

The Mightiest Little Peasant Chapter 2812

At this moment, in the mainland of Yunzhou.

On a divine mountain that towered into the clouds like a sharp sword, a buzzing sound suddenly sounded, and a divine light shot into the sky.

In the hall at the peak of the mountain, a white-robed old man was looking at the divine light in front of him with a shocked expression.

Within the divine light, there was a small, pitch-black Cauldron.

Just now, this small cauldron had jumped out of his dimensional ring on its own and emitted such a brilliant divine light.

“This is ... Aotian treasure?”

The old man was stunned. Only then did he remember what this was.

This small cauldron had been in his heaven slaying sect for far too long. It had already been more than two thousand years, so long that he had almost forgotten about it.

“This cauldron jumped out on its own and caused such a phenomenon. Could it be that ... The last proud heaven’s treasure has come into being and has been activated?”

His expression changed, and his eyes were filled with excitement and a fiery light.

If that was the case, it meant that the entrance to the great Emperor’s treasure was about to open.

The heaven slaying sect had been waiting for this day for far too long.

“Hahaha!”

He laughed out loud and jumped up.

“The last proud treasure has appeared and the entrance will open soon. All true spirit stage elders and core disciples, gather quickly and follow me into the treasure.”

His voice was like a great Bell as he shouted in all directions.

In an instant, the entire world was shaken by his voice. On the endless sword peaks in all directions, the figures raised their heads and revealed shocked expressions.

The treasure of aotian?

Was it the treasure left behind by the ancient aotian Emperor?

Then, they became excited.

For thousands of years, the great Emperor's treasure had been the biggest mystery on Azure meteor star. Everyone was very curious about what kind of treasure Emperor Aotian had left in the treasure house.

Some said it was a peerless immortal artifact, and some said it was a peerless immortal pill. There were many different opinions.

However, because the last proud heaven's treasure had not appeared for a long time, no one knew about it.

Now, this mystery was finally going to be solved.

Soon, divine light rose from all directions of heaven slaying sect and headed towards the God of heaven mountain.

At the same time, in Leizhou, great sun Palace.

A divine light also shot into the sky from a Hall that was floating above the clouds and shining with the light of the sun.

"This is ... Aotian treasure?"

A middle-aged man with golden hair and golden eyes sat on a Golden Dragon bed. He opened his eyes and looked at the silver Seal floating in front of him.

At the bottom of the seal, there were the words "Aotian."

"It seems that the seventh treasure has appeared. The other treasures must have reacted and resonated with each other. Soon, the passage will be opened!" He mumbled to himself, a hint of joy in his eyes.

He had been thinking about the great Emperor's treasure for thousands of years. Today, he could finally get his wish.

Emperor Aotian was a peerless figure who once shook the entire immortal realm. How could the treasures left behind by such a figure be inferior?

"It's said that there are many tests in this treasure house set by Emperor Aotian. For safety's sake, let's call some young geniuses!"

He muttered to himself for a moment, then flicked his sleeve and shot out a jade talisman, heading down the mountain Gate.

A test left behind by such a senior was usually not a test of one's cultivation level, but rather one's talent and ability. Sometimes, it was the young geniuses who had the advantage and were more likely to obtain treasures.

In Yuzhou, Qingzhou ...

The same situation occurred in the four different super forces.

Cloud Sea, Ji family.

Tang Hao retracted his divine sense. He looked at the broken sword floating in front of him and was stunned.

This thing actually moved on its own!

“Is this ... Resonance?!”

He muttered after a careful observation.

It was obvious that this Broken Sword resonated with the other six.

He just didn't know if a map would be revealed later for him to find it himself, or if he would just open the passage.

He took a light breath and waited.

At this moment, many people on the island noticed the divine light and looked at it one after another. However, they did not dare to activate their divine eyes or divine consciousness to come forward and inquire. They looked at it for a while and then retracted their gazes.

The divine light came from the Holy ancestor's residence, so they didn't dare to offend it.

After a short while, the broken sword shook again, and a ripple suddenly appeared in the void, opening a dark passage.

Tang Hao raised an eyebrow when he saw that.

Go in directly?

This was simple and direct enough!

He stood up and walked in happily.

“This is ...?”

After passing through the passage, he was in another space. There was a golden platform under his feet, floating in the void. He looked up and saw a long golden staircase that extended upwards.

He could vaguely see a divine mountain at the end of the stairs, shining with bright divine light.

“It seems like the treasure is right there. And this flight of stairs is the test.”

Tang Hao glanced at it and understood.

He had experienced too many such trials and had seen all kinds of tricks.

“That’s right!”

At this moment, a chuckling sound suddenly came from his side.

A faint, translucent figure appeared from the side. It was a man in his forties. He was dressed in green and had a tall, strong figure. His face was dignified and he had an extremely overbearing and disdainful aura.

“Aotian Emperor?”

Tang Hao said after a quick glance.

This was a weak wisp of a soul, but it already had such an outstanding demeanor. One could imagine how peerless the real person’s demeanor was.

Only aotian Emperor could have such a temperament.

“Your eyes are quite accurate!”

The green-robed man laughed with his hands behind his back.

“I left this treasure behind before I ascended. I was born in Cangliu. Before I leave, I will leave something behind to give back to my old planet and benefit you.” He pointed at the divine mountain and said proudly.

“Ascend?”

Tang Hao was surprised when he heard that.

As for this guy’s feelings for his hometown, he didn’t care at all. In any case, he wasn’t born in the blue meteor star, so what did it have to do with him?

But the word ‘Ascension’ attracted his attention.

“That’s right! “When I returned to Cangliu and left this treasure, I was close to the last step. After crossing the last step, I would ascend and go to the celestial world!” The green-robed man said.

“The immortal world ...”

Tang Hao was surprised.

He frowned. This was the first time he had heard of the immortal world since he came to this world.

That’s right!

I've guessed that there were many true immortals among the group of rebels, and in the tens of thousands of years to come, there must have been many true immortals born. They certainly wouldn't stay in this starry sky. They might have created a new world, a world where true immortals gather.

He wondered if this immortal world was related to the Dragon count divine world, or if they were from the same world?

Tang Hao pondered this. He was extremely curious.

He didn't pursue the matter further. This was just a split soul, and there might not be any results even if he asked.
