

The Mightiest Little Peasant Chapter 2892

“The planet of the Holy beast!”

In the main hall, Tang Hao opened his eyes. He was still holding a purple crystal in his hand.

From the steward’s words, he found out that the other party was from a planet called the sacred beast planet.

As for her specific identity, he didn’t know. The other party had also hidden her identity, and he only knew that she was a female cultivator.

He asked the manager to arrange for a meeting in seven days at the headquarters of the four treasures Pavilion on the sacred beast planet.

“The planet of the Holy beast is here ... It’s a little far, but we should be able to reach it at full speed.”

Tang Hao took out the star map and found the location of the sacred beast planet.

In the central region of the entire origin immortal domain.

This star was extremely famous in the entire celestial realm, almost as famous as the great all-embracing heaven.

This was because in the ancient times, true immortals had once lived on the sacred beast planet. The cultivation world was extremely prosperous. It was only after the establishment of the immortal world and the departure of all the true immortals on it that the sacred beast planet declined and was overtaken by the Daluo planet.

But even so, the cultivation world was still quite prosperous on the sacred beast planet, second only to the Daluo planet.

He got up and went out of the hall to find Chun Xuan, ru Yin, and the others. He gave each of them a scroll left behind by true Lord of many treasures and told them not to go out at will.

Then, he held a scroll in his hand and left the blood sea.

He was unimpeded along the way.

After leaving the star Devourer beast, he took out his Star Shuttle and activated it with all his might, heading towards the sacred beast planet.

He arrived at the Holy beast planet in six days.

“What a huge star!”

He stopped in the distance and looked at the star in front of him. He couldn't help but reveal a shocked expression.

The star devouring beast's body was already more than a hundred times the size of Cang Liu star, and this star was even bigger than the star devouring beast. It was indeed worthy of being the star where ancient true immortals had lived.

"The immortal Qi is also very dense!"

Upon entering the atmosphere, he could feel the rich immortal Qi blowing in his face.

"Could there be True Monarch duo Bao among those ancient true immortals?"

He pondered as he flew.

"The planet of the Holy beast ... This name is quite unique. After I'm done with the matter of the ring, I'm going to take a good look around this planet."

"The headquarters of the four treasures Pavilion ... Is here!"

He used the divine light in his eyes to scan the surroundings. He was able to figure out the position of the star and found the headquarters of the four treasures Pavilion.

Similar to the Azure meteor star, the headquarters of the four-treasure Pavilion was also in a city. Even the appearance of the building was similar. It was a tower made of gold and iron, towering into the clouds.

"Young master Tang!"

As soon as he landed on the pagoda, someone came out to greet him. It was the steward he had seen in the spiritual void realm.

"He hasn't arrived yet, has he?"

Tang Hao said.

"Not yet! The agreed time is tomorrow. I have already prepared a good cave for young master Tang to rest for a day. She will be here tomorrow." The manager said respectfully.

"Good! Oh right, prepare some information on this sacred beast planet for me. I want it in all aspects."

Tang Hao said.

"Don't worry, young master Tang!"

The manager replied.

To the four treasures Pavilion, it was an easy task to prepare some information.

Then, he led Tang Hao into the pagoda and into a cave abode.

Soon, he brought over piles of ancient books and Jade slips.

Tang Hao opened it and read through them.

“It really is!”

In an ancient book, he saw a name, True Monarch of many treasures!

Wasn't he that kind-hearted senior?

True Lord many treasures had once lived on this planet for a long time. According to the ancient books, this senior was full of treasures. He especially liked to refine and collect treasures. He was a treasure maniac!

That was why he called himself True Monarch of many treasures.

“This senior is an amazing person! It's just a pity that he became a rebel!”

Tang Hao sighed.

This true Lord of many treasures was undoubtedly one of the group of true immortals who had rebelled in the past.

“This senior's character might not be that great, but his treasures are pretty good. Besides that piece of divine gold, he might have left some other treasures somewhere else. I have to search for them carefully and not let them go.”

Tang Hao's heart burned as he thought about it.

The treasures left behind by a true immortal were naturally all good things.

He then called the steward over and asked him to collect some information about True Monarch many treasures.

By the time he had looked through all the resources and analyzed them, a day had passed.

“Young master Tang, she's here!”

At noon, the steward came over and rang the silver bell in front of his cave.

Tang Hao put away the documents, then followed him out the door.

Soon, they arrived at a door.

“It's inside, please go in!” The steward turned to the side and pointed to the door.

Tang Hao nodded and pushed the door open.

It was an ordinary room, and the light was a little dim. He looked up and saw a man sitting inside with his back facing him. He was wearing a black robe that covered his entire body.

However, he could still vaguely see that because she was sitting, the outline of her two round curves and her full waist and buttocks were somewhat shocking.

“It really is a woman!”

Tang Hao raised an eyebrow.

I’d like to see what kind of conditions she has!

He stepped forward happily and entered the room.

Inside the room, the woman heard the commotion and turned around.

She was wearing a black robe and a Black Veil that covered her face, revealing a pair of clear eyes.

Tang Hao didn’t try to find out what she looked like under the veil. He wasn’t interested.

He walked over and sat down opposite her.””Fellow Daoist, take out your ring and let me have a look. Don’t worry, this is the four treasures Pavilion. I won’t snatch it.”

“I’m naturally not worried about that!”

The black-robed woman said. Her voice was mature and magnetic.

As he spoke, he raised his hand.

She opened her snow-white hand and revealed a ring. It was his immortal execution king ring.

Sensing it again, the imprint on it was still intact and had not been opened.

“Not bad! It’s this ring!”

Tang Hao said.

“May I ask if this ring is your own?” The black-robed woman continued.

“Naturally!”

“I’d like to ask, where did you get this ring?” Tang Hao asked.

The black-robed woman chuckled and said,”I got it from a few Rascals I killed. I was surprised at first. I didn’t expect them to have such a high-level ring.”

“To be honest, I have tried to open this ring, but I didn’t succeed. I put it aside and almost forgot about it. I only remembered it when I saw the reward from the four treasures Pavilion.”

“Then tell me, what are your conditions for you to agree to hand over the ring?”

Tang Hao said.

The black-robed woman immediately fell silent.

Her bright eyes kept sizing him up, as if she was considering something.

Finally, she seemed to have made a decision and said, “I don’t want any treasures. I just want you to do me a favor. For the next period of time, pretend to be my Dao companion!”

“What ... What?”

Tang Hao was dumbfounded when he heard that.
