

The Mightiest Little Peasant Chapter 471

The atmosphere in front of the school became livelier than ever.

All the people there, no matter students or teachers, were very excited.

Tang Hao was an honorary alumnus of First High, which meant that they could all share his glory.

Very soon, the black car that drove along the road stopped in front of the entrance of the school.

“He’s here! He’s here!”

Everyone in the crowd started cheering.

Many students rushed toward the car, while the school administrators straightened their clothes and wore eager smiles on their faces.

The car door opened under everyone’s watchful eyes.

However, it was the driver who got out of the car first. He went to the back and opened the car door respectfully.

“He’s getting out!”

Everyone held their breath. They became more excited than ever.

A figure dressed in a business suit and leather shoes stepped out from the car. He had a handsome, sculpted face and a fit and well-built body.

He straightened his tie after he stepped out. He carried the aura of a noble.

“Wow!”

Everyone exclaimed in surprise.

The girls’ eyes were sparkling.

“Wow!” The cafeteria ladies and janitors also exclaimed in surprise.

“Oh my, that boy has become so handsome! He’s like a different person from before!”

“Oh no, I can’t take it anymore! How can he be so handsome?”

“Ha! He wasn’t bad-looking before this, it’s just that he was poor and shabby. Now that he has the money to groom himself, how can he be the same?”

The middle-aged women talked among themselves.

After Tang Hao got out, the driver went around the car and opened the other door.

The crowd fell silent when the other figure got out of the car.

All the male students' and teachers' eyes opened round and wide. They were transfixed on that beautiful figure.

They were dumbstruck by the slender body, the seductive miniskirt, and the incredibly beautiful face.

Gulp! Many people swallowed hard.

"That's his assistant, right?"

"Oh my god! He's blessed!"

The crowd exclaimed in surprise again. The male figures in the crowd could not hide the envy on their faces.

It was every man's dream to have a successful career and a beautiful assistant.

Even the girls were envious of her looks. They were at a loss for words.

"Haha! Chairman Tang!"

Principal Cai and a group of people came to shake hands with Tang Hao.

"Don't call me Chairman here. I'm in school now. Right, I'm still a student!" Tang Hao said.

"Alright, I'll just call you Tang Hao then!" Principal Cai laughed heartily.

“I’ve heard of your name, Tang Hao. Now that I’ve met you, you look more prominent than I imagined!”
The vice-principal and the other administrators came to shake hands with Tang Hao.

“Let’s go inside!” Principal Cai led the way.

“Long time no see, Tang Hao!” A group of teachers came to greet him.

Tang Hao turned his head toward them. He noticed that the teachers in front used to be his teachers.

“Teacher Li, Teacher Wang... it’s good to see you again!” Tang Hao greeted each one of them.

“Brother Hao! Brother Hao!”

A young girl among the crowd was waving at Tang Hao and shouting excitedly. She was none other than Shi Yan’er.

She was dressed in her school uniform. Her long hair was tied up in a ponytail, and she looked especially vibrant and pure.

Tang Hao smiled at her and walked toward her.

“Brother Hao!” Yan’er called his name softly when he got close.

“You must have been standing for a long time. Aren’t your feet tired? Let’s go in!” Tang Hao said with a smile.

“Mm!” Yan’er replied and followed him inside.

“The gaokao will start in a few days. How are the preparations going?” Tang Hao said.

Yan'er lifted her chin and said smugly. “Don't worry. I'm prepared!”

Principal Cai laughed. “Yan'er is an amazing girl! She has been consistently in the top three in the mock exams. If she maintains her performance, she can enter any university she wants.

“Even if she might not be in peak condition during the gaokao, it's still OK. She has a solid foundation.”

Tang Hao was surprised when he heard that. “She's that good?”

“Isn't that so!” Yan'er said smugly.

Principal Cai led everyone into the hall. After everyone sat down, Tang Hao began his talk.

The topic of Tang Hao's talk was persistence and hard work.

Those were two general topics that the students understood.

The talk lasted for one and a half hours.

After the talk, Tang Hao went to the cafeteria with Principal Cai and the others for lunch. After that, Principal Cai brought him around the school campus to show him the new facilities that were built using his donation.

Before he left, Tang Hao donated another five million yuan to his alma mater.

The next six days passed in the blink of an eye.

It was finally the day of the gaokao.

After sending Qin Xiangyi to the factory in the morning, Tang Hao went to Yan'er's house in Dragonrock Village.

He parked the car in front of the house. Yan'er appeared at the door after a while. She was dressed plainly and cleanly in her school uniform.

"Add oil, Yan'er!" Yan'er's parents followed her out of the house and cheered her on.

"Have you brought your admission card? How about your stationery? Check it again, in case you missed anything!" Zhang Hongfang said while they arrived at the front gate.

"I've already brought everything, Mom! I've checked it countless times, don't worry!"

Yan'er patted her backpack.

"Ah, checking one more time won't hurt!" Zhang Hongfang insisted.

Yan'er was helpless. She opened her backpack and checked its contents one more time.

"Alright, you're set. Now go! I'll leave my girl in your hands, Lil Hao!" Zhang Hongfang shouted at Tang Hao.

“Don’t worry!” Tang Hao replied.

He turned to speak to Yan’er. “Get in the car. Let’s go!”

Yan’er nodded and sat down on the side passenger seat.

“Add oil, Yan’er!” Yan’er’s parents waved their hands behind the car. The neighbors were waving their hands too.

“Yan’er is taking her gaokao today? Add oil! Dragonrock Village is proud of you!”

The car drove away toward the examination hall as the crowd cheered.

Security was tight all around the examination hall, and the car could not drive inside. Tang Hao parked the car at a parking lot nearby and accompanied Yan’er to the hall.

The front of the hall was crowded with people. There were teachers and students, but the majority of the crowd consisted of parents.

Those parents wore anticipation and hope on their faces.

Every year, whenever the time for the gaokao rolled around, it was the parents who were the most anxious.

“I’m going in, Brother Hao!”

After seeing the hall doors open and Yan’er go inside, Tang Hao left the scene.

