

The Mightiest Little Peasant Chapter 3067

“They’re up again!”

“This is already the fifth time!”

When the immortal list appeared again, the world was much calmer.

They even had an illusion that the immortal bestowment board was nothing more than this!

“Five times on the ranking of craftsmanship. Master Haotian is the only one in history who has made such an achievement. In my opinion, let’s not talk about cultivation. In terms of craftsmanship alone, master is definitely the number one in today’s craftsmanship. It’s not an exaggeration to call him a Supreme.”

“Yup! No one in the world can match Grandmaster’s craftsmanship. ”

In the eyes of the world, the mysterious master Haotian had become the number one master of craftsmanship. His prestige was unparalleled.

“I’ve finally finished refining!”

On Dragon Mountain, Tang Hao had completed the last immortal weapon.

At this time, more than four months had passed.

Three of the more than one thousand celestial artifacts were on the ranking list. Tang Hao was quite satisfied with this result.

He gave all the celestial artifacts to Taoist Chang Chun and asked him to contact the other forces to get the treasures.

As for the requests of the major forces to see Grandmaster, he rejected them all.

If these forces were to come, it would definitely be a golden immortal old monster who would come personally. And with his current situation, it was not suitable for him to meet with a golden immortal old monster.

“There are quite a lot of immortal materials. If I want to refine, I can already do it. However, I still feel like I’m lacking a little.”

Tang Hao muttered to himself as he counted his immortal material collection.

“Let’s wait a little longer! Also, we have to go to the absolute beginning land to take a look. I heard that there are many ancient immortal materials and ores there. ”

He pondered.

Since he was going to refine it, he naturally had to refine the best, he had to collect more and better immortal materials.

In the next half a month, he was busy refining weapons, making wine, and even went to the major Chambers of Commerce to buy a large amount of Dao attainment.

The cultivation of Chun Xuan and Qiu Ci was already close to the late earth immortal realm.

At this level, Tang Hao was at ease to let them stay on Dragon Mountain with his clone.

He set off after asking about the situation in the absolute beginning land.

After five days, he had arrived at the entrance to the land of absolute beginning, the ancient city of absolute beginning.

The ancient city was in a remote location at the junction of several major continents. There was no teleportation formation to connect it, so Tang Hao had flown all the way there.

“This ... What a Broken City!”

When he arrived, he was stunned.

What appeared in front of him was not a resplendent and majestic Immortal City, but a dark and somewhat dilapidated old city that looked extremely shabby.

Moreover, this city was not large, even smaller than Nantian city.

It was pitch-black around the ancient city. The chaotic void extended downward, so deep that the bottom couldn't be seen.

Tang Hao looked around and figured out the location of the absolute beginning land.

All the continents in the immortal world were independent continents, and there were cracks between them. This place happened to be the junction of several continents, and through this crack, one could go down to the land of absolute beginning.

“Let's go in and take a look!”

His body moved, and he happily flew toward the ancient city.

The city was quite lively. There were many shops and many Immortals walking on the streets. Judging from their auras, they were at least earth Immortals. From time to time, one could see people at the heaven immortal level.

This was normal. After all, the land of absolute beginning was not an ordinary place. It was quite dangerous, and those without any cultivation would naturally not dare to come.

In order to avoid trouble, Tang Hao revealed his mid-stage heaven immortal aura.

“I’m selling maps!”

“Senior, do you want a map? This is my exclusive map. There are many treasure lands on it. With this map, I’m sure senior will return with a full harvest. ”

When they saw Tang Hao looking around, many people crowded around him and started selling maps.

Tang Hao glanced at them and understood.

Most of these maps were out of date. Whatever treasure land, it had probably been explored long ago. It was just a trick to trick a newbie like him.

However, he still bought a set of each.

Although these maps were out of date, they would help him understand the situation of the absolute beginning land.

“Many thanks, senior!”

These people took the money and left happily.

“Where did this rich kid come from?”

Many people looked at Tang Hao from all directions, but they quickly looked away in fear.

If he was an earth immortal, they might keep their eyes on him, but he was a mid-stage heaven immortal, not to be trifled with.

Tang Hao unfurled the map and studied it carefully.

Tang Hao nodded slightly after reading it.

Going down from the ancient city was an abyss separated by several continents. It was hundreds of thousands of feet deep, and only when one reached the bottom of the abyss could one be considered to have truly entered the land of absolute beginning.

The entire absolute beginning land was a vast and boundless void. The situation inside was very complicated. There were many broken continents and many mineral veins.

“Let’s find out more about the situation!”

Tang Hao put away the map, then walked into a restaurant on the side of the street and began to investigate the situation.

“Fellow Daoist, your wine is pretty good! It’s the bar that’s been very popular recently! How did you buy it? I can’t even buy it. ”

After a row of wine was served, someone naturally came over and sat down at his table.

“My fellow cultivator, this is your first time here! It’s very complicated down there. There’s always the Grand primordial storm or the ancient primordial tide. Earth immortal or heaven immortal, you’ll be doomed if you run into them.”

“In the past, many celestial Immortals lost their lives in the ancient tai Chu tide. It wasn’t a real tide, but a torrent formed by some tai Chu Qi. It was extremely dark and sinister. Even the physical body and divine soul of a celestial immortal would be corroded.”

“That storm is even more terrifying. Once you see it, it’s best to run immediately.”

After drinking a few jars of his wine, these people all enthusiastically introduced him to the situation below.

“Treasure? It’s been so many years, and many treasures have been taken away. Look at these closer areas, they’ve basically all been explored, and the further areas are too dangerous.”

“Yup! If it’s your first time here, don’t go too deep. If you encounter a storm or an ancient tide, you can still run back in time. Otherwise, you’ll be in big trouble.”

“You can go to the nearby areas and try your luck. These ancient tides will carry some treasures with them.”

“Oh! By the way, fellow Daoist, you’d better go and buy a compass. If you get lost, you can use the compass to return to the ancient city.”

Tang Hao had a more detailed understanding of the situation down there.

After chatting with these people for a while more, he took his leave.

He first went to a shop and bought a special compass, then left the city and went down.