

The Mightiest Little Peasant Chapter 3327

After the light faded, another Dao bead flew out.

Tang Hao took it, absorbed the Taoist connotation, and swallowed it.

His cultivation level had increased by another 40 Dao stars!

He smiled in satisfaction.

Normally, when he encountered an immortal encounter, he could obtain an average of one to two hundred Dao beads, and his cultivation level would increase by one to two hundred stars. But now, he had just arrived not long ago, and his cultivation level had already increased by more than eighty stars.

And there were still many tests on this divine mountain.

“Continue!”

He got up and moved to the next position.

When he opened the scroll, he frowned.

This was another alchemy question!

He didn't like this kind of topic because pill refining was more time-consuming, but since he had already accepted it, it wasn't good to give up.

He took the materials, took out the divine furnace, and began to refine.

An hour later, the pill was formed, and multicolored light shot into the sky again.

“F * ck! Here it comes again! It’s still the same place!”

“Who is it? Which perverted old monster?”

This time, the divine mountain was in an uproar.

This was already the third time!

And counting the time, it had only been slightly more than two hours!

In such a short time, he had passed three seventh level tests. This speed was really a bit terrifying!

They were even more curious about who this expert was!

“Him again!”

“That’s way too fast!”

In the rank-7 area, everyone raised their eyes to take a look, and their faces twitched.

Damn it, none of them passed, but this kid had already passed three tests.

“Forget it, I’d better not stay here to avoid further stimulation!”

At that moment, a few people stood up, sighed, and went down to the rank-6 area.

Many old monsters looked at each other and smiled bitterly.

“This celestial venerable Tang is really unbelievable!”

“Yup! If a person can cultivate so fast and reach the zenith heaven realm in just a hundred years, do you think he is still so powerful in other aspects?”

“It’s fine if he’s only good at blacksmithing. But the point is, he’s also good at alchemy. I really don’t understand how he’s cultivated.”

They discussed in low voices, all extremely puzzled.

After a long time, they finally calmed down and continued with the test.

Tang Hao was already working on the next question.

Very quickly, he passed again.

This time, after the flash of light, it was not as sensational as before.

Everyone looked up and seemed to be used to it.

Because they all knew that it was celestial venerable Tang, the divine man who had created the Golden pill of the great path and was ranked first on the alchemy roll!

“Damn it, it’s this kid again!”

This time, there were many curses and envious gazes.

In the next half an hour at most, there would be multicolored light soaring into the sky in the rank-7 area.

Everyone gradually got used to it.

“Look, there’s another ray of light ...”

“It’s celestial venerable Tang again! What’s there to see!”

“No! This time, it was not the rank-7 area. It was an even higher place. It seemed to be rank-8. No, it was ... Rank-9! Someone has passed the ninth level test!”

After an unknown period of time, a ray of light shot up from the mountain again.

At first, no one cared, thinking it was celestial venerable Tang again.

However, upon a closer look, they revealed shocked expressions. That was not the rank-7 area at all, but the highest rank-9 area.

This was also the first time since the opening of the mountain that someone had passed the ninth level test.

Whoosh!

The divine mountain was in an uproar, and a deafening clamor broke out.

“Who is that?”

They were all extremely curious.

Quite a number of people got up and made a special trip to the rank-9 area to find out what was going on.

“It’s the legendary Taishang Daoist!”

After they returned, they were extremely excited.

Grand Supreme!

This Daoist name had once reverberated like thunder in the immortal world.

Today, this name still occupied the first place on the zenith heaven roll!

He was also known as the person closest to the celestial King!

“It’s actually him!”

“With his cultivation, he must be very close to the celestial King realm. I think he will be the first one to advance to the celestial King realm!”

The divine mountain was in an uproar again.

“Grand Supreme?”

Tang Hao’s expression changed when he heard the commotion.

Of course, he had seen this name before. He was the first on the zenith heaven roll!

However, it was only limited to this.

This person seemed to be a little mysterious. There were no legends about him, and most people in the immortal world only knew his name.

“To be able to pass the ninth-rank test, it means that his alchemy skills are quite impressive!”

Tang Hao praised.

He looked in the direction of the mountain peak and became a little excited.

This mysterious Taishang Daoist could definitely be his opponent!

“I’ll pass this test first, then go to the rank-9 area!”

He collected his thoughts and continued to pass the test in front of him.

This question was quite difficult. It was a pill-making recipe, and he had to refine it.

It took him two hours to solve it.

After getting the Dao bead, he stood up and headed to the rank-9 area.

There were a total of nine divine trees in the rank-9 area, scattered all over the place.

There were seven divine trees among them, and people were sitting below them.

“It’s much more than before!”

Tang Hao mumbled.

When they first arrived, there were only five of them.

“Eh? This person ... Isn’t he a Virgin?”

He looked around, and when he passed by one of the figures, he couldn’t help but be stunned and Mutter.

“F * ck! Who are you calling a Virgin!”

The primordial chaos boy's ears were sharp. He immediately turned around and cursed.

His eyes were wide open, as if they were about to spew fire.

It's this brat again!

He was annoyed just by seeing this guy!

"Isn't it? If you're not called a Virgin, then what are you called?" Tang Hao said with a smile.

"You ... Just you wait! I can't take care of you now, but once I'm done refining my treasure, you'll see how I'll deal with you! I'll make you pay back everything you owe me!" The primordial chaos boy screamed.

"Good! I'll be waiting!"

Tang Hao was not annoyed. Instead, he found it interesting.

"Hmph!"

The primordial chaos boy snorted heavily and turned around.

Tang Hao retracted his gaze and continued to scan his surroundings.

A moment later, his eyes narrowed.

On the left, under a Divine Tree, a hazy figure sat.

A white-robed figure could be vaguely seen. His hair was blue, but his appearance could not be seen clearly. Behind him, there were also flashes of spiritual light that danced around him. They were like some kind of spiritual butterflies. As they danced, they scattered a dazzling divine splendor.

Tang Hao's heart skipped a beat.

This person gave him a great sense of oppression. Without thinking, he was sure that this was the Taishang Daoist, the first on the zenith heaven roll!

As if he sensed his gaze, the man turned his head slightly and glanced at him.

It was just a faint glance, and there was no emotional fluctuation.

Then, he looked away and continued to meditate.

"Taishang, Taishang ... Don't tell me you're walking on the mantra of the great oblivion!"

Tang Hao mumbled to himself.

There were very few people who cultivated this path. He had seen countless xiuzhe on his way up, but he had only seen a few.

After a moment, he shook his head and walked towards a Divine Tree at the side.

He took a light breath and composed himself. Then, he sat down on the futon in front of the tree.

The next moment, the branch shook, and the scroll hanging on it fell down.

He took it and opened it.
