pill.

After that, the news changed. It was no longer about the Yang strengthening pill, but a divine pill that could greatly increase the chances of conception!

This news immediately caused a sensation.

At the same time, all sorts of suspicions were raised.

Throughout the history of alchemy, there had never been such a wondrous pill!

Everyone felt that the higher one's cultivation was, the more normal it would be for them to be unable to bear children. This was the heavenly Dao and the rule.

This was something that could not be changed!

How could an unknown Alchemist from the Holy Temple change the iron-like rules of the heavenly Dao?

Many xiuzhe had rushed over to expose this lie.

However, when they tried the effects of the pill themselves, they were instantly shocked.

"This is definitely a divine pill that will shock the entire alchemy world. No, it will shock the entire Holy region!"

“He’s not some unknown Alchemist. He’s clearly the alchemy God of the alchemy Pavilion. Only an alchemy master like him can create such a magical pill!”

They began to cheer for the divine elixir, creating a commotion.

As a result, the news spread further and further, and the popularity grew.

Many xiuzhe had come because of its reputation.

“The pills refined by Lord alchemy God are definitely unprecedented and amazing pills. I’ve eaten eight of them. Now, two thousand of my three thousand Dao companions are already pregnant. Soon, I’ll be the father of two thousand children!”

Daoist yunyue stepped forward.

Immediately, countless people rushed to the yunyue clan to pay a visit to Daoist yunyue.

“It’s true! More than 2000 of them are pregnant, and some of them are even twins!”

“This is unbelievable! It’s really a rare divine pill!”

These people came out of the yunyue sect and were all extremely excited.

What Daoist yunyue said was not false at all. The effects of that pill were too miraculous!

After this incident, the reputation of the divine pill became more and more famous. It began to spread to all parts of the mainland.

Many people knew that the alchemy God of the sacred Hall had come to the city of delicacy. He had created a divine pill that was unprecedented!

All of a sudden, the upper continent became extremely lively.

Countless people were discussing this divine pill.

The effect of this divine elixir had moved countless cultivators, and some even went crazy.

This pill could possibly be a miraculous pill that could change the foundation of a force. With this pill, their force could produce many more geniuses and monstrous talents, and their strength would be greatly enhanced.

At that moment, countless forces sent their elders and emissaries to the city of delicacy to find the alchemy God and verify the authenticity of the news.

However, the alchemy God had already disappeared and never appeared in the city of delicacy again.

“Go! Go to the divine temple and pay a visit to the Lord alchemy God!”

The leaders of the major forces could no longer sit still.

The news that the elders had sent back made them extremely excited. The divine pill was real and its effects were even stronger than they had imagined.

They all got up and rushed to the temple.

Since that person was the alchemy God of the divine temple, as long as he went to the divine temple, he would definitely be able to ask for it.

“What ... What’s going on?”

In the sacred Hall, Supreme Xuan Hong was dumbfounded when he saw so many leaders who had suddenly come to pay their respects.

This ... Did something big happen?

“Congratulations, Paragon. The sacred Hall has another Paragon of alchemy!”

“Hahaha! This is not only a joy for the divine temple, but also for the Holy region!”

Upon seeing Supreme Xuan Hong, all the leaders bowed and congratulated him.

“What? The Paragon of alchemy?”

Supreme Xuan Hong was even more confused when he heard this.

Since when did his temple have a Supreme martial artist? Why didn’t he know about it?

“This Paragon is not that Paragon! When one’s alchemy Dao reaches the peak and has unparalleled achievements, one can also be called the Supreme of a Dao!” A leader of a force said.

“What ... What’s going on?”

Supreme Xuan Hong was dumbfounded upon hearing this.

Of course, he knew about this saying, but he didn’t seem to have such an awesome figure in his temple!

Such a person had to be able to establish an important branch and influence the entire history of alchemy. Even the nine tribulations Supreme Master of the alchemy Pavilion didn’t have such an achievement!

“Many children pill? There’s such a divine pill?”

After asking for more details, he was also shocked.

Then, he became extremely excited.

He was very clear about the value of this divine elixir. It was simply impossible to estimate!

“Who created such a miraculous pill?”

Then, he muttered to himself as he examined the alchemy gods in the alchemy Pavilion.

“Something’s wrong! It doesn’t seem like them!”

However, he quickly shook his head.

He had never heard of any of them researching such a pill.

Could it be ... That kid?

Suddenly, his mind trembled, but he recalled that his divine temple still had an alchemy God! A young alchemy God!

And most importantly, the timing was right. This kid had just gone out a while ago.

He appeased the leaders of the various forces and rushed to the Haotian cave abode.
