

The Mightiest Little Peasant Chapter 2693

“The tomb of a demonic immortal?”

Tang Hao’s expression changed when he heard that.

A demonic immortal was a true immortal!

“That’s right!” Thearch golden scales nodded and said, “this place is known as the heavenly Demon Realm. It is one of the territories of the ancient demon race. Many demon Immortals have emerged here, and it is said that this fallen demon immortal suffered a fatal injury in a Great War in the ancient times. His injury worsened with each passing day, and it was irreversible. In the end, he passed away and formed this demon tomb.”

It should be the battle of Qiyuan!

Tang Hao said to himself.

“What kind of demon is it?” He asked.

“Stone demon!”

Thearch golden scales said.

“Stone demon?” Tang Hao was surprised. It was a rare demon.

“Let’s go and take a look first!”

Then, Tang Hao nodded and followed after venerable golden scales.

“There’s someone!”

After traveling for a while, he saw many beams of light in the void in front of him, and demonic Qi soared to the sky.

“They must have sensed my aura just now and came over to investigate!” Tang Hao said as he glanced at them.

His palm just now did not hold back his aura at all, and the demons nearby could sense it.

“What do we do?”

Venerable sovereign golden scales ‘expression was grave. These lights were also venerable sovereigns of the demon race.

“Kill him!”

Tang Hao said indifferently.

“But that will attract even more people!” The arch golden scales hesitated.

“No harm! That’s just what I want!”

Tang Hao’s figure flickered and he disappeared. When he reappeared, he was in front of the beams of light.

“Who are you?”

“Immortal Qi! He’s that human!”

The lights stopped moving, and a group of people appeared. They were shocked to see Tang Hao, and then they looked angry.

They had all rushed over because they had sensed the immortal Qi that had appeared nearby.

This was the heavenly Demon Realm, the territory of the demon race. Humans were not allowed to enter.

They raised their hands and were about to summon their treasures.

However, Tang Hao was faster than them. His body flashed like a ghost and appeared in front of a demon Thearch. Under the demon Thearch’s shocked gaze, he struck out with his palm.

Bang!

This palm hit his chest.

The Golden robe exploded like it was made of paper. Then, his chest caved in and exploded.

The body of an 8th tribulation demon Thearch couldn’t withstand such overbearing power. His flesh and blood exploded inch by inch, and his divine soul was crushed into powder.

In an instant, the demon Thearch turned into dust.

The few people around him froze as if they were petrified.

Si si si!

In the next moment, they all gasped, their faces contorted with extreme shock and fear.

He had killed a Fey Thearch with one strike!

Such strength was truly too terrifying!

This guy's killing intent was even more terrifying. He was like an ancient god of death. Just one look at him could make people's scalps numb, their divine souls tremble, and their bodies feel bone-chilling coldness.

"Where did this human God of Slaughter come from?"

They wailed and turned to run.

In the face of such a God of Slaughter, none of them had any thoughts of fighting against vicious.

At this moment, there was only bone-deep fear in their hearts!

"Die!"

However, at this moment, an ice-cold murmur exploded in their ears. It shook their divine souls and made them feel dizzy.

Then, they vaguely sensed the sound of something breaking through the air.

After that, they could no longer feel anything.

Their bodies and divine souls were pierced through by the spear and were completely strangled.

"Let's go!"

Tang Hao put away their belongings and retracted his aura. He then beckoned to Paragon golden scales.

After a long while, Thearch golden scales came back to his senses and flew up.

The two of them swept forward for a moment, and a few more lights came. After a while, there were a few more.

From all directions, a few beams of light shot over.

"Good!"

Tang Hao looked around and said coldly.

This was exactly what he wanted.

His body trembled and he revealed his immortal Qi, but he didn't reveal it completely. He only suppressed his aura to the eighth tribulation realm. Once he revealed it completely, he would attract a large number of nine tribulation demon Venerables.

His target was only these 8th tribulation demon sovereigns. What he wanted was the things on their bodies.

"It's really a human!"

“Hmph! Audacious human, you dare to act so atrociously in my Demon Realm, you’re courting death!”

The monster venerable sovereigns shouted as they activated their treasures and attacked from afar.

Whoosh!

A black flying sword sliced through the air and came right at Tang Hao’s face.

Tang Hao’s eyes were cold. He raised his hand and caught the blade with two fingers.

Weng Weng Weng!

The flying sword trembled continuously between his fingers, but it could not break free.

In the distance, the demon Thearch who was controlling the flying sword was stunned.

With just two fingers, he withstood his full-force Sword?

Was he not dreaming?

What kind of monster was this human?

His eyes were wide open, filled with extreme shock.

“I’ll return it to you!”

Tang Hao pinched the sword with two fingers. The sword broke with a ‘ding’ sound. With a casual wave of his hand, he threw the broken blade out. With a whoosh, it pierced through the demon Thearch’s head, and blood splashed out.

Bang!

In the next moment, the head exploded from the power attached to the sword.

“Monster! He’s a monster!” By the time he was reborn, his expression was somewhat crazy. He shrieked, his tone full of fear.

The demon thearchs from all four directions were also horrified.

With just two fingers, he could break a sword. With a casual wave, he could blow up the head of a demon Thearch. This guy’s strength was ridiculously high and extremely frightening!

Many of the fey thearchs immediately gave up and turned to leave.

However, Tang Hao would not let them go. His body flickered and he chased after them. He could destroy them with one palm and one punch.

When the other demon thearchs saw this, they were scared out of their wits and also ran away.

Tang Hao caught up to them one by one and killed them.

He kept the items and continued to move forward with Thearch golden scales.

Along the way, he released a large amount of immortal Qi. In this world full of demons, he was too eye-catching. From time to time, demons would rush over, and after one wave died, there would be another wave. He just pushed through and killed all the demons along the way.

He didn't know how many he had killed, and he couldn't be bothered to count.

After an unknown amount of time, a demon venerable finally arrived. After exchanging a blow with him, he left in a hurry and never appeared again.

Ever since then, the number of demons that had swarmed over had greatly decreased, and it was getting lesser and lesser.

The news spread very quickly among the demon race. Most of the demon race already knew that a human God of Slaughter had come here. His divine power was shocking and extremely terrifying. He was even more demonic than the demon race. Even the demon venerable could not do anything to him and had to avoid him.

Once he encountered them, he had to run far away and never become their enemy!

Just like that, no more demons appeared in front of Tang Hao. At this time, Tang Hao and the Golden scales Thearch were already close to the tomb of the ancient demon immortal.
