

The Mightiest Little Peasant Chapter 3012

“Yup!”

Everyone’s hearts also became heavy.

Many of them had heard of red dust’s reputation. Most of the members had powerful divine abilities, and some of them were very mysterious and difficult to guard against.

Under the assault of so many assassins, they might not be able to protect guild leader Shi.

“Why don’t we go back?”

Someone said.

After chasing him for so long, they had achieved their goal of establishing their might. If they continued to fight and hurt President Shi, it would not be worth it.

“I think so too. Let’s go back first. We don’t have to be afraid of them in our territory!”

Daoist watermoon said with a nod.

“Alright!”

Monk golden light also nodded in agreement.

“There’s no need for that! He has many people in the world of mortals, but our Haotian faction also has many people. Haven’t we recently recruited a lot of Masters? gather them all!” Tang Hao said, shaking his head.

His expression was a little gloomy. Hong Chen had sent people to kill him twice. How could he let this go so easily?

“Also, immediately issue a reward in the name of the Haotian society. Anyone who comes to help deal with the red dust assassin will be rewarded 100000 Yuan. If one is injured, one million Yuan. If one is killed, one hundred million Yuan!” He said.

“A ... A hundred million?”

When everyone heard this, they were all stunned.

This number was a little too crazy!

“Guild leader Shi ... This ...” Daoist Water Moon was left speechless.

“Let’s do it this way. Whoever kills one of them will have everything on him. In addition, he’ll be rewarded with 100 million Yuan. Of course, you can do the same!” Tang Hao said in a deep voice.

Gulu!

Everyone swallowed their saliva in unison, and their eyes turned red.

100 million Yuan!

How long would they have to earn?

Although they knew how difficult it was to kill a red dust assassin, it didn't stop them from being tempted. What if they killed one? Then I'm rich! Even if he couldn't kill them, he could still get a million Yuan in reward if he injured one of them!

"This is going to be interesting!"

Daoist shuiyue came back to his senses and laughed bitterly.

Once this bounty was out, the entire spirit Toad continent would probably be in an uproar and it would become very lively.

Whoosh!

A jade talisman flew out of Tang Hao's hand and disappeared into the void.

Soon, all the representatives of Haotian faction in spirit Toad continent, as well as the guest powerhouses, received a piece of news.

"Someone is trying to kill the president! Hurry up and post the bounty!"

"Hurry up! Hurry up and help!"

All the representatives hurriedly sent out the bounty orders, and all the guest Masters rushed to the scene of the incident.

The Haotian Association was generous enough and was their financial backer now. If the red dust assassins wanted to kill President Shi, they would be cutting off their source of income. As the saying went, cutting off one's source of income was like killing one's parents. This was a big enmity.

"What? Would Haotian fight with hongchen? As long as we go over, we can get 100000 Yuan, a million Yuan for each person we injure, and 100 ... 100 million Yuan for each person we kill?"

When the bounty was issued, all parties in spirit Toad continent were in an uproar.

Many of them had heard of the assassin group, red dust. It was a very mysterious organization. They did not expect that they would fight with the Haotian Club today. It seemed that they were going to fight to the death, which really surprised them.

Who was it that had the power to invite the entire world of mortals to deal with the Haotian faction?

The generous reward offered by the Haotian club made them even more envious.

If he went over to help, he could get 100000 Yuan. This money was quite easy to earn!

“Let’s go! Go join in the fun and get some money, where can you find such a good thing!”

At that moment, many people started to move.

Of course, not everyone dared to go. After all, the red dust World was very famous and only late earth immortal and heaven immortal experts dared to go.

“What? Did the red dust World and the Haotian faction fight? They even issued an all-kill order to kill the clear sky Association’s President. Are they out of their minds?”

This news naturally spread to several other organizations in the assassin world.

They were all a little dumbfounded.

As far as they knew, the president of the Haotian faction was also a mid-stage earth immortal. Although he had many strong men with him, it was not difficult to kill him with the strength of Hong Chen. He could just send a few powerful ones. Why did he need to issue a kill-all order?

“The president of the clear sky Association is also very stubborn. He directly issued a bounty of 100 million! This was crazy! Both sides must be crazy!”

They were even more shocked by the Haotian faction’s reaction.

A newly-established Chamber of Commerce dared to confront an ancient assassin organization like red dust head-on. They were really bold!

Also, this bounty was quite bold.

“Hahaha! This is going to be interesting!”

“This is a good opportunity! Why don’t we go and join in the fun? if we kill one, won’t we get a hundred million? Even if we can’t kill them, with our strength, it won’t be a problem to injure one of them. We’ll easily get a million!”

Some were gloating, while some were tempted.

As an assassin organization, they also had competition. Now that their opponent was in trouble, they naturally had to take the opportunity to step on it.

At that moment, many assassins who were hidden in various places appeared one after another and left with the large group.

“We’ve finally arrived! It’s that guy!”

A ripple appeared in the void, and a black-robed man appeared. He swept his gaze across the distance and saw his target.

“He’s just an earth immortal. What’s so difficult about killing him?”

He snorted coldly. With a sway of his body, he merged into the void.

He was most skilled in void techniques. He could travel in the void without leaking any aura. This was also the most ancient assassination technique.

No matter if it was those itinerant heaven Immortals or that puny earth immortal, it was impossible for them to discover him.

By the time he was discovered, that guy was already dead.

He walked forward, and soon, he was close to his target.

At this moment, the target suddenly turned around and looked at the void in his direction. In his hand, there was a Golden Pearl that was trembling slightly and emitting a piercing divine light.

“What’s that?”

He was stunned.

“Not good!”

The next moment, his expression changed drastically, and he wanted to retreat.

However, it was already too late. The heaven Immortals and rogue cultivators from all four directions had received that guy’s instructions. They all attacked at the same time, blasting towards the void where he was.

In an instant, the void distorted, and he was thrown out.

“I’ve underestimated this guy!”

He was a little remorseful.

He had never thought that this puny earth level deity would have such a powerful treasure that could see through his void concealment technique.

“Let’s go!”

His aura burst out and he rushed out.

“Where do you think you’re going!”

Monk golden light and the others roared and charged forward as if they had been injected with chicken blood.

“Look, it’s Red dust’s assassins!”

“Hurry up! Let’s go!”

In the distance, another group of people rushed over. When they saw him, they all shouted excitedly, as if they had seen some peerless treasure. Their eyes were red.

“What the hell is going on?”

The assassin was stunned when he saw that.

Were these people crazy? Why were they all so excited to see him?
