

The Mightiest Little Peasant Chapter 3394

“Interesting!”

Tang Hao raised an eyebrow.

According to the old man, this bronze combat sword was not a piece of trash. It had a great history.

As for whether it was broken or if there were other mysteries, it was hard to say.

“I’ll take this!”

Tang Hao said.

“Alright!”

The old man responded and walked into the inner room. After a while, he came out with a purple wooden box.

Tang Hao took it and opened it. It was the bronze combat sword.

He touched the sword edge with his fingers and sensed it. Then, he frowned.

He didn’t sense any aura from it, as if it was just a battle sword made of ordinary iron.

He had encountered such a situation before, and it was the same with the pig slaughtering knife.

It was also his first immortal weapon, the bloody Butcher knife.

At that time, his cultivation level was too low, and the bloody Butcher knife was also an incomplete weapon, so that situation occurred.

Could it be that this bronze sword was also incomplete?

Or was his cultivation level too low?

Tang Hao muttered to himself and put away his sword.

He didn't know these questions for the time being.

"I still have 1.45 million merit points left. What do you want to exchange for?" The old man said, "do you want to take a look at the armor? There's a lot of armors in the Treasury, of all types."

"Good! Let's take a look!"

Tang Hao nodded.

He didn't really need the armor, but it didn't matter if he had one in case he needed it in the future.

"Yes," the old man replied. He took out a book and opened it. Countless illusionary figures appeared and filled the hall.

"Which one is the best?"

He asked as he swept a glance over the crowd.

“These are the best. They’re all made by Masters, and only late-stage yang gods can use them. This is the illusionary rainbow crystal armor, this is the night God armor, and this is the myriad transformations heavenly Frost Armor. If you have the Bing clan’s bloodline, this armor will be the first choice.”

The old man pointed to the few sets in the middle and introduced them one by one.

“Night God? Good name!”

Tang Hao stared at the pitch-black armor in the middle and nodded slightly.

“I’ll take this!”

“Good! This set is 800000 contribution points!”

Tang Hao was left with 650000 merit points after the battle armor.

“The rest can be exchanged for gold, iron, and plants ...”

Tang Hao asked the old man to take out the books on gold, iron, and plants. He would exchange for anything he was interested in until he spent all his merit points.

He took the many treasures and left in satisfaction.

When he returned to the tent, he saw many people standing outside.

He swept his gaze across and recognized many people. Some of them were heaven's pride experts from the various Holy Lands of the divine martial Kingdom, while others were from the Royal and Marquis Residences.

Clearly, they were here to win him over.

"Hahaha! Brother mu, you're finally here. I'm Wang Yue, a disciple of the violet Qilin mountain. "

"Brother mu, I am from the masked moon sect ..."

When they saw Tang Hao, they immediately greeted him politely.

"This mu guy is going to strike it rich!"

"Yup! I heard that the conferment of a general is already set in stone, and the Commander-in-Chief has already reported it. We're just waiting for His Majesty's approval. Conferment of a general in a battle is something that has never happened in the divine martial Kingdom since the ancient times. "

From all four directions, many soldiers looked over from afar. Some were jealous, while others were emotional.

A battle against a sealed general!

It was supposed to be a task as difficult as ascending to the heavens, but now, it was done by this person. His previous identity was just a little perverted Bandit from the hundred territories, and he was also cannon fodder in the personal Battalion.

Before this, who would have thought that such a small character could create such a miracle!

“Breaking three formations and capturing more than 20 enemy geniuses ... Feng Jiang is not worthy of such battle merits at all!”

“I think the entire divine martial country will know his name soon.”

As they discussed, their envy grew.

“Brother mu, let’s get together again another day!”

“Brother mu, when you enter the divine capital again, I’ll treat you to a drink. We’ll go to the best place. Some places in the divine capital can’t be compared to your hundred territories ...”

Tang Hao courteously dealt with them for a while before he sent them away.

“The best place?”

After sending them off, Tang Hao stood at the door with a strange expression on his face.

When that person spoke, he looked like he knew what was going on, so it wasn’t hard to guess what that place was.

“Do I look like that kind of person?”

He muttered to himself and turned around to enter the cave in the tent.

In the next few days, he stayed in the cave and hung a sign that he was in seclusion.

In this way, he could keep a trace of peace.

In the past few days, he had been reading some cultivation technique books, as well as books related to array and craftsmanship.

The commander of the array Department, elder Yu, had personally delivered a box of array Dao books to him.

Although the formations of the divine Dao were mostly derived from celestial formations, there were still some subtle changes in the system, so it was worth his time to study it.

Next, he would have to act as a genius in array Dao.

With this identity, he could establish himself in the divine martial Kingdom and the divine realm.

“Yes, His Majesty has given his permission. You are going to be made a general. You are going to be made a carefree general.”

One day, Tang Hao was reading a formation book when he heard someone ring the bell.

He walked out and saw that it was elder Yu.

Before he could ask for the details, he saw many figures flying over and landing in front of his tent. The one leading was the Commander-in-Chief, followed by a group of divine generals.

“Kid, the emperor’s decree has arrived. Not only has he granted you the title of general, but he has also bestowed you with many treasures and a residence in the divine capital.”

After the commander finished speaking, he took out a Golden Scroll, opened it, and read it out.

It was just some small talk. As for formulas, he would first be conferred the title of general, then the treasures.

“His Majesty’s intention is for you to leave the Army and go to Shen ‘du. You should study array Dao in the future so that your talent in array Dao won’t be wasted.” The commander said.

“Thank you, Your Majesty. Thank you, Commander-in-Chief!”

Tang Hao bowed.

“Boy, the fairy’s capital is not the hundred territories. It’s a place with rules. You can’t act rashly and you have to be careful. You’ve just appeared and many people are watching you!” The Commander-in-Chief put down the scroll, walked over, and said in a low voice.

“I know!”

Tang Hao said with a smile.

“Alright! You’re smart, you should know. I won’t say much. These are the treasures bestowed by His Majesty, you can keep them!”

The Commander-in-Chief waved his hand, and someone carried up boxes of treasures.

There were divine coins and all sorts of pills.

“This is your general token, as well as your clothes, armor, and tent. Keep them well.”

The Commander-in-Chief waved his hand again, and someone brought all sorts of things over.

“Now, the war has stopped. The country of Suzaku has already sent people to the divine capital to negotiate. Those twenty or so heaven’s favorites are their lifeblood. Too many powers are involved, so they can’t just leave them be.”

“I estimate that the results will be out in a few days. By then, you can go to fairy’s capital.”

After chatting for a while, the Commander-in-Chief left with his men.

Tang Hao packed his things, changed his tent, and closed the door.
