

The Mightiest Little Peasant Chapter 3215

“The Saint spirit celestial dynasty is indeed the largest among all the celestial dynasties, so it has the most resources and countless mineral veins.”

“Among them, there are the most stone veins and all kinds of stone mines. Moreover, the Saint protector of the Saint spirit celestial dynasty is said to have been born from these stone veins, which is how the Saint spirit celestial dynasty got its name.”

Along the way, Ji chunxuan introduced them to each other.

“The Holy Spirit of heaven and earth?”

Tang Hao furrowed his brows.

This thing was not ordinary!

Only the things born from the heaven and earth with spirits could be called the Holy Spirits of the heaven and earth, such as the immortal spirits born from some immortal veins, and the living beings born from some strange stones, such as his original embryo of the heaven and earth.

Most of these creatures were extremely talented. In the ancient times, it was common to see experts who cultivated to the level of Holy Spirits.

It was only after the decline of Pangu world that the Holy Spirit disappeared.

And in this immortal world, the immortal Qi was abundant, so there were indeed conditions for the birth of Heaven Earth Saint spirits.

“Young master, we’re heading to the Imperial City now. There are many stone shops there that specialize in selling all kinds of divine stones and strange stones. The most interesting thing is a game called stone gambling.”

Ji chunxuan led the way and flew forward.

“Stone gambling, huh?”

Tang Hao laughed when he heard that.

He had been in this line of business many times. When he was on earth, he had played with Jade. When he was in Qiyuan, he had also gambled on crystal sources.

He didn’t expect that there was stone gambling in the immortal world.

It seemed that gambling could be found everywhere, and Immortals were no exception.

His interest was piqued, and he urged the two girls to speed up.

Half a day later, a majestic city appeared in front of them. It was completely golden and didn’t look big, but it seemed to have its own world inside. One could see many illusionary images.

The city was surrounded by a dazzling golden light.

These golden lights would occasionally turn into golden dragons that circled around the city.

“This place is not bad!”

Tang Hao stopped and looked around.

He could see that the power of countless Joss flames was gathering towards the Imperial City from all directions.

At the same time, countless immortal veins gathered from underground and poured into the Imperial City.

Ordinary immortal meridians wouldn't look like this, and it was obvious that they were man-made. The Saint spirit celestial dynasty's experts had used some profound methods to change the direction of the four immortal meridians and gather them here.

And this not only required extreme strength, it also required superb formation skills.

When the three of them arrived at the city gate, they saw a group of golden-armored warriors standing there.

After asking a few simple questions and giving them a token, they let the three of them enter the city.

As they walked through the tall city gate, they heard a shocking clamor.

Inside the city, it was an extremely lively world. Two rows of tall buildings were everywhere. People were everywhere on the streets and in the air. These people's cultivation levels were also uneven. He even saw a few mortals walking among the crowd on the ground.

The immortals and mortals coexisted in this place, but it was unusually harmonious.

“That’s the Imperial Palace!”

Ji chunxuan raised her hand and pointed to the deepest part of the city, where there was the shadow of a Palace.

Tang Hao glanced at them, then turned his gaze away and looked at the two sides of the street.

“Heaven seeking Pavilion, Hongtu Guild ...”

After a while, he saw a few familiar Chambers of Commerce.

There were many different trading companies in the immortal world that were selling a lot of things in the city.

Other than the Chamber of Commerce, he had seen the most stone workshops.

There were all sorts of signs hanging on the stone shops all over the city, and in front of every house, it was unusually lively.

“Young master, come in and play!”

He even passed by a few brothels.

This was the first time he had seen such a place in the immortal world.

He didn’t look much, but the two girls were unusually curious. They stretched their necks and looked inside.

Tang Hao could not help but laugh.

He didn't expect that there would be a woman who had lost her footing in this place.

"Which one of the stone workshops here is the best?"

He asked.

"Of course it's the Holy Spirit quarry. It has the backing of the royal family. We've been here before, but we were unlucky and lost a lot of money!" Ji Qiuci said.

"Alright! Then let's go to this one!"

Tang Hao said with a smile.

After walking a few streets, they soon arrived at the Holy Spirit quarry.

At the entrance of the stone house, there was a bustling crowd, most of them wearing bright immortal robes and had an extraordinary bearing.

"Let's go, let's make a bet today!"

Tang Hao smiled, then walked through the door with his hands behind his back.

"With young master's luck, you'll definitely win a lot!"

“I have to earn back my losses from last time today!”

The two girls laughed and followed him in.

The three of them concealed their auras and revealed that they were all in the heaven celestial stage, so they didn't attract much attention.

In the Imperial City, heaven Immortals were quite common, and those at the Golden immortal stage would attract a lot of attention.

“This stone is not bad!”

As soon as he entered, he saw a huge, snow-white stone in front of him. It was about five to six feet tall and was completely shrouded in white mist.

It was an extremely dense immortal Qi.

There was a formation here to gather immortal Qi to nurture this stone.

“It is said that this is a magical stone embryo. After thousands of years of nurturing, life has already been born inside. This is the most precious treasure of the Holy Spirit quarry. It is not for sale!” Ji Chunyuan said.

Tang Hao narrowed his eyes as he studied the giant rock.

He could sense a powerful life force coming from within the stone. Life was being nurtured inside, just like his heaven and earth origin embryo.

However, it was still far from being a Heaven Earth origin core.

A natural origin core was the most mystical origin core in the world. It could only be born from a rare divine stone.

However, because the environment was different and it had been nurtured for so long, once the creature in this stone was born, its cultivation would be very high. It could directly reach the divine fairy level or even higher.

“Young master, here, everything here is directly priced. There are all kinds of divine stones, strange stones, and Jade.”

Ji chunxuan walked to the left, where there was a Hall. There were countless wooden platforms with floating stones that were emitting various colored divine lights.

Tang Hao walked over and scanned the stones. He could tell the types and quality of the stones with a single glance.

There were indeed many types, and the quality was not bad. There were many immortal-grade ones.

However, he didn't lack such ores. He had an unknown amount of these things on him. After stealing from so many forces and killing so many Immortals, he had so many treasures that he couldn't even count them himself.

If they were gold and iron immortal materials, he would take them all and refine them into his immortal spirit body. However, these were all stone materials and couldn't be fused with his immortal spirit body.

“Where is the stone gambling?”

He asked Ji chunxuan after walking around.

“Young master, this way ...”

Ji chunxuan led him out of the hall and to the other side.

This was also a large hall, and many people were gathered in front of a stage. On the stage, there was a huge green rock, and an old man was cutting the rock with a dagger.
