

The Mightiest Little Peasant Chapter 3133

Tang Hao's brows furrowed as he looked at the purple Divine Tree in front of him.

The primordial chaos Divine wood was simply too hard!

The age metal, nine-colored heavenly crystal, and immortal tear gold were all little brothers in front of it.

"Since it's the first Divine Tree at the beginning of the world, it must have absorbed a large amount of ancient tai Chu Qi. It could be xuanhuang Qi, creation Qi, or primordial Qi. That's why it's so hard."

Tang Hao said with a bitter smile.

He counted all the treasures he had on him, but none of them were enough to break through the divine tree's skin.

"What do we do?"

He was at a loss for a moment.

It was unrealistic to move the entire plant away, and he had no way of cutting off a section, so could he only watch helplessly?

"There must be a way! Let me think!"

Since there was no one around, he simply sat down next to her and began to think hard.

"Perhaps there's no need to cut off a section. With the grade of this Divine Tree, even if I cut off a section, I can't afford to raise it. Its grade is too high, even if I have the plain Jade bottle, it won't work."

"Why don't we grind down some powder or extract the divine liquid from the tree and refine it into a pill?"

Suddenly, Tang Hao's heart skipped a beat.

Since he couldn't cut it down, he could only change his method.

Compared to cutting down a section of the tree, grinding some of the tree powder, or taking some of the divine liquid from the tree, this was undoubtedly much easier.

In particular, the divine liquid in the wood was the essence of the divine Tree. It must contain an amazing Taoist connotation. It could be consumed directly or used to refine pills.

“If I want to get the divine fluid, I’ll have to use a needle. It’s best if I add some poison, the world’s most poisonous poison, to corrode the divine tree’s skin. This way, I can make a tiny hole in the divine Tree and steal the divine fluid!”

Tang Hao pondered for a moment, then stood up and left.

After returning to his cave abode, he began to prepare.

He designed a needle, then selected hundreds of kinds of poison, mixed them together, and refined them into the needle.

Three days had passed by the time he was done.

He put on the Golden fighting robe and went to the peak of the medicine Mountain.

Arriving in front of the divine Tree, he carefully examined it. Finally, on one side of the divine Tree, he found a few very faint scratches that looked like sword marks.

“It’s been some years. It should have been left behind by that Celestial King senior. He cut off the bark to get the divine liquid, but after he disappeared, the Golden Immortals in the sect didn’t have enough cultivation to continue getting the divine liquid, so there were only these few old sword marks left. ”

Tang Hao guessed.

He touched a few sword marks and found a new one. He took out the poison needle and began to drill.

In order to prevent being discovered, he also set up a layer of illusionary array around him.

“There’s a chance!”

After drilling for a long time, a tiny hole finally appeared on the surface of the purple glass-like skin.

“It seems that using poison was the right choice!”

He heaved a sigh of relief.

The poison he used was the most intense poison in the world. The effect of over a hundred intense poisons mixed together was even more heaven-defying, which was why it could corrode the surface of the divine Tree and allow him to drill a small hole.

“Soon! It’s almost there!”

He controlled the poison needle and worked even harder.

The hole gradually expanded, and soon, it broke through the skin, and a light purple liquid seeped out.

In an instant, a delicate fragrance assailed his nose.

Then, Tang Hao noticed that the Taoist aura in the surroundings became denser.

“It’s done!”

Tang Hao was overjoyed. He quickly took out a Jade bottle and placed it under the divine liquid.

Because the hole was very small, the liquid seeped out slowly. At first, it was only the size of a soybean, but it slowly expanded and finally dripped into the Jade bottle.

He picked up the Jade bottle and examined it. He could not hide his excitement.

With the primordial chaos Divine liquid, his cultivation would advance by leaps and bounds.

“Again!”

He squatted down and continued to collect the divine liquid.

He didn’t continue to use the needle to drill. The size was just right. After he left, the hole would quickly close up. This way, the people of the Emperor puppet sect wouldn’t notice it, and it would be convenient for him to come again next time.

“Ten drops, that’s enough!”

Tang Hao stopped after receiving ten drops.

Ten drops of divine fluid were enough for him to study. It wouldn’t be too late to come back and take more after he had discovered the best use for it.

He removed the illusory formation and left the place.

He began to study it the moment he returned to his cave abode.

Not only did this divine liquid contain an astonishing amount of Dao accumulation, but it was also a top-notch spiritual essence. After swallowing it, not only could it help the Golden Flower grow, but it could also greatly strengthen the body.

This was because the divine liquid contained the aura of ancient tai Chu Qi.

Tang Hao praised with a smile.

“It’s fine to just consume it like this, but if I refine it into a pill, the effect should be even better ...”

“You can directly add Dao attainment and use it to make pills. Then, you can add some top-tier spiritual essence and various divine liquids to enhance the effects of the spiritual essence.”

Tang Hao began to design the recipe.

It had been a long time since he had refined pills. Ever since the upper realm, he had mostly refined weapons and arrays. He rarely refined pills, let alone created new pill recipes.

Fortunately, he had deep attainments. Even if he hadn't refined it for a few years, he wasn't rusty at all.

He pondered for a while, and many wonderful ideas emerged.

Using Dao attainment to concoct pills was a very bold idea. It had never been seen in any alchemy books, nor had anyone in this world tried it.

However, Tang Hao felt that it was a feasible path.

If it was successful, it would greatly increase the effect of the pill.

After thinking hard for three days, he finally decided on the pill recipe. There weren't many materials, only thirty-six kinds, but all of them were extremely rare, especially the material of Dao attainment. Just one pill would require one thousand Dao attainment.

If it was converted to immortal crystals, it would be 8 million.

"I have all the materials. The next step is to refine it!"

He took out his collection and quickly gathered the pill formulas.

Over the years, he had accumulated too many things. Some of them were bought as President Shi, and some were seized from evil Immortals after he hunted them.

Of course, there were also some that he had snatched from the treasure vaults of the major sects.

He didn't need to worry about the materials at all.

"I can't do it here. What if I succeed and trigger the immortal list? I have to go out and find a remote place to do it."

Tang Hao thought of the immortals 'list.

There were many lists under the immortal list. If there was a weapon list, there was naturally a pill list.

If this pill was successfully refined, there was an 80% chance that it would alert the immortal list and attract the attention of the entire Emperor puppet sect. This was something he didn't want to see at all.

Fortunately, after this appearance, the Emperor puppet sect didn't seal the mountain again, and the disciples could enter and leave freely.

He used the excuse of going to buy something and left the mountain Gate. When he arrived at the nearby Immortal City, he changed his appearance and went to the neighboring continent.

He found a quiet and barren mountain, set up several arrays, and sat down cross-legged.

With a wave of his sleeve, thirty-six materials flew out one by one and surrounded the area.

Then, the great void divine furnace flew out.

BOOM!

The furnace shook, and the divine fire burned fiercely inside.

He took a light breath, reached out, grabbed a material, and threw it into the furnace.

The pill refinement had officially begun.
