

The Mightiest Little Peasant Chapter 3326

“That kid is here!”

“Which kid is it? Is it that Tang guy?”

Exclamations could be heard from all around the divine mountain.

Then, with a few bangs, the furnaces of pills exploded!

Most of these people were from the major forces.

At this moment, they were all panicking.

That was because that brat’s current strength was a little too strong, and they had a grudge against him. If they were to fight now, they could only run away.

“I’m fine! He was fine! That kid is going up!”

Soon, they all heaved a sigh of relief.

That kid didn’t come looking for trouble, but went up instead.

“I heard that the kid’s alchemy is very powerful, just like his craftsmanship. I’m afraid he’ll have a big harvest this time. His cultivation will rise a lot again!”

One of the big Luo looked up and sighed.

His face was filled with helplessness.

How long had it been since that kid had advanced!

It had not even been a year, but in such a short time, that brat's cultivation had caught up and even surpassed many of them. His divine arts were also getting stronger by the day.

Now that he thought back to the time when they had surrounded that kid, it was like a dream.

"No choice! Who can do anything to this kid now?"

"If those Celestial King seniors don't come out, then only when a Celestial King appears among us can we kill this kid!"

"Immortal King? It's still too early! I've heard that the old monster of the Xuanyuan clan is still far from the immortal King realm, and so are the other old monsters. They still need a long time."

The crowd discussed and sighed from time to time, feeling dejected.

At that moment, Tang Hao had already passed the rank-5 area and entered the rank-6 area.

There were a lot fewer people here, and the futons around the tree were full.

"Let's look up!"

He swept his gaze around and did not see any completely empty space, so he continued to sweep upwards and entered the rank-7 area.

There were even fewer people and they were sparsely scattered. The divine Tree with the most number of people had only three to five people sitting around it.

“Let’s test the waters here first!”

Tang Hao muttered to himself, then headed toward one of the empty divine trees.

He sat down on the futon, and a scroll above his head slowly fell into his palm.

He opened it and saw that it was a pill refining test.

“Rainbow cloud pill ... That’s a rare pill!”

He raised his eyebrows slightly.

The rainbow cloud pill was a type of beautifying pill. However, it was very effective and could be used on Immortals. It was used by ancient female Immortals.

After swallowing it, the image of a cloud Phoenix could be formed behind one’s back, making one more beautiful.

Although it wasn’t very useful, it was very difficult.

Otherwise, this pill would not have been placed in the rank-7 area.

“Refine it!”

He put away the scroll, and a ball of golden light flew out from the divine Tree in front of him. Inside it were the ingredients for the rainbow cloud pill. There were a total of 36 types, and there was only one set of each. This meant that he only had one chance.

He took the materials and inspected them. After confirming that there were no problems, he took out the divine furnace and began to refine.

He threw in the materials, refined, fused, and then calcined them all in one go.

In less than an hour, the divine furnace shook, and a ray of light shot out from it.

A crystal clear pill fell into his palm. It was as transparent as crystal and had clouds changing inside. It was beautiful.

“Not bad!”

He picked up the pill, examined it, and chuckled.

His expression was very relaxed. With his current alchemy skills, it was easy for him to make this kind of celestial pill. Even if he had never made it before, he could still succeed in one try.

In the starry sky of the lower realm, he could already refine immortal level pills. In the immortal world, he had refined countless pills. Just the grandmist golden pills alone, he had refined countless.

Then, he threw the pill at the divine Tree in front of him.

A few wooden branches reached over, took the pill, and examined it.

In the next moment, the divine Tree glowed with a brilliant light. Auspicious multicolored clouds rose and shot straight into the sky.

“Guys, look! There’s a ray of light soaring into the sky!”

“It seems like someone has passed the test again. I wonder which alchemy bigshot it is!”

People from all around the divine mountain noticed this ray of light and exclaimed.

Looking at the location, it was in the seventh-grade area. Those who could pass the seventh-grade test were all true big shots of the alchemy world, and their alchemy skills were unfathomable.

“Who is that?”

“I don’t know!”

“It’s that demon, the current celestial venerable Tang!”

In the rank-7 area, there were also people who looked over and started discussing.

“So it’s him! No wonder!”

“That golden dan of the great path is still number one on the alchemy roll!”

After recognizing this person, they all revealed a look of realization.

With this person's attainments, it was only natural that he could pass the seventh-grade test.

A moment later, the multicolored light receded, and a golden light flew out from the divine Tree.

Tang Hao reached out and grabbed it. It was a Dao bead.

However, it was different from the Dao beads he had seen in the past. The Dao accumulation inside was dozens of times more than those.

"It's estimated to be 40 times. This one can form more than 40 Dao stars!"

Tang Hao's eyes glowed with joy when he checked the information.

This much Taoist connotation was beyond his expectation.

He opened his mouth and swallowed it, refining it instantly.

"Make a few more, and then go up to take a look!"

He stood up from the futon, muttered to himself, and then walked to the side and sat down.

The scroll fell and unfurled.

This time, he didn't refine the pill directly, but identified it. He had to identify all the ingredients in a pill within a set time.

"This is simple!"

Tang Hao smiled when he saw that.

He wasn't unfamiliar with pill identification. When pill refiners fought, there would always be this stage.

He put down the scroll, and after a while, a silver immortal pill flew out of the divine Tree.

He grabbed it, looked at it carefully, and then sniffed it.

He frowned and pondered for a moment, then smiled.

"There are a total of 109 ingredients for this pill. There should have been 108, but there was an additional useless ingredient ..."

Then, he began to list out the ingredients in the pill.

The divine Tree was silent for a moment before it trembled violently again, and another wave of multicolored light shot into the sky.

"F * ck! Why are you here again?"

"It's the rank-7 area again. It doesn't seem like the position has changed much. It can't be the same person, right? That's too fierce!"

Countless people around the divine mountain looked up and were shocked.

It was not even a quarter of an hour since the last ray of light had flashed. In such a short time, he had actually passed another test, and it was even a test in the rank-7 area. This was really outrageous.

“Why is it him again?”

“It broke again! How long has it been?”

The people from the rank-7 area looked up and were all speechless.

They knew that this kid was powerful, but he was too powerful!

They were all alchemy grandmasters, and they believed that their alchemy skills were not low. However, it took a long time to pass a test. Many of them had been sitting there for a long time, but they had not even passed a single test.

However, this kid had only been here for a short time. In less than two hours, he had already passed two tests!
