

The Mightiest Little Peasant Chapter 3147

“Inside is the exquisite secret realm. It’s also the place where we will compete with the nightless club!”

“In a moment, each of you will receive a token. Your mission is to protect your tokens and try to snatch as many tokens from the enemy as possible. The more tokens you have, the higher your ranking will be.”

“Once the token is taken, you will be teleported out and be considered eliminated.”

“In the process of the competition, any means are allowed. Even killing is allowed. Of course, the premise is that you can kill the other party.”

Elder di pointed at the passage and introduced.

After he finished speaking, an elder beside him took out a Qiankun bag and shouted to the disciples, “One by one, come up and receive your tokens!”

Everyone immediately lined up and went forward, and each person received a token.

“Our Emperor puppet sect’s token is golden in color, while the other party’s is black. It’s easy to recognize!” Elder di introduced.

Very quickly, 15 minutes had passed.

“Alright, we can go in now!”

Elder di looked at the time and nodded. “Remember, when you enter, you will be randomly teleported to various places in the mystic realm. At this time, you must be careful. There are not only enemy disciples but also many fierce beasts.”

As he spoke, he raised his hand and pointed, signaling the disciples to step forward.

“Let’s go, let’s fight them!”

Immediately, some disciples rushed forward and took the lead to step into the secret realm.

Tang Hao followed behind the crowd.

Soon, it was his turn. He took a step and stepped into the passage.

The void fluctuated, and a vast world appeared in front of him.

He was high up in the sky, and he looked around. All he could see were boundless mountain ranges, covered in pale fog.

He could vaguely see many huge figures moving in the fog. They were clearly the beasts that the two sects had set up in this world.

He also saw that there were figures being teleported in from time to time from all four corners of this world.

He recognized some of them as they were from the Emperor puppet sect. There were also some unfamiliar ones who were disciples of the nightless club.

Tang Hao stood where he was and muttered to himself.

The rewards for this competition were pretty good. Not only were there connate spirit items, but there were even Immortal King-grade Dharma Treasures. It was a little tempting.

He was especially in need of connate spirit items.

Celestial King-grade treasures were also something he couldn't refine at the moment.

He had a lot of treasures on him now, but there were very few that he could use. Whether it was the great void divine furnace or the ten thousand laws divine mountain, they were not weapons.

"Just work a little harder and get first place! As for how to get it, I'll have to think about it."

He pondered.

He couldn't reveal his strength now. He had to use his early heaven immortal cultivation to take first place.

"Use a formation, poison, and then a trick ..." He said.

Very quickly, many thoughts appeared in his mind.

"It's better to repair it first!"

He looked around and began to search for his target.

To deal with a heaven immortal, he needed to design and use a formation. But for an earth immortal, some poison was enough.

As far as he knew, the cultivation of the enemy's disciples was generally higher. None of them were human Immortals. The lowest was an earth immortal. Therefore, he would start with this group of people.

"There's one over there!"

Soon, he found his target. His figure flickered and he rushed over.

It was a rough-looking man in a black robe. He was a late-stage earth immortal.

As soon as he appeared, he blinked his eyes and activated his divine eyes to explore the situation in all directions.

Tang Hao tore open the void and appeared in front of him.

At first, he was shocked, and his expression was aghast.

But in the next moment, he calmed down.

In an instant, he had already determined the cultivation level of this person. He was only at the early heaven immortal realm. Judging from the strength of his aura, it was only between 50000 to 60000 Dao attainment, which was not much higher than his. If they were to fight, it would be a 50 – 50 chance.

Therefore, he didn't need to worry at all.

With a thought, a purple divine light rushed out of his abdomen and turned into a purple tortoiseshell shield.

On the shield, a brilliant light shone and transformed into a protective shield.

At this time, his expression was already incomparably calm. Once the protective shield was opened, this guy couldn't do anything to him.

“What is this?”

However, in the next moment, his eyes suddenly narrowed. He saw that the fellow in front of him had raised his hand, and a pitch-black ball appeared in his palm. It looked like some kind of pill, and it exuded an extremely sinister aura.

“Poison pill?”

He was stunned for a moment, then a sneer appeared on his face.

How could a mere poison pill do anything to him!

Pfft!

Tang Hao clenched his fingers, and the poison pill in his palm exploded. It turned into a black mist that shot forward.

Chi Chi!

There was a soft sound.

The nightless club disciple's face immediately froze, and his eyes widened, revealing an extremely horrified expression.

His protective shield was actually easily corroded.

‘How ... How is this possible?’

How could there be such a powerful poison pill?

Before he could figure it out, the black poisonous gas had already covered his head.

“Ah, Yingluo!”

In the next moment, his entire body twitched and he let out a heart-wrenching scream.

Tang Hao reached out and snatched the token from the man’s waist. Then, he cut off the man’s left hand with a flash of golden light. He removed the immortal ring and held it in his hand.

“You ...”

The disciple of the nightless club was immediately shocked and angry.

Not only did this guy want to take his token, but he also wanted to take all his treasures.

“You what you!”

Tang Hao chuckled. He struck out with his palm and sent the man flying.

That guy roared in anger and was about to rush forward to take back his ring. However, at this moment, the void around him twisted and swallowed him, disappearing.

“Not bad!”

Tang Hao weighed the token in his hand and grinned.

The moment he entered, he got a good start.

“You have quite a collection!”

Then, he easily erased the mark that the guy had left on the ring and opened it.

Although he was only a late-stage earth level deity, the fact that he could pass the test and enter the nightless club showed that he was quite powerful. His collection was naturally quite extraordinary. Not only was there a lot of treasures, but there were also many rare treasures.

There were many immortal materials and immortal level herbs.

Of course, there were also many immortal crystals.

To him, immortal crystals were also very useful as he could buy Dao attainment.

One primordial chaos elixir would cost him 1000 Dao attainment points. If he concocted 30 of them at once, that would be 30000 Dao attainment points. It was a huge consumption.

“Let’s go, continue!”

Tang Hao put away the ring and token, then moved forward in search of his next target.

His heart was burning. Those nightless club disciples were all moving treasure mountains in his eyes. He couldn’t let go of a single one and had to snatch them all.

Soon, he found another target. He tore open the void and threw a poison pill at the target.

After a short while, the target’s token and ring were taken away and he was teleported away.

Tang Hao did not stop. He continued to search for the right spot and started looting.
