

The Mightiest Little Peasant Chapter 3011

At the top of the clouds, in a resplendent Palace.

A white-robed old man with a Sage-like demeanor suddenly opened his eyes.

In front of him, the void rippled and a jade talisman flew out.

“Again! I already said, I’m not going!”

He mumbled, feeling a little impatient.

He didn’t want to touch a mission that even shadowless failed. If he failed too, he would lose face.

“What? Shadowless was being hunted? He even asked for help?”

When he opened the Jade talisman, he found it hard to believe.

He knew shadowless’s power very well. He was one of the most powerful assassins in red dust assassin. He was good at hiding and had never failed before.

“That guild leader Hao Tian and those loose Immortals are actually so terrifying?”

He mumbled in shock.

Of course, there were many powerful figures in the group such as Jin Guang and Shui Yue but they were weak in terms of god art. He didn’t believe that these loose Immortals could force shadowless to this extent.

“Could it be that the Haotian faction has recently recruited some powerful figure? Fortunately, I didn’t take it, or I’d be dead too!”

He was even more afraid.

“However, since The Kill Order has been issued, I have to make my move!”

He frowned slightly and stood up.

A red dust Killer like him could have many identities. He could be an elder of a sect, or an elder of a family. Of course, he could also be the leader of a force.

Usually, they were free to take on any task they wanted. They could accept it or not.

However, once such an all-kill order was issued, they had no choice but to take action.

"I remember that such an all-kill order hasn't appeared for thousands of years. I didn't expect that a small earth immortal could draw out one!" "I'm not afraid," he mumbled. His figure flickered, and he disappeared from his spot.

"Kill order? What a good fellow!"

"This Haotian faction has some ability! You can force shadowless to this state!"

At the same time, many people in various parts of the spirit Toad continent received Jade talismans.

They changed their faces and auras, turning into red dust Killer and chased after shadowless.

"They're just a group of loose Immortals!"

"Once the kill-all order is issued, all the red dust assassins will be mobilized. As long as we kill that fellow, everything will be over!"

They all looked relaxed.

One shadowless couldn't kill that guy but a dozen plus other assassins in red dust were more than enough to kill him.

This all-kill order would be completed very soon.

"I saw it, Hmph! Do you think I can't kill you just because you're hiding in the crowd? With my sky-stealing sun-switching painting, killing you will be a piece of cake!"

Soon, an assassin arrived.

From afar, he activated his divine eyes and saw the group of itinerant Immortals.

They were chasing a person in front of them. His immortal robe was tattered and his hair was disheveled. He looked like a beggar. It was hard to believe that this was shadowless, a famous figure in the mortal world.

He also saw the target surrounded by the group of loose Immortals.

He snorted, his eyes filled with disdain.

If this guy was hiding in the array, he would be helpless. But now, he could easily take care of this guy.

He flicked his sleeve, and a scroll flew out. It was shrouded in a shocking immortal radiance.

Whoosh!

The scroll unfurled and turned into a picture. With a flash of light, an image appeared on it, and within it was the group of people in the distance.

He stared at the person in the middle, and the corners of his mouth lifted slightly, revealing a sinister smile.

His sky-stealing sun-switching painting was an ancient treasure and also his most powerful treasure. As long as the painting was unfurled, no matter how far away it was, he could easily grab someone with a stretch of his hand.

“Come on!”

He sneered and reached out his hand to grab the person in the picture.

“Eh? What is this aura?”

At this moment, Tang Hao, who was surrounded by a group of itinerant immortal powerhouses, was suddenly shocked. He sensed the changes in the void around him. An extremely powerful force was twisting the void and grabbing him, trying to pull him in.

“Not good!”

He immediately realized that someone was using a powerful Divine Art to capture him.

This person was also here to kill him, and he was probably a heaven immortal.

Once he was caught, he would be in deep trouble.

“I can only use the divine mountain!”

With a thought, he immediately activated the divine mountain in his body.

In his sea of the Dao, in the sky above the immortal abode, a purple divine mountain shook violently. Immediately, a circle of ripples spread out from his body.

The void power around him was immediately reduced by half.

“What’s going on?”

In the distance, the assassin was shocked when he noticed the change.

He was a little shocked. That guy was just a mere earthly immortal. How could he block the Super power of a celestial immortal? what’s more, he was using an ancient treasure, which was extremely powerful.

After a short moment of surprise, he came back to his senses and continued to activate the treasure map, grabbing it.

But at this time, the itinerant immortal experts around Tang Hao all came back to their senses and made their moves.

“Let’s go!”

Monk golden light was the first to arrive. He struck out with his palm and shattered the spatial energy. Then, he grabbed Tang Hao and dragged him to the side.

The others activated their divine eyes and spell techniques to scan the surroundings and immediately found the killer.

“Not good!”

The Assassin’s expression changed when he saw this. He kept the treasure map and disappeared into the void.

“I know him, his codename is sky thieving. He’s one of the top assassins in the world of mortals, similar to shadowless. He has an extremely powerful magic treasure that can catch people from a distance. As long as one’s cultivation is weaker than him, they won’t be able to escape.”

Daoist watermoon said.

She glanced at Tang Hao in shock.

Even an early heaven immortal would fall for that treasure and be suppressed to the point where they couldn’t put up any resistance. Then, they would be easily captured. However, it actually didn’t work on this person.

This meant that either this person’s cultivation base was extremely high, at least mid-stage heaven immortal, or he had some extremely powerful treasure on him!

However, she quickly looked away.

President Shi’s background was quite mysterious, and he had an even more mysterious master Hao Tian behind him. Moreover, his ability was extraordinary. In just a few months, he had created such a large Chamber of Commerce, so how could he not have some secrets?

It was better not to delve into this kind of thing.

“He runs really fast!”

Monk golden light cursed as he swept his gaze over.

What sky thieving, what shadowless, they only knew how to run, one running faster than the other.

“The appearance of the pilfered heaven means that red dust has sent people here again. He wants to fight us to the end!” Daoist watermoon said with a grave expression.

Red dust was a well-known assassin organization with many members. If a few more came, it would be troublesome.
