

The Mightiest Little Peasant Chapter 2708

As the days passed, the Holy region became more and more lively.

During this period of time, four half-Supreme martial artists had successfully transcended their tribulations and become Supreme martial artists.

Two of them were prologue, the Ji clan's prologue and the Five Emperors 'dojo's prologue. The other two were ancient ten thousand Emperor-level old monsters. One was venerable seven kills, and the other was the patriarch of the Chen clan in the upper continent.

"I didn't expect that the two of them would advance first!"

The people of the world were somewhat emotional.

There were five sacred overlords, and the first two had disappeared for a long time. It was said that they were in seclusion, cultivating something, and there was no news of them breaking through. On the other hand, the Ji clan's five Emperor overlords had broken through first.

The Ji clan's overseer was the most surprising because she was the youngest overseer who had been given the title around the same time as Tang Bukong.

Tang Bukong's true spirit had not even reached 30000 meters, but this person had already passed the Tribulation and was far ahead of him.

The two old monsters 'advancement didn't attract much attention.

This was because it was quite normal.

However, as the two of them advanced, the status of their respective forces, such as the seven kills sect and the Chen clan of the upper continent, also rose.

The Chen clan of the upper continent had become a Supreme clan, on par with the Ji clan and the ye clan. The eight great clans of the Holy region had become nine great clans.

The seven kills sect was promoted to a Supreme sect, and the top forces in the Holy region were divided into five paths, nine clans, and one sect.

Every time someone was promoted, it would be lively for a while, but it would pass quickly. No one talked about it anymore. What they paid the most attention to was still the Haotian Daoist sect.

A few days ago, the Daoist Rite continent had already been opened, and Supreme Haotian had also announced that the Daoist Rite would be opened in a month's time. The date had been chosen.

Everyone was puzzled.

Up to now, they had not heard of any force being recruited to enter the Haotian Daoist sect. Then, how could this Daoist sect be opened?

When it opened, there would be a few big and small cats. Wouldn't that make people laugh their heads off?

That would be a joke!

"What Haotian Daoist sect? is he worthy of it? That gate of fortune, what kind of trash is that? at best, it's just a third-rate small faction!"

The Tang clan's overseer laughed in public several times.

And there were many such voices.

Of course, they respected Supreme Haotian, but they did not think much of this Haotian temple. They even despised it.

A month's time passed by in a flash.

That day was the day the Haotian Daoist sect opened.

Early in the morning, the light curtain that covered the entire Haotian continent had dispersed, revealing the true appearance of the continent. After that, countless auspicious lights rose in various parts of the continent, and bright fireworks bloomed. It was a lively scene.

Divine lights flew out from the three continents, the five paths, the nine clans, the sect, the floating islands, and the divine mountains in the Holy region, heading for the Haotian continent.

Most of them did not like the Haotian Daoist sect, but they still had to give face to Supreme Haotian. Naturally, they had to attend the sect-opening ceremony. Moreover, everyone had to be present, including the high-level officials.

Otherwise, it would not be good if he angered Supreme vast heaven.

In the current Holy region, he was the most famous and had the highest prestige. With a stomp of his foot, the entire Holy region would shake.

And this was not an exaggeration at all.

"This is the Haotian continent? Hmph! What a waste of such a good place!"

A true dragon warship sailed through the divine light.

At the bow of the ship, several figures stood.

The one in the lead was the patriarch of the Tang Clan, and behind him was Tang Bukong.

At this moment, Tang Bukong was looking at the continent in front of him with a face full of jealousy.

It was such an honor to open a dojo in the Holy region. Even the ancestors of the Tang Clan had not done it. None of the orthodoxies in the ancient times were qualified to open a dojo. Supreme dipamkara had only borrowed the light of the revival of Buddhism.

Yet this fellow had done it all by himself!

How could he not be jealous?

“No, don’t talk nonsense!”

The Tang ancestor turned around and snorted.

“Forefather, did I say something wrong? Even with your abilities, you can only open a clan. What right does he have to open a dojo and suppress you? This is so unfair!” “Who would think of our Tang family’s bloodline in the future?” Tang Bukong said angrily.

Behind him, many elders of the Tang Clan also looked indignant.

They did not like Tang Hao from the very beginning. Later on, this fellow had gone against their Tang Clan several times, defeated their clan’s prologue, and caused their clan to lose all face. This had made their loathing reach its peak.

Now that this guy had opened a dojo and completely suppressed their Tang Clan, they were naturally very unhappy.

The Tang ancestor’s face darkened and he shouted, “Don’t say these words again. His surname is Tang and he has the blood of our Tang family. Do you understand?”

“Forefather ...”

Tang Bukong was still indignant and wanted to argue.

However, when he saw the sharp gaze of the Tang Clan ancestor, he immediately shut up.

On the other side, there was also a big ship sailing toward the Haotian continent.

At the bow of the ship stood a group of figures, all of whom were exuding the Supreme immortal radiance. They were the Supremes of the untainted land.

One of them was the great void sovereign.

“This kid still has the face to open a training hall!”

Sovereign great void looked at the continent below and snorted angrily.

He was just a Supreme Being of the great void sect, and the great void sect was just a member of the chaos dojo. His current status was not even as good as this little brat!

“He even invited so many people and even sent the invitation to me. I really don’t know where he got his thick skin from. Is he not embarrassed enough with his few people? When you laugh out loud, don’t count me in!”

Sovereign Taixu sneered.

Supreme Thunder origin gave a bitter smile.

Of course, he knew that this person had a deep grudge with that kid.

“This kid ...”

He looked at the continent below and shook his head, feeling a little puzzled.

During this time, he had never heard that this kid had roped in any force. Therefore, this Haotian Daoist sect must have been filled in by the orthodoxy of the lower realm, the gate of fortune. And that gate of fortune was just a third-rate force.

In fact, it was not a big deal for that kid to do this. At most, everyone would laugh at him secretly. But now, he opened the mountain Gate with great fanfare and invited all the people of the Holy region over. Wasn’t he just asking for humiliation?

Not only Thunder origin Supreme, but the other Supremes on the ship also had strange expressions on their faces.

As they watched that piece of land getting closer and closer, their faces tensed up, afraid that they would lose control and laugh out loud.

Just like that, the warship arrived at Haotian continent and flew toward the highest peak in the center of the continent.

That place was the so-called great heaven peak, the center of this world.

“Eh? What’s that?”

When they got closer and looked at the divine mountain, they were attracted by the dazzling light at the peak of the divine mountain.

It was obviously the glow of a Supreme level!

“It’s that kid? That’s not right, that’s not from the Dao glimpse realm, it’s from the Dao condensation realm. Furthermore, it’s so glaring, how could it be like this!”

“It’s a tree!”

When the group of Supreme martial artists of the wilderness dojo took a closer look, they were all shocked.

Their eyes were wide open, and their faces were filled with shock and disbelief.

How could there be a Dao gathering realm tree on great heaven peak?

Moreover, they could feel the ancient and primitive Qi from the old tree from far away. There was also a shocking pressure that made their hearts palpitate.

It wasn't a simple tree. It was a Divine Tree that had lived for countless years and came from the prehistoric times!
