

The Mightiest Little Peasant Chapter 2813

The green-robed man turned around and looked at Tang Hao. He smiled.

“The Dao glimpse stage! Not bad! If you continue like this, you’ll be able to take the last step and ascend to the immortal world sooner or later! Perhaps we can even meet in the immortal world!”

“Thank you for your kind words, senior!” Tang Hao cupped his hands and smiled.

“Oh right! Senior, let’s talk about the test first!”

Then, Tang Hao pointed at the stairs in front of him.

The green-robed man swept his gaze across the flight of stairs, revealing a somewhat smug expression.

“There are a total of seven such stairs. Look, there’s one over there, and there are more over there. They’re distributed in all four directions of this divine mountain. Those who come in from the seven passages will be assigned to the corresponding stairs.”

“I’ve set up many tests on these steps. Some test one’s comprehension, some test one’s profoundness in mantras, and some test one’s alchemy, craftsmanship, and so on. There are many kinds of tests, and the difficulty is also divided into many levels!”

“The level of difficulty corresponds to your age. You’re at least a thousand years old, right? that’s the last few levels of difficulty!”

The green-robed man said.

“By age?”

Tang Hao’s expression turned strange when he heard that.

“Yeah! This is the fairest way!” The green-robed man nodded.

“Shouldn’t it be based on cultivation level?”

Tang Hao said.

“No! Everyone’s talent was different, so how could it be divided according to realm? wasn’t this very unfair to some young geniuses? That’s why I’ve chosen to use age!” The green-robed man said.

“You’re afraid that you’ll lose face if you can’t compete with some young geniuses, aren’t you?” he said with a smile. You don’t have to worry about that. In my division, unless you’re a peerless genius that only appears once every few thousand years, you’ll have an advantage. Otherwise, everyone is the same.”

“Moreover, even if you’re one step slower and not the first to pass, you’ll still be rewarded.”

“Of course, the best things naturally belong to the first person to reach the divine mountain!”

“Is that so?”

Tang Hao’s expression became even stranger when he heard that.

“The people over there have come in, let’s start!”

At this moment, the green-robed man looked around and said.

Tang Hao looked around and saw that there were also people on the high platforms in the distance. Some of them only had a few dozen people, while others had more than a hundred people.

However, there seemed to be a formation on the stage, so he couldn’t see the specific appearance.

“There really are some young geniuses. They seem to be quite talented. You’ll have to work hard!”

The green-robed man turned around and said to Tang Hao.

“Come! Let’s start! As long as you step on it, this flight of stairs will be able to determine your age. Then, adjust the difficulty and walk all the way to the end, and you’ll be considered to have passed the test. ”

As he spoke, he pointed to the stairs in front of him.

“Oh!”

“Okay,” Tang Hao replied and walked over.

The corners of his mouth lifted slightly, and there was a strange smile.

When he reached the stairs, he lifted his foot and stepped on it. In an instant, the stairs under his feet shook and the color began to change. Finally, it stopped at silver.

The wisp of The Emperor’s Soul was stunned when it saw it.

He stared at the stairs, his eyes wide.

It was wrong!

This was completely wrong!

The silver level was the second level of difficulty. It was prepared for people between the ages of fifty and a hundred. The most powerful people at this level were probably only at the eighth tribulation! Furthermore, he was a peerless monster that was extremely rare.

This person was a genuine nine tribulations old monster. He had condensed a lot of Taoist connotation in his body and was at least a thousand-year-old old monster.

So, how could it be silver?

“Wait!”

He shouted when he saw that Tang Hao was about to step forward.

“What’s wrong?”

Tang Hao turned around and looked at him.

“Oh! It’s ... It’s fine. This thing needs to be walked twice to determine your age, so you have to walk it again.”

The Emperor’s Soul clone coughed.

It was a good thing that he was a soul. Otherwise, his face would have turned red by now.

The thing he had refined was actually broken. If word of this got out, wouldn’t he become a laughing stock?

“Oh!”

Tang Hao nodded and left.

The emperor’s split soul immediately began to check, but after checking inside and out, there was no problem! All the formations, restrictions, and talismans on the stairs were in perfect condition.

“What ... What’s going on?”

The great Emperor’s split soul was stunned.

“Um ... Can I go up now?”

“They’re all upstairs,” Tang Hao said in a low voice. As he spoke, he pointed to a high platform in the distance.

“Oh! Alright! Go up and take a look!”

The Emperor’s Soul clone laughed.

He felt that it must have been a small malfunction just now, and there would definitely be no problem this time.

Tang Hao smiled and stepped forward.

The color of the stairs began to change again. Black, silver, gold, then purple gold ... It rolled over and over again. Finally, under the dazed gaze of The Emperor’s Soul, it stopped at silver again.

The Emperor's Soul fragment's eyes widened when it saw the dazzling silver.

He was completely dumbfounded.

Motherf * cker!

Why was it silver again?

What the hell is this? It was broken twice in a row, it was too much of a scam!

He quickly cursed in his heart.

"How can it be broken? That's impossible! Could it be that it had been too long, so the problem occurred? It's possible. After all, it's been thousands of years!" The split soul touched its chin, frowning.

"What's wrong? Is there a problem, senior?"

Tang Hao looked at him and asked in surprise.

"This ... There might be a problem. This staircase seems to be broken." The split soul said in a low voice, feeling extremely embarrassed.

The thing he refined actually had a problem, this was a big blow to aotian's reputation!

"Then what do we do?"

Tang Hao said.

"This ... Let me think. I'll get the people over there to stop first." This split soul immediately contacted the other split souls on the other routes and shouted for them to stop.

"What's going on?"

On the four paths, the people from the major forces stopped in their tracks, their faces full of doubt.

"How about this, we'll go to the stairs over there, and you can go with them. Anyway, the test is separate, so it won't be a problem."

The split soul thought for a moment, then pointed to a high platform on the left.

"Alright!"

Tang Hao nodded happily. He didn't mind.

"Then let's go!"

The split soul nodded. In the next moment, the platform under its feet moved and flew toward the platform on the left. After a while, the two platforms were connected.

On this high platform, there was a group of cultivators wearing golden Daoist robes. The golden light on the Daoist robes was bright and dazzling. There were even golden Crow patterns on them. It was the great sun Palace of Leizhou.

“What? The stairs over there are broken?”

“This flight of stairs can be broken?”

They were all stunned by The Emperor’s Soul fragment’s explanation.

How could the test set by Emperor aotian be wrong?

“Come! You can come with them! It’ll be fine!”

The wisp of soul brought Tang Hao to the stairs and smiled.

However, in the next moment, as Tang Hao lifted his foot and landed on the stairs, the smile on his face froze. His eyes widened in disbelief.

Silver!

It was silver again!
