

The Mightiest Little Peasant Chapter 3071

Tang Hao sat cross-legged in the cave abode.

In front of him, the great void divine furnace hung high in the air. Divine fire burned inside as it refined all kinds of immortal materials.

After these immortal materials were refined, they were all fused together and cast into a standard square shape.

This was only the first step of immortal spirit body refinement.

After refining all the immortal materials, he took out a sword and cut his own flesh.

After cutting off a piece of flesh, he crushed it into mud.

He continued to slash and regrow, and more and more flesh and blood accumulated, forming a mountain of flesh and blood.

He only stopped when he had enough flesh.

“The immortal materials are refined, the flesh is here, next, it’s time for these three items to appear.”

Tang Hao flicked his sleeve, and beams of divine light shot out.

There were six pieces of Emperor blood yellow soil, a huge piece of breathing earth, and an extremely huge corpse.

This was the corpse of the Dragon count.

“Rise!”

Tang Hao waved at the corpse, and it flew toward him.

He raised his hand and pointed at the corpse’s glabella.

In an instant, the corpse of this giant God long Bo shriveled up rapidly. All the essence in his body rushed towards the space between his brows and condensed on the divine crystal. He then slowly pulled it out.

The cultivation base of this Dragon count was not high when it was alive. It was only at the peak of the ninth tribulation, at most at the half-immortal level. To the current him, it was naturally nothing. However, the bloodline of this Dragon count was extremely precious.

He needed this bloodline to refine it into his immortal spirit body. This way, his immortal spirit body would be able to possess the strongest devouring divine ability of the Dragon count clan.

With this sacred art, his immortal spirit body would be able to evolve through devouring.

This was a unique refinement method that he had created himself. Out of all the immortal spirit bodies in the ancient times, none of them had such an ability.

If those immortal spirit bodies wanted to improve, they had to be re-refined by refining more and higher grade immortal materials, which was extremely troublesome. However, the immortal spirit body he created could evolve on its own as long as it devoured.

“We can start now!”

He flicked his sleeve again and the great void divine furnace flew out. It continued to expand until it was endless.

The furnace’s mouth turned over, and a monstrous suction force emerged from within. It sucked in the flesh, yellow mud, breathing earth, and that piece of Dragon count divine crystal in front of him.

Then, he opened the ring, and endless divine light poured out of it. They were all square immortal materials.

All the materials were gathered in the great void divine furnace.

The divine fire burned and engulfed the materials.

At the same time, all these things began to merge together.

His flesh and blood first fused with the yellow mud, then he absorbed the Dragon count divine crystal, then the soil of breath, and finally, he started fusing the immortal materials.

Immortal materials were originally metal, but after they fused with flesh and blood, they took on a different form, becoming a strange material that was between flesh and metal.

Tang Hao sat down cross-legged and activated the divine furnace to start refining.

This refining process took half a year.

Tang Hao opened his eyes. He flicked his sleeve, and the divine furnace shook violently. A torrent of energy surged out of it. It was like blood and flesh, but it also seemed like metal.

As soon as it gushed out, the current started to change. Huge divine bones and meridians were formed.

Soon, a gargantuan God that was five to six million feet tall appeared in front of him.

It was a very ordinary human figure with a dark golden surface. Blood-colored patterns covered the surface of its skin, densely packed and uncountable.

“It’s still a little small!”

Tang Hao flew up to the giant God's head. He examined it, then shook his head slightly.

Pangu and the other ancient beasts were also tens of millions of feet tall, but this one was only 50 to 60 million feet tall, which was considered a small size among immortal spirit bodies.

However, it was already not easy for him to refine it to such a big size.

In the current era, immortal materials were rare, so they were naturally not as good as in the immemorial era.

However, even though it was small, he was still very confident in the power of this immortal spirit body.

After fusing with the sovereign bloodline, breathing earth, and the divine arts of the Dragon count divine race, this immortal spirit body was definitely the most special and the strongest among those of the same level in history.

"Next, I'll carve the talismans!"

Tang Hao's divine will seeped into his immortal spirit body and he began to draw a rune formation.

At this moment, another half a year had passed.

"It's done!"

Tang Hao breathed a sigh of relief after he finished carving the last talisman.

This immortal spirit body was finally completed.

"Let's try!"

He took a step forward and his body swayed as he crashed into the immortal spirit body.

The next moment, ripples appeared on the immortal spirit body's surface, and he directly merged with it.

His divine will also took over the body, and he could control it freely as if it was his own body.

He tried to wave his hand and slap the fragment below.

Bang!

This giant fragment instantly exploded.

This immortal spirit body looked a bit like the giant God he had once refined, but the two were different. The giant God was a puppet that needed him to use a split soul to control, while this immortal spirit body was his second body that could be fused with his main body.

It could be said that it was like an armor. Once he wore it, he would have a body that was comparable to that of a God and a Dragon count divine clan member. His strength would also skyrocket.

He was only at the peak heaven immortal realm and was far from being a match for a golden immortal old monster. However, with the immortal spirit body, he could fight a golden immortal head on.

“There are still some areas that need to be improved!”

After trying it out, he spent another month to improve it before he was satisfied.

“As expected, it didn’t trigger the celestial list!”

He put away the immortal spirit body and looked up.

If it had been refined in the above continents, the list of Immortals would have appeared long ago.

“Let’s refine some more treasures!”

He opened the ring and took a look. He still had a lot of immortal materials on him. They were basically crystals, immortal wood, and the like because he had used up all the gold and iron ones.

These immortal materials could also be used to forge many top grade immortal artifacts.

The cultivation of Chun Xuan and Qiu Ci was getting higher and higher, so they naturally needed stronger celestial artifacts. Fei Wan also needed them.

He spent another three months crafting a large batch of Immortal Weapons before he got up and returned to the ancient tai Chu city following the Compass’s directions.

“It’s been more than six hundred days!”

After returning to the city, he did some calculations and was slightly speechless.

He had actually stayed down there for almost two years.

However, this period of time had not been wasted. He had gained a lot.

“I have to hurry back!”

He had not been here for a long time, and he did not know if anything had happened on Dragon Mountain.

He quickly left the ancient tai Chu city and returned to Nantian city as quickly as he could.

As soon as he arrived near Nantian city, he contacted his clone and learned about the situation.

He heaved a sigh of relief after understanding the situation.

During his absence, there was nothing special except for some shortage of food and frequent visits. The Haotian faction's business was quite smooth, and its territory had expanded to almost all the continents.

After he returned to the mountain and changed his identity with his clone, he took the immortal crystals he had accumulated during this period and went to Nantian city.
