

The Mightiest Little Peasant Chapter 2951

“Eight Dao attainment? How can it be eight paths?”

The Tang clan’s patriarch sat on the ground in a daze, his face dazed.

He couldn’t believe that this little girl’s cultivation had already reached the eight Dao attainment level and had surpassed him, an old monster!

“What ... What is your cultivation level?”

He looked at Tang Hao again and screamed.

If even a maidservant had a cultivation base of eight Dao attainment, then this guy must be even stronger!

He had miscalculated!

This guy had probably recovered long ago. Moreover, his strength had been greatly improved, and he was even stronger than when he was at his peak.

At that time, this kid only had a strong physical body and his cultivation was just at the Dao glimpse realm. Now, he must have surpassed eight Dao attainment and reached nine or even ten Dao attainment.

“It’s only about 200 Dao attainment!”

Tang Hao said indifferently.

The Tang patriarch was stunned as if he had been struck by lightning.

Only ... Two hundred?

F * ck!

You must be joking!

How could a person who hadn’t broken through to the celestial realm refine more than 200 Dao beads?

This sounded ridiculous!

However, he had no choice but to believe him, because this kid had no reason to lie to him!

Everyone was also stunned.

Those nine tribulations Supreme martial artists were especially shocked, because they knew what more than 200 Dao attainment pills meant!

“This ... This is unbelievable!”

” 200 Dao attainment levels ... How is that possible!”

When they came back to their senses, they all cried out in shock, their faces full of disbelief.

“You, still want to continue fighting?”

Tang Hao glared at the Tang clan’s old ancestor and said.

The Tang clan’s patriarch opened his mouth but was speechless.

He sat there with his shoulders drooped, looking a little dispirited.

What’s the point of fighting!

Even his servant had eight Dao attainment, and this kid’s cultivation had reached the heaven-defying level of more than 200 Dao attainment. How could they fight? Wasn’t this just asking to be humiliated?

“Al!”

He sighed heavily, his face bitter.

He had thought that he and the Tang Clan were strong enough to gradually develop the ambition to replace the divine temple and dominate Pangu. But he did not expect that it was just a joke!

This brat only had a maidservant by his side, but she had already beaten him back to his original form.

“Go! Let’s go!”

A moment later, he stood up and walked away with his head lowered, not daring to meet the eyes of the crowd.

The Tang family members were also dejected as they followed him.

“Hahaha! That’s great!”

Seeing them run away like they were escaping, everyone cheered.

“I knew it, kid, you’re lucky. It’ll be fine!”

Elder lingqing led the people from the divine temple up and said excitedly.

“Is he alright? Was what you said just now true?” Then, he looked at Tang Hao and asked.

“Fellow Daoist!”

People from various orthodoxies and races also came up.

Tang Hao glanced around and saw many familiar faces, such as Emperor Xi and the one from the ye clan. However, he had not met some of them yet. After asking around, he found out that a few of them had died, while the others were seriously injured and were still in seclusion.

“I see!”

Tang Hao sighed.

In that battle, although he had turned the tide and reversed the situation, Pangu world had still suffered great losses.

“Don’t worry, your Haotian Daoist sect didn’t suffer any major losses. You have the protection of that senior locust tree. As for our master, his situation is not very optimistic. He barely managed to hang on to his life!”

Elder lingqing sighed.

“Is there any possibility of recovery?”

Tang Hao said.

“There is, but only true immortals can do it. Because there is the power of a true God in master’s body, neither you nor I can move. Even if you have more than 200 Dao attainment now, you still can’t do it without becoming a true immortal.”

Elder Ling Qing said.

“A true immortal! That’s not far! Our Pangu will soon become an immortal!”

Tang Hao said with a smile as he looked up at the sky.

However, he suddenly thought that this place was enveloped by a great formation and isolated from the outside world. If he knocked on the gate of immortality here, he would definitely not be discovered by the so-called immortal world outside and would have to ascend.

He had a lot of Dao attainment and immortal materials, he could create a few Immortals to guard this world.

That way, he would be able to leave without worry.

As for himself, he didn’t want to advance here, because if he did, he wouldn’t be able to ascend to the immortal world.

If he wanted to improve himself further and reach a higher realm, he still had to go to the immortal world.

“Oh! That’s true!”

Elder Ling Qing was stunned for a moment, but she quickly understood what Tang Hao meant.

Dao attainment could be bestowed. In that case, his more than 200 Dao attainment could indeed create many Immortals.

“What are you going to do?”

Elder Ling Qing said solemnly.

The creation of a true immortal was no small matter.

“How about this! The Haotian temple will send three, the sacred Hall will send three, and then the other forces will send three. Nine genuine Immortals will be enough to protect Pangu.” Tang Hao said after some thought.

“However, I have to make it clear first. Once you choose to break through to the immortal realm here, you won’t be able to go to the outer Realm Immortal realm. You’ll have to guard this place forever, to protect Pangu.” Tang Hao said after a pause.

Then, he explained the situation in the outer space.

“The starry sky outside is so vast!”

When the cultivators heard this, they were all amazed.

“Nine true immortals. As for the candidates, we’ll have to make a good selection.” Elder Ling Qing said.

“I’ll choose the three on my side. As for the others, you can discuss among yourselves! Oh! Oh right, where’s Dao seven, no, Daoist Luo?”

Tang Hao suddenly thought of the mysterious Dao Qi.

“I don’t know where he went after the battle.” Elder Ling Qing said.

“Then what about longevity Supreme and senior Ying long?”

“Senior Ying long is in Kunwu. Where’s Supreme longevity? he went back to Pangu world, and the others have left.”

“Oh,” Tang Hao replied.

“Go and sit in the hall!”

Elder lingqing beckoned for the crowd and led them into the hall.

In the hall, Tang Hao had a good discussion with the others about the development plan of Pangu world.

After a whole day of discussion, they finally came up with a rough plan.

When everyone left, their expressions were extremely excited.

They all saw the hope of Pangu's revival. As long as he could make good use of the starry sky outside, he would be able to continue to grow stronger and completely revive. With the formation that protected Pangu world, he would no longer have to fear the nine-colored God race.

At this time, the news of his return had already spread throughout the Holy region and shocked all the forces. From the continents of the major Daoist sects to the continents of the upper, middle, and lower three layers, everyone was in an uproar.

"The chief sovereign has returned!"

"He's not only fine, but he's also become stronger and more heaven-defying. A little girl by his side beat up the recently awesome patriarch of the Tang Clan and then left with his tail between his legs! The Tang Clan is a joke!"

"F * ck! It's that awesome?"

"Hey! If he's not awesome, he's still our ruler of the vast heaven!"

Everyone in the Holy region was discussing this matter. Countless people rushed out from all directions and headed in the direction of the divine temple.

They were going to see this ruler of vast heaven and welcome him back.
