

The Mightiest Little Peasant Chapter 2680

Ji xuanmei stood there in a daze.

She was in a daze and couldn't believe her eyes.

"An illusion! Right! It must be an illusion!"

"There must be an illusory formation here!"

She mumbled and slapped herself hard.

However, the scene in front of him did not change.

In the pale mist, the white-robed figure lifted the leg of the person behind her. She raised her head and looked over. That face was all too familiar.

Could this be true?

However, this was too ridiculous!

Was this guy who had ambushed them really the number one genius of the Holy region who had stepped on the divine Spirit Mountain, destroyed everything, and pushed down the invincible Holy region? the man who was famous in the Holy region and worshipped by countless people?

She couldn't believe it and found it hard to accept.

"It must be a coincidence. Yes, it's a coincidence. They just look alike!"

After being stunned for a long time, she comforted herself.

However, at this moment, the young man in white scratched his head awkwardly and laughed, "Aiya! It's Daoist Ji!"

Hearing the familiar voice, Ji xuanmei was stunned again.

She was about to break down!

It really was him!

This guy who had hidden here and sneaked an attack on others was really the unrivaled and overbearing man who dominated the Holy region!

This F * cking contrast was too great!

She could not accept it at all.

Looking at the person in front of her, she felt that her world was about to collapse.

What was wrong with this man?

Wasn't he supposed to be the cool and domineering type? why was he doing such a sinister and despicable thing now? it was the complete opposite of his temperament!

She stood rooted to the ground, completely lost.

She felt that she could not see this man clearly anymore!

"What a coincidence!"

Tang Hao stood there awkwardly. He did not expect to be found out, especially by someone he knew!

He quickly let go and kicked the naked figure into the nearby ditch. He then wiped his hands and smiled awkwardly.

Coincidence, your sister!

Ji xuanmei resisted the urge to roll her eyes.

"What ... What are you doing?"

She asked.

"Collect the treasures!" "The world is so big," Tang Hao said."It's fate that we're able to meet each other! How about this, I'll give you half of the people here, you take half and I take half, what do you think?"

"Collect treasures?"

Ji xuanmei was stunned. What kind of treasures could these xiuzhe have?

This person's cultivation was even higher than hers. Even if these xiuzhe had real treasures, it would be useless to him!

"Don't look down on these people's low cultivation, only at the 7th tribulation or 8th tribulation, they might have good things on them! Even if one of them is real, it'll add up to a huge sum!"

"No matter what kind of treasure it is, high or low grade, it's still a treasure. We can't waste any of it!"

Tang Hao rambled on.

Ji xuanmei's mouth opened wide again as she listened.

She could no longer recognize the man in front of her.

“Fellow Daoist, I’ll take this side, you take that side!” Tang Hao raised his hand and cut the mountain in half. He pointed at the left side of the mountain and said,

“This ... There’s no need for that!”

Ji xuanmei waved her hand and smiled awkwardly.

She didn’t want to be like this guy and sneak attack people. She was the prologue of the Ji clan, someone with status. How could she do something that was beneath her status?

“I see!”

“Oh,” Tang Hao replied.

“You can go back to your work! I’ll go over there and take a look!”

Ji xuanmei turned around and was about to walk toward the light pillar.

That celestial artifact was her true goal.

“Al! Daoist Ji, wait a moment, don’t go there!” Tang Hao knew what she was up to.

“Eh? What’s wrong?”

Ji xuanmei’s figure paused as she turned around and asked in surprise.

Tang Hao scratched his head again and smiled awkwardly. “That celestial artifact ... It was me!”

Upon hearing this, Ji xuanmei’s mouth immediately opened wide, and her beautiful eyes gradually widened, full of disbelief.

For a long time, she stood there in a daze.

When she came back to her senses, her face twitched a few times, and she almost vomited blood.

F * ck!

“After all this, it turns out that this so-called celestial artifact was a trap set by you. This is too damn insidious, too despicable, and too shameless!” How on earth did you come up with this kind of method that can kill people without paying for it?

Y-y-you ... You’re a demon!

She glared at Tang Hao and roared in her heart.

“Daoist Ji, please don’t go! By the way, do you want to set up a similar game? it’s very useful. I have a lot of treasures here, why don’t I lend you a few? You can go to a place further away to get it!”

Tang Hao looked at her awkwardly.

She was simply too enchanting and charming. Under the influence of the six desires Heavenly Devil, her every move, every frown, and every smile exuded a Fatal Attraction to men. A single gaze from her could frighten a person's soul and make them completely sink into her.

He had seen many sexy and alluring women like her, and Tamamo was one of the best. Her seduction techniques were also at the peak, but she was still far from this woman.

Even though he had mastered the Dharma and wasn't affected by the six desires heavenly demon, his mind was still affected.

Moreover, because of that talent show, their relationship had become even more awkward, so he didn't know how to get along with her.

So, he thought of this idea to send her away.

As he spoke, he took out the dimensional ring that contained the many celestial artifacts, opened it, and poured the contents onto the ground.

Hualala!

A pile of treasures fell down. There were sabers, swords, and pots of all kinds.

As these treasures fell, they jingled and piled up into a small mountain.

Ji xuanmei looked over and didn't think much of it at first glance. It was just a pile of garbage. There was so much of it that it could be piled up into a small mountain. If it wasn't garbage, what was it?

But when she took a second look, she was stunned.

Her beautiful eyes were wide open as she stared at the small mountain.

"This, this, this ..."

Then, her delicate body started to shiver, and her expression was twisted as if she had seen a ghost.

A celestial artifact!

This pile of treasures was actually all celestial artifacts. Every single one of them was flowing with a brilliant divine splendor. There was an astonishing phenomenon that emerged, and wisps of true immortal aura permeated the air.

This was too unbelievable and shocking!

She had never seen so many celestial artifacts at once.

How could he have so many celestial artifacts?

What did he do? Did he Rob the immortal cave of a perfected golden immortal?

No, even a perfected golden immortal wouldn't have so many Immortal Weapons in his immortal's cave!

Then where did he get so many celestial artifacts from?

She looked at the celestial artifacts that were piled up like a small mountain, then looked up at the young man in white. She was in a daze.

"What do you think about this? How about this one?"

Tang Hao crouched down and picked up the immortal tools one by one, then showed them to her.

"Where ... Where did you get this?"

"Ah!" Ji xuanmei finally regained her senses after a long time and screamed.

Her body sank and she landed on the ground. She quickly rushed to the front and picked up the celestial artifacts one by one. She began to examine them as if she had gone crazy.
