

The Mightiest Little Peasant Chapter 586

The next five days passed in the blink of an eye.

Tang Hao spent that blissful time with Qin Xiangyi.

He woke up early that morning to make breakfast and clean up the apartment.

Qin Xiangyi would be leaving that day.

They had gone around shopping for the past few days, buying any handbags and footwear that caught their eye. Tang Hao managed to pack everything into four big boxes.

A while later, she woke up, stretched, and walked out of the room.

She was dressed in a sheer negligee, which did not hide her graceful figure and snow-white skin.

“Morning!”

She said cheerfully and gave Tang Hao a bright smile.

When she walked up to him, she leaned over and kissed Tang Hao on the cheek. Then, she sat down at the dining table and started eating breakfast.

“Mmm! So delicious!” She exclaimed. Then, she pouted disappointedly.

“When I think about how I won’t be able to eat such delicious food, or that I won’t be able to see you for many more days, I feel so sad, Lil Tang.”

“Then stay for a while longer!” Tang Hao said with a smile.

“I’d love to, but I can’t! I have a lot of decisions to make back in the factory. So, I have to go.”

After breakfast, the two of them cuddled for a while before she went to change.

She was in her office clothes when she came out once more from the bedroom.

Tang Hao brought her to the basement parking lot and put her belongings inside.

“Bye, Lil Tang!”

She hugged Tang Hao and kissed him longingly. Then, she waved her hand and got into the car.

“Safe drive!”

Tang Hao waved at her.

She smiled at Tang Hao, started the car, and drove away.

Tang Hao followed the car to the exit and watched it disappear at the gate of the residential area. Then, he turned around and walked away.

Back at home, Tang Hao cleaned up a little, took his backpack, and went to class.

“Brother Hao! Where’s Sister-in-law?”

As soon as Tang Hao entered the classroom, Cao Fei and the others surrounded him and winked at him.

“She went back!” Tang Hao said.

“Wow! So you’re free again, Brother Hao?” Cao Fei shouted.

“Nonsense!” Tang Hao rolled his eyes and tapped him on the head.

“Ouch! Why did you hit me, Brother Hao? I was only saying it as it is!” Cao Fei said, aggrieved.

“Get serious. It’s time for class!”

Tang Hao put on a straight face and walked to the side of the classroom. He sat down and took out his textbooks.

Soon, the teacher arrived.

The class was rather dull. Tang Hao sat there, feeling bored.

Cao Fei and the others were also dozing off. A few students took out their phones and were secretly playing games under the desk. Many of the girls sitting in front were also playing with their phones.

The class was not very important, so not many people were taking it seriously.

Tang Hao stared at the leaves outside the window for a long time, studying the structure of the veins. Suddenly, the phone in the drawer vibrated.

He was stunned for a moment before he came to his senses and took out his phone.

He looked down and saw that it was from Liu Bingyao.

“Are you in school?”

Tang Hao immediately replied, “Yes!”

“Come over later. I’ll wait for you at the back of the field!” Liu Bingyao replied.

“You’re back?”

“Yes! I’m here to apply for my suspension!”

“OK, class is about to end. I’ll come over soon.”

The bell rang a few minutes later. Tang Hao walked out and made sure that no one followed him to a remote corner on the far side of the field.

Liu Bingyao came out from behind a corner.

She wore a white dress, sunglasses, and a mask.

“You’re here!” She took off her mask and said happily.

“Are the procedures done?” Tang Hao asked.

Liu Bingyao nodded and said, “It’s almost done. I just came out from the counselor’s office! I only need my parents’ signatures. They’ve agreed to it, so I’ll take the forms back.”

“Oh!” Tang Hao nodded.

“Sit for a while!” She walked to the steps at the side, pulled up her skirt, and sat down.

“OK!” Tang Hao replied, walked over, and sat down next to her.

“Do your parents... support you?” Tang Hao asked.

She smiled bitterly and said, “You don’t know how much they opposed my decision in the beginning. They’re the traditional type, thinking that all I needed to succeed was to study hard and become a civil servant or find a stable office job. They wouldn’t have agreed to it.

“At that time, I hid it from them. They found out later, and we had a big argument.”

As she said that, she pursed her lips and revealed an aggrieved expression.

“It was only until after my first live stream and my popularity exploded that Sis Meiting personally met them and talked to them for a long time before they were convinced.”

She smiled as she said that. "Sister Meiting is really nice and takes care of me really well! Without her, I wouldn't have been able to become popular so quickly.

"Look, look, my followers have increased again. I have more than two million followers on Weibo, and more than three million on Sky Live."

She took out her phone and excitedly showed Tang Hao her social media accounts.

"You're amazing!" Tang Hao said with a smile.

Of course, he knew about that. He had gone online and followed her progress during his leisure time.

She suddenly paused and said, "Oh right! You follow me, so you must know."

"How do you know that I follow you?" Tang Hao was surprised.

With so many people following her, he thought that she would not notice.

When he started following her, she already had more than a hundred thousand followers.

Bing Yao smiled smugly and said, "Isn't that simple? I checked out your account. You're Qing Feng, right? I'll know once I check it out. Look, I even privately followed you back."

"It's just that you seem very lazy. You never post anything."

Tang Hao suddenly felt a little awkward.

Then, he asked in puzzlement, "You can privately follow me?"

"Yeah! Don't you know?"

Tang Hao shook his head. He was unaware of that feature.

They continued chatting for a while more. Suddenly, she seemed to have thought of something and said, "Ah! I almost forgot. This is for you!"

As she said that, she opened her bag and took out a box.

The box was pink and had a flower tied to it.

"What's this?" Tang Hao was surprised.

Her pretty face blushed, and she said, "These are my songs! I've recorded the songs for my first album. I want you to be the first one to listen to them!"

"Oh! Thank you!"

Tang Hao quickly took the box.

She glanced at Tang Hao shyly and mumbled, "Um... please don't say that it's not good!"

Tang Hao smiled and said, "How can that be? The songs must be very nice!"

She immediately pursed her lips and smiled sweetly.

“Oh right, when will the album be released?” Tang Hao asked.

“It’ll still take some time. I’ve recorded the songs, but we still have to shoot the music video! Sis Meiting says that she wants to hire the best music video director. It’ll take at least a month or even two months!” Liu Bingyao said.

“However, when we’re done shooting the first one, it’ll be uploaded to my video channel for promotion. You’ll be able to watch that.”
