

The Mightiest Little Peasant Chapter 2881

“It’s a Star Crystal core!”

On the ground of the cave, in the middle of the Scarlet wall, Tang Hao found a large crystal.

He raised his hand, and the crystal flew over.

It was only the size of a fist, and its shape was irregular. It was obviously just a small fragment.

Soon, Ji Ruyin and the other two girls also found some fine crystal cores scattered all over the place.

They quickly searched the place and picked up everything.

Although these crystal cores were not of high grade, they were still extremely valuable. They were top-grade divine materials.

“Let’s go!”

Tang Hao led the way after they were done searching the area.

Soon, they found another stomach with a few crystal cores inside. Tang Hao also found some crystal-type divine materials, but he didn’t see any metal-type materials.

“It seems like the star Devourer beast doesn’t like crystals. It must have digested all the gold and iron materials!”

Tang Hao guessed.

As he went further, he found some more crystal-type materials, and he was even more certain of this idea.

“So many bones!”

He entered another part of his stomach and was surprised when he looked around.

There were many skeletons scattered in this stomach, and they were basically unformed. Most of them were only left with the hardest pieces of God’s bones. Most of them were ferocious beasts, but there were also a small number of human bones.

He took a few pieces of God’s bones and examined them.

The essence of the God’s bones had all been sucked dry, leaving only a hard piece of bone that was of no use.

“Let’s go!”

After scanning through the room, he did not find anything useful, so he continued to move forward.

“This beast is too powerful!”

Tang Hao smiled wryly after he searched a few more stomachs.

Other than Star Crystal cores and some crystal-type divine materials, there was almost nothing else in this place.

This star Devourer beast was too powerful. No matter what came in, it would be digested.

“I only hope that there are still some treasures in the stomach of the biggest one!”

He mumbled and increased his speed.

“There’s a sound up ahead. They should be here soon!”

After a long time, he finally heard someone’s voice in the distance.

After a short while, the four of them entered a vast space.

“Heavens!”

Ji Ruyin looked around, and her beautiful eyes widened in shock.

This space was unimaginably large, enough to store several Azure meteors.

And below this space was a vast expanse of broken stars, soaking in a sea of blood.

As the blood sea churned, the broken stars would also roll up, revealing gold and iron veins and immortal veins.

This was a star that had just been devoured and was still being digested.

Be it earth, metal, or immortal veins, everything on the planet was quickly absorbed by the blood sea, becoming nutrients for the star Devourer beast.

Tang Hao took a deep breath. He was shocked.

This scene was truly spectacular.

“Hurry up! Quickly find some immortal materials!”

In the distance, there were many xiuzhe that were moving around, investigating the blood sea.

Some of them couldn’t help but take the mineral veins on the broken star pieces.

They moved very carefully, suppressing their auras to the minimum, for fear of waking up the giant beast.

Tang Hao also went over and searched carefully.

Suddenly, someone exclaimed in a low voice.

Tang Hao immediately looked up and saw a group of people pouncing in the same direction. There was a blinding light in the sea of blood.

He glanced at it and didn’t fight for it.

He had already collected a lot of crystal cores along the way.

He was more interested in immortal materials.

“No! Even if there are immortal materials here, they would be covered by these Star Fragments. We have to go down and explore the bottom of the blood sea.”

After searching for a while, Tang Hao set his eyes on the bottom of the blood sea.

After putting the three women into a mobile immortal’s cave, his body sank and he entered.

He quickly went down and explored all the way.

The blood sea seemed to be endless. It was hundreds of times larger than the cloud Sea and it was extremely corrosive. It was difficult for divine sense to penetrate it. In order not to alarm the beast, he could not use any spells. He could only search through it like this.

“Eh? What is this aura?”

When he reached the bottom, he suddenly sensed the aura of an array.

This made him very confused. Where did this star Devourer beast get an array from?

He patrolled around and was about to investigate the location of the array when he suddenly sensed movement not far away. It seemed that there were people fighting, causing the water to shake.

“Fighting here, do you not want to live?”

Tang Hao mumbled.

Then, his eyes brightened. Something that could make people take the risk to fight for it must be a good treasure, maybe it really was an immortal material.

He immediately headed in that direction.

“That’s ... A huge piece of divine gold!”

Soon, he saw a golden stele at the bottom of the blood sea not far away. The aura that the stele emitted was actually of the immortal level.

What was even more incredible was that this wasn’t a celestial artifact, but an unrefined piece of pure celestial gold that had been cast into the shape of a stele.

What a luxury this was!

To ordinary true immortals, immortal materials were extremely precious. Who would use such a treasure to cast a stele?

He swept his gaze again and discovered that there were two people fighting intensely not far away. One of them was wearing a black treasured robe with the shape of a White Tiger tattooed on it. He had the appearance of a tall and strong old man with a head of white hair and a fierce and powerful aura around him.

This person was the Wu clan’s peak old monster that Tang Hao had seen when he entered.

The other person was wearing a purple robe with a Thunder Kirin tattooed on it. He looked like a middle-aged man, and even his eyes were purple, with a divine glow.

The two of them did not dare to release their auras and only used their fists to exchange blows. Even so, every time they exchanged blows, a huge shock wave would erupt, causing the blood sea to tumble continuously.

“Old man Zhou, get lost! I saw it first!”

After exchanging a few punches, the Wu clan’s ancestor was extremely angry as he shouted.

“Woof! You saw it first and it’s yours? Old man Wu, how can you be so naive!” The Zhou clan’s elder laughed.

“Then let’s split it evenly. That should be fine, right?”

The Wu clan’s ancestor was a little anxious.

If the commotion here were to spread and attract the other old monsters, it would be even more troublesome.

“Evenly split? How is that enough? I’ll take 70%, and you take 30%!” The Zhou clan elder shouted.

“You ... Old man Zhou, don’t go too far!” The Wu clan’s ancestor suppressed his anger and shouted.

As they spoke, the two exchanged a few more punches, causing the sea of blood to surge violently.

Tang Hao watched from the side for a while, then grinned and glided forward.

“Eh? Who’s there?”

Sensing him, the two old monsters who were fighting turned their heads in unison and looked over with their torch-like eyes.

“It’s this popinjay!”

After seeing it clearly, the two of them heaved a sigh of relief.

They had also noticed this foppish man when they were outside. He was not a threat.

“Seniors, take your time! Why don’t I hold on to this treasure for you guys first, and I’ll give it to whoever wins! What do you guys think?”

Tang Hao smiled at them. It was a bright smile.
