

The Mightiest Little Peasant Chapter 2699

Tang Hao watched as the figure disappeared into the distance before he retracted his gaze.

As soon as he removed the fused state, his body trembled and he almost fell.

This battle was too tiring. He was like a lamp running out of oil. If it wasn't for the fact that his fusion with his true self had increased in the end and he had completely suppressed his opponent, the outcome of this battle would have been hard to say.

"The ancestral Dragon's divine eye! It's really powerful!"

He mumbled to himself, feeling a little scared.

If it was not for his true self, he would not have been a match for the old demon Huang Xie. This old demon was indeed the invincible demon Emperor from ancient times. His bloodline and divine eye were both at a heaven-defying level. That divine eye was definitely one of the most powerful divine abilities of the demon race.

"I didn't know that this old demon was so powerful!"

Thinking about how he had tricked this old monster several times in the past, he laughed again.

At that time, he didn't feel that this old monster was very powerful. He even went to the old monster's portable world and harvested all the monsters that he had cultivated, making the old monster so angry that he vomited blood. Now that he thought about it, he was really bold at that time.

"Hu!"

He heaved a sigh of relief, finally feeling a little better.

Then, he raised his head and looked at the sky in the distance. There were many demon venerable's divine senses entrenched there, and they were peeking in his direction.

Obviously, they had also come for the stone demon's Demon Heart.

"Let's go, let's go!"

"This human is not to be trifled with!"

The group of demon superiors retreated in a hurry when they saw Tang Hao's gaze.

That demon had the bloodline of the ancient ancestral Dragon and possessed a heaven-defying vertical pupil. However, he still couldn't beat this human. It could be seen how abnormal and monstrous this human was.

Usually, such a freak had a powerful master and could not be easily provoked!

Therefore, no matter how tempting the demon's heart was, they didn't dare to snatch it.

After they left, Tang Hao retracted his gaze and looked at the demon's heart not far away.

The demon's heart was still floating there, blooming with brilliant five-colored divine light. The battle between him and the old monster had not affected the demon's heart in the slightest.

This was normal. After all, this was the heart of a demon immortal.

Tang Hao walked toward Devil's heart.

He examined it carefully and could see that the demon's heart was not made of flesh and blood, but a stone heart. It was like a colorful divine stone with ten holes, representing the ten apertures realm.

"Ten apertures ... It's too hard to come by!"

Tang Hao mumbled. His eyes were burning.

The peak of the demon Heart was supposed to be nine apertures, but this stone demon had somehow opened one more aperture and reached the incredible realm of ten apertures.

One had to know that even the heaven and earth origin embryo, the best of the three origin embryos, only had nine apertures and eight holes.

"This is a demon's heart. It should have been for the little Phoenix, but it's also a stone heart. I don't think it's suitable for her, but it's more suitable for the origin avatar. After all, they're both stones. One is a demon cultivated from stone, while the other is a Holy Spirit born from a stone."

Tang Hao muttered to himself as he looked at the five-colored stone heart.

In the end, he decided to give the heart of ten apertures to his origin core.

An origin core was already very powerful, and with this ten apertures stone heart, one would be like a tiger that had grown wings, and their battle prowess would increase by several times.

"Then we'll keep it for him. When he's done with the alchemy, we'll be able to raise him to the ninth tribulation. We'll just give him half of the black ape's corpse and it'll be enough for him to advance."
Tang Hao mumbled.

The origin core avatar was the Holy Spirit of the heavens and earth. It was different from all other living beings. There were no obstacles to its improvement. As long as there were enough resources, it could increase its strength.

"I have use for this Demon Heart, so I'll take it!"

Tang Hao said to venerable sovereign golden scales, who was approaching.

“Alright!”

Thearch golden scales quickly replied.

“Oh! Right, you should try it first to see if it’s real. Just try it!”

Tang Hao was just about to collect the demon hearts when he suddenly remembered something. He slapped his head and said,”

“Hahaha! I almost forgot to remind you!”

Thearch golden scales laughed.

This was the spirit fantasy wonderland, and no one knew if the treasure was real or just an illusion.

However, he could try this Demon Heart to see if it was real.

He reached out and grabbed the demon Heart, trying to merge it into his body.

“It’s true. I can sense that this Demon Heart can be fused.” A moment later, Thearch golden scales opened his eyes and said.

“That’s good! These souls will be your compensation!”

Tang Hao smiled delightedly. He took out the few remnant souls he had captured earlier and gave them to venerable sovereign golden scales.

Thearch golden scales still wanted to decline, but he could not reject it and could only accept it.

He put away the Jade bottle that contained the soul and clapped his hands, his face full of satisfaction.

He had gained a lot from this trip. Many demonic cores and souls. After he got out and absorbed them all, his true spirit would grow by tens of thousands of feet and his combat strength would increase by a large margin.

Tang Hao took out a small box, put the demon Heart in it, and kept it.

He was also quite satisfied. This trip to the demon Realm had reaped a lot of rewards. On the way here, he had killed many eight tribulation demon emperors and collected a wave of treasures. There must be some real treasures among them.

After giving Daoist Jin Lin a few of the remnant souls of demon Immortals, he still has quite a few left.

After that, there was this ten-aperture exquisite Demon Heart, which was his biggest gain.

“It’s almost time, I should go!”

Tang Hao looked at venerable sovereign golden scales and said.

There was probably nothing left in this world to take. It was time to leave for the next world.

“Then I’ll be leaving too!”

The arch golden scales said after a moment of thought.

To him, this world wasn’t that safe, so it was better to leave.

“Good! I’ll see you after we leave!”

Tang Hao said as he cupped his hands.

Then, he took out a realm changing token, activated it, and stepped into the void channel.

The familiar void fluctuated. When Tang Hao opened his eyes and looked around, he found that he was in another world. He first activated his heavenly eye and looked around.

“Another middle world!”

He shook his head in disappointment.

This world was the same as the demon world. They were both Middle Worlds, and the most powerful ones were only at the ninth tribulation.

However, it was a good thing that this world was very chaotic, and a Great War had just broken out. The immortals and demons were killing each other, and they were having a great time.

“This is good!”

Tang Hao loved this kind of situation. The more people died, the more treasures he could pick up.

He had walked around the world. Wherever there was a fight, he would run to it and hide at the side to pick up the scraps. Sometimes, when he felt that the fight was not strong enough, he would add fuel to the fire and make the two sides fight more intense.

In this world, he even met a few fellow Daoists from the divine temple and greeted them.

After harvesting one round, he patted his butt and left, heading to the next world.

Every time he arrived at a world, he would first inquire about it. If there was any profit to be made, he would stay and harvest it. If there was no profit, he would leave directly and head to the next world.

Just like that, he traveled through more than ten worlds.
