

The Mightiest Little Peasant Chapter 593

When he walked near the academic building, Tang Hao saw many people gathered there. It was a very lively scene.

He was surprised by the crowd and became a little curious.

When he went closer and took a look, he could not help but laugh.

Someone had arranged a heart-shaped circle of candles on the ground. That was the most common way a university student would profess one's love!

A person stood next to it with a large bouquet of flowers in his hands.

Tang Hao could only see his side profile from where he stood. The person was tall, well-built, and extremely handsome.

"Who's that?" Someone in the crowd asked softly.

"Ha! You don't know him? He's Li Wenzhe, the most handsome guy of the Humanities Faculty, the famous Prince of Piano!" Someone replied.

"Li Wenzhe? Oh! I've heard of him. I've heard that his piano skills are amazing. He's a professional and has won many awards. He's a big-timer!"

"That's right! Many newspapers have reported about him before. He's a rising star in the performing scene. If you think about it, he's one of the most prolific big-timers in the university. Of course, he can't compare to Council President Fang and that final boss."

Tang Hao grimaced when he heard that.

The “final boss” was most likely him.

“F*ck! How am I the final boss?” Tang Hao muttered indignantly.

“That final boss... Sigh! Let’s not mention him. He’s too detestable!”

“That’s right, that animal!”

Those people discussed as if no one else was around.

Tang Hao became even more helpless when he heard that.

Many people came out of the building as time passed. They exclaimed in surprise when they saw the scene, and many girls even shrieked.

“Oh my god! That’s Li Wenzhe!”

“Who is he confessing to?”

The girls were all excited.

Not only was Li Wenzhe the most handsome guy of the Humanities Faculty, but he was also exceptionally talented as the Prince of Piano. He had won many awards, and his family was also very wealthy. For many girls, he was the perfect Prince Charming.

More and more people gathered, but Li Wenzhe did not move.

A while later, a group of people surged out of the teaching building. Most of them were girls.

“Look, that’s Beauty Queen Shi! Oh my god! Don’t tell me Li Wenzhe is going to confess to her?”

“F*ck! That can’t be!”

There was a commotion in the crowd. Everyone could not believe it.

Beauty Queen Shi was indeed beautiful. Countless people coveted her, but no one dared to touch her!

One had to know that Beauty Queen Shi was that final boss’s childhood sweetheart. Their relationship was not ordinary. If they provoked that final boss, they would be in big trouble.

Meanwhile, Tang Hao’s expression became a little curious.

When the students walked out of the building and saw the scene outside, they were visibly shocked and stopped at the door.

At that moment, Li Wenzhe finally moved. He strode forward and walked toward Yan’er, who was in the middle of the crowd. When he arrived in front of her, he knelt on one knee and lifted the bouquet.

His handsome face was filled with deep affection.

Yan’er was stunned. Her beautiful eyes suddenly widened as if she was frightened. “What... what are you doing?”

“Yan’er, from the moment I laid my eyes on you, I was deeply and uncontrollably attracted to you! Your every frown, every smile, and every action is like a drug that bewitches my soul.

“You are a masterpiece of the heavens. You are an angel...

“Be my girlfriend, Yan’er! I will protect and pamper you. If it’s possible, I hope it will be for the rest of my life!”

Li Wenzhe said affectionately.

As he spoke, he lifted the bouquet even higher.

“Eww! So cringy!”

“That guy is really brave! He really confessed to Beauty Queen Shi!”

The crowd was in an uproar.

The boys were sarcastic, while the girls were envious and even jealous.

Beauty Queen Shi was Tang Hao’s childhood sweetheart. That fact alone made many girls envious. Now, even Li Wenzhe had fallen for her.

How else could they react other than jealousy?

Yan’er stood there. Her beautiful eyes were wide open, and her face was full of confusion.

She had received her fair share of confessions, but they always had been in the form of text messages or love letters. She had never received a confession in public.

She was stunned for a moment and said weakly, "I'm sorry, I don't even know you!"

"It's fine if you don't know me. We can start from scratch. Once we have feelings for each other, it won't be a problem anymore," Li Wenzhe said affectionately.

"But... I don't have feelings for you!" Yan'er said.

"It's fine too if you don't have feelings for me. We can slowly develop our feelings. I can play the piano for you. You'll love it."

Li Wenzhe was very confident.

Playing the piano was a surefire way to court a girl!

A pure and beautiful girl like Shi Yan'er definitely had a taste for the arts. He would win her heart if he played the piano and sweet-talked her.

In his eyes, Tang Hao was nothing more than a windfall tycoon. So what if he was rich and powerful? He was still a vulgar person with no taste!

It was rumored that Tang Hao came from a mountain village. Even if he was rich, he had no substance. There was no comparison.

Yan'er became even more embarrassed.

The gazes and discussions around her made her feel helpless.

“Yan’er, even if you don’t agree now, you should at least give me a chance! If you’re willing, I’ll take you away right now and play the piano for you,” Li Wenzhe said.

His overly-passionate tone of voice was very cringy.

“Wow! So romantic!”

Some of the girls exclaimed and became even more envious.

Li Wenzhe was proud when he heard those exclamations.

Even if she did not agree, she should have been at least a little tempted. Once he succeeded with the first step, he would eventually win her heart if he put in the effort.

He became excited when he thought of that.

At that moment, he suddenly heard a cold voice behind him.

“Go and play with yourself! Can’t you see that she’s not interested?”

Li Wenzhe’s face flushed with anger. He turned his head and was about to spew curses but was immediately stunned. The person who spoke was none other than Tang Hao.

Everyone instantly fell silent.

Everyone's expression changed. Many of them looked as if they were eager to watch the drama unfold.

"Brother Hao!"

Yan'er immediately heaved a sigh of relief. She quickly walked forward and grabbed Tang Hao's arm.

Seeing that, Li Wenzhe's facial muscles twitched violently and became livid.

His eyes were brimming with jealousy.

"Let's go, Brother Hao!"

Yan'er pulled Tang Hao and was about to walk away.

Li Wenzhe's expression became even uglier.

That was a blatant slap to his face!

"Hmph! Aren't you just a country bumpkin without a shred of artistic expression? How vulgar!" He sneered.

He deliberately spoke loudly. Everyone around him heard him.

Tang Hao's footsteps stopped, and his expression darkened.

He turned around, glared at Li Wenzhe, and said coldly, "I'm vulgar? So you're noble then?"

"You don't say! Don't compare me to a person like you. Other than money, what else do you have? What else do you know?" Li Wenzhe sneered.