

The Mightiest Little Peasant Chapter 2716

“You’ve worked hard!”

Tang Hao smiled at his clone.

His clone had been in the spirit wheel for almost four years. According to the time inside, it had been more than 400 years.

“It’s not hard!”

The clone laughed.

He flicked his sleeve, and a token flew out. It was his portable medicine garden.

Tang Hao took it and put it away.

“This is for you!” He flicked his sleeve, and three beams of divine light flew out. One was a ring that contained the other half of the black ape’s flesh and blood, the other was a blood-red spear that was an immortal item, and the last one was a demon’s heart that was emitting a five-colored divine light.

“Woof! Good boy!”

Supreme Xuan Hong couldn’t help but be shocked.

A celestial artifact and a ten-acupores exquisite Demon Heart were both top-notch treasures. Presumably, the ring contained things of the same level!

“Thank you, fellow Daoist, for helping me!”

The clone caught it and laughed.

He grabbed the demon’s heart and pressed it against his chest.

The entire demon’s heart easily merged into his body. A moment later, Tang Hao heard a thud from the clone’s chest. The heart was already beating.

Every time it jumped, the aura of the clone would increase by a level.

His physical body seemed to have changed as well. His originally golden skin had become somewhat transparent and was suffused with a touch of faint five-colored brilliance.

“The heaven and earth origin core, the best of the three great origin cores, and a heaven-defying ten apertures stone heart! They’re a perfect match!”

Supreme Xuan Hong exclaimed in admiration.

The embryo of heaven and earth was already very powerful and was the Holy Spirit of heaven and earth. Now, with a ten-orifice stone heart, it was like adding wings to a Tiger. With that fairy weapon, his combat strength was unparalleled!

“Wait, What is this?”

When the ring was opened and the aura inside was released, Supreme martial artist Xuan Hong’s expression changed, revealing a look of horror.

Then, he saw the clone open its mouth and suck. Golden flesh and blood gushed out of the ring and were swallowed into its stomach.

The aura of the clone was rising at a terrifying speed.

“This ... This is ... The flesh and blood of a great beast!” Supreme Xuan Hong said in shock.

In less than 20 minutes, the flesh and blood in the ring were completely devoured, and the aura of the avatar, under the shocked gazes of Xuan Hong and fairy Yunrong, easily rushed to the ninth tribulation realm.

“This ... Is this the origin core avatar?”

Supreme Xuan Hong’s expression was a little dazed.

Of course, he had heard of the legend of the heaven and earth origin core and had some understanding of it. However, he could not help but be shocked when he saw it with his own eyes.

This kind of living being was simply too miraculous!

The advancement of one’s realm was as simple as eating and drinking. There were no obstacles at all.

This was the beloved child of heaven and earth!

The clone retracted his aura and reached out to grab the celestial artifact. He easily refined it and kept it.

“Let’s go!”

Tang Hao cupped his hands at Supreme Xuan Hong and bade him farewell. He then left the divine temple with his clone and Yun Rong.

The first thing he did when he returned to great heaven peak was to enter the herb garden.

This medicine garden was no longer the small medicine garden from before. After he had moved and transformed several times, the scale was already quite large. The realm was full of spirit medicines, all kinds of rare species, and the soil was top-grade immortal soil watered by immortal water.

“Hey! Heyyo!”

A petite figure was currently in the middle of a medicinal field, plowing the ground with all her might. Wasn't that baby Yun, who had turned into an immortal herb?

She had always been in the herb garden, helping to take care of it.

Tang Hao had given her some treasures that could help her cultivate. She had inherited the power of the old locust tree, so she was considered a plant demon.

He took the Jade bottle and planted the batch of rare spirit herbs he had obtained from the spirit fantasy immortal land. Then, he left the herb garden.

"Mixed element ... Jade bottle!"

Tang Hao caressed the Jade bottle in his hand. His eyes were burning.

This was a Celestial King-grade treasure!

He took a light breath and tried to immerse it in his mind to see if he could refine it.

When he first obtained it, he had tried it, but there was no reaction at all.

However, his cultivation level was low back then. Now that he was a Supreme martial artist, he might be able to obtain its recognition and refine it.

"Eh? It's that simple?"

Surprisingly, the entire process was very smooth and simple. Before he could react, his mind had already touched the core of the jade pendant and branded a mark. It could be considered refining.

"It seems like it's really a problem of cultivation!"

Tang Hao smiled wryly. He had not even reached the sage state back then.

He stepped out of the hall, activated the Jade bottle, and began to absorb the sun essence.

Sure enough, after refining it, the effect was different. The absorption speed was dozens of times faster. Soon, celestial water was condensed in the bottle. Upon closer inspection, compared to the previous celestial water, the color was richer and the aura was stronger.

"The speed is dozens of times faster, and the effect is more than three to four times stronger ..."

Tang Hao carefully sensed his surroundings.

The celestial water's medicinal effects had increased greatly.

"I won't plant any more herbs. I'll save them up and give them to senior locust tree so that he can recover to his peak first."

Tang Hao muttered to himself for a while, then arranged himself in a formation in front of the hall. He placed the Jade bottle inside and continued to absorb the sun essence.

“Let’s go, follow me to another place!”

After that, Tang Hao did not stop. He brought Yun Rong to the upper continent.

On the upper continent, there was a sect known as the tianmang sect.

This sect was not big, with only two venerable sovereigns. In the upper continent, this was only a mid-level standard. In addition, this sect was not very high-profile, so it was not well-known.

At that moment, two people walked in front of the gates of the tianmang sect. The one in front was a handsome young man in white, and the one behind him was a beautiful fairy in white, with a graceful figure and exquisite features.

The two of them walked along the rugged mountain road.

“There are still people who walk here these days?”

In front of the mountain Gate, the disciples who were guarding the gate were stunned when they saw it.

It had been a long time since he had seen a person walk over. These two couldn’t possibly be chicks who had just started cultivating, right?

Otherwise, when people from the lower continent heard that the forces there were not very good and were not as good as his forces in the upper continent, they did not dare to fly and chose to walk when they arrived in front of his forces in the upper continent.

As he muttered to himself, the two of them walked to the door.

“What business do you have with the tianmang sect? Are you here to join the tianmang sect?”

The gate-keeping disciple stepped forward and shouted.

Puchi!

The white-robed fairy maiden laughed.

“You ... What are you laughing at?” The disciple’s face sank and he rebuked unhappily.

“If my master dares to bow to me, will the tianmang sect dare to accept him?!” The white-robed fairy maiden laughed.

“Woof! What’s there to be afraid of? the skylight sect is the Overlord of this area. We have two venerable sovereigns in one sect, all of whom are unrivaled. Even if you are a venerable sovereign, we would dare to accept you!”

The disciple was angry and sneered.

What a joke! There was no one that the tianmang sect did not dare to accept. If this guy dared to worship them, why wouldn't they dare to accept him? they were just afraid that this guy would not meet the standards of the tianmang sect!

If they were not young geniuses, they would have to be advanced divine Lords to be qualified to enter the skylight sect.
