

The Mightiest Little Peasant Chapter 538

Another kiss.

Tang Hao almost could not catch his breath.

She let go of him after a long while.

“That should be about it, right?” Tang Hao panted.

“It’s only two kisses. That’s only two million!” Tamamo chuckled.

“That’s already two million! It’s more than enough!” Tang Hao said frantically.

“It’s only two million dollars. I have nothing but money. All you need to do is sit there like a good boy!” She chuckled and forced her lips on his once more.

“That’s ten million dollars. That should be enough!” Tang Hao said frantically as their lips parted again.

He was almost at his limit.

“Only ten million? That’s not enough!” She said assertively and kissed him again.

They separated a long while later.

“That’s more like it...” she chuckled.

She winked mischievously at Tang Hao.

“Oh, right! That was my first kiss. Isn’t it a good deal for you?”

“Your first kiss?” Tang Hao was shocked.

“Yes! And you’ve taken it.”

She leaned close and whispered into Tang Hao’s ear. “I’m not leaving tonight!”

“Ahem! No! Please, no!” Tang Hao said frantically.

“Aww, too bad!” She pursed and said dejectedly.

She lifted Tang Hao’s chin with a delicate finger and mumbled, “I’d like to kiss you one more time!” She bent over and did exactly that.

She stood up again after a long time.

“Right, I don’t have any money with me now!” She said.

Tang Hao was shocked. ‘Oh no, did she just scam me?’

“Don’t worry, I’m not an irresponsible person. I’ll deliver the money tomorrow. Let me count, how much do I owe you? It was twelve kisses, right? That’s twelve million Merrican dollars. Don’t worry. I can still afford that.

“What do I have the most? Money!

“I’ll be going. See you tomorrow!”

She threw Tang Hao a flying kiss, then walked toward the balcony.

He could hear the sound of fluttering cloth before she disappeared into the night sky.

Tang Hao sat there in a daze.

‘No, that’s morally wrong. I’ve just sold my body!

‘But, it didn’t seem like a bad idea to make so much money from just a few kisses...’

Tang Hao felt a lot better when he thought about that.

He composed himself and went into the pocket world in his magatama. He tended to his liquor tree and Tree of Youth, then stashed the harvest into his pocket dimension.

He dismembered the griffin corpses. The meat would be stored as food, while the internal organs would be processed into fertilizer.

He spent the entire night doing that.

The next morning, he took his backpack and went to university.

He was wiser this time. He cast the concealment spell on himself at the entrance and sneaked all the way to the classroom.

“You’re finally back, Brother Hao!”

Cao Fei and the others were very excited.

“Shh! Not so loud!” Tang Hao said softly and went to sit down in a corner.

“What’s the situation?” Tang Hao asked.

“What’s the situation? It’s out of control! It’s even more sensational than the last time! The entire university saw you fly away in a military helicopter,” Cao Fei said.

“Sigh!” Tang Hao sighed heavily. That was well within his expectations.

The teacher for the next two periods of classes was a man in his fifties. When he walked into the classroom, he was shocked to see Tang Hao.

He shook his head after a long time. “Youngsters nowadays are becoming more and more extraordinary. I’m too old for this!”

That incident had caused an uproar. Everyone was talking about it.

He had also seen with his eyes the military helicopter that swept across the sky above the university. That had shocked him.

He had to admit that Tang Hao was quite amazing indeed.

He had never seen such an individual in all his years teaching at Z University.

“Alright, time for lessons!” He lamented, then stepped up the podium.

After class, Tang Hao walked toward the entrance with Cao Fei and the others.

They walked along the path leading out of the university when his phone started ringing.

It was from an unknown number.

He answered the call and immediately heard a familiar, charming voice.

“Do you miss me, my dear little brother?”

Tang Hao rolled his eyes. “Where’s the money?”

Tamamo chuckled. “I’m in front of you!”

Tang Hao furrowed his brows. He lifted his head, looked in front of him, and noticed a black car parked at the roadside.

The car door opened, and a figure stepped out.

She was dressed in a pure white kimono, and her waist swayed as she walked. It was incredibly alluring.

Her oval-shaped face had impeccable features.

Her sudden appearance had attracted all the eyes in the vicinity.

Everyone stood there, petrified.

“F*ck! What a masterpiece! She’s in a kimono too, don’t tell me that she’s from Dongying?”

“Brother Hao, look! A beautiful girl!”

Cao Fei and the others shouted excitedly and looked at Tang Hao.

However, they were shocked to see that Tang Hao was walking toward her while lowering his head.

“What? Don’t tell me that she’s here to look for Brother Hao too?”

Tang Hao arrived in front of the car and grumbled, “Why did you come here? Where’s the money?”

Tamamo chuckled. “Why? Are you afraid that other people might see us?”

“No!” Tang Hao rolled his eyes. There was nothing to be afraid of.

“Take this, my dear little brother!” Tamamo handed him a check.

Tang Hao was surprised when he saw the figure clearly. "Why is it fifteen million? Shouldn't it be only twelve?" He looked at her, surprised.

She smiled cunningly. "What else? It's because I want to kiss you some more!" She leaned over and kissed him gently on the cheek.

"Keep the change!"

She chuckled and sat back into his car.

The car started and drove away.
