

The Mightiest Little Peasant Chapter 621

“Really?”

Han Yutong exclaimed in disbelief. Then, she became excited.

She reached out to take the jade bottle, held it in her palm, and looked at it again and again.

“Great! This way... I can always follow you and be your assistant forever!”

A sweet and beautiful smile grew on her face.

The moonlight shone on her delicate face, covering it in a gentle aura. It was like a scene in a dream.

Tang Hao laughed and said, “Let’s eat! Aren’t you hungry?”

“Right!” She cut off a piece of cake and ate it.

“Mmm! It’s so delicious!” She mumbled with her mouth full of cake and smiled sweetly at Tang Hao.

She was sated after a piece of cake, so she started to fool around. She smeared cream on Tang Hao’s face, and she giggled when she saw Tang Hao’s surprised look.

Tang Hao also dabbed some cream and prepared to smear it on Han Yutong’s face. She quickly jumped off the car and ran away.

They chased after each other for a while before returning to the car roof.

They sat there and looked at the starry sky.

Han Yutong glanced at the person beside her from time to time. She felt complicated when she saw that handsome face.

The relationship between the two had clearly surpassed that between a boss and his employee.

However, they were not lovers yet.

After all, he had a girlfriend!

She felt some resentment in her heart when she thought of that.

“Perhaps this is the best,” she thought to herself.

It did not matter if she was his lover. It was enough if she could stay by his side.

She felt a lot better after thinking of that.

At that moment, meteors suddenly fell across the night sky. It was a breath-taking sight.

“Wow! Meteors!”

She exclaimed as she sat straight and looked up at the night sky.

Her beautiful eyes were sparkling.

“It’s so beautiful! Chairman Tang, get up and make a wish!”

She pulled Tang Hao’s hand hard.

Then, she clasped her hands together and solemnly made a wish.

Tang Hao sat up and made a wish to the meteor shower in the sky.

“What wish did you make, Chairman Tang?”

“I wish that everyone I know will be safe!” Tang Hao said.

“Haha! How old-fashioned!”

“What did you wish for then?”

“I’m not telling you. Don’t ask about a girl’s wishes! Besides, wishes don’t come true when you tell them.”

Tang Hao was speechless.

“Don’t mind that! Look at the meteor shower. How beautiful!”

She leaned close to Tang Hao and rested her head on his shoulder, watching the meteors fall from the sky.

The scene was as beautiful as a painting.

The two of them were mesmerized by the view and leaned against each other quietly.

Soon, the meteor shower ended, and the night became darker.

She had fallen asleep. Her face was serene.

When Tang Hao realized that, he could not help but smile. He carefully carried her in her arms, put her in the back seat of the car, and covered her with a thin blanket.

Then, he sent her home.

The New Year's holiday passed in a flash. It was coming to the end of the semester.

Tang Hao attended his classes diligently to prepare for the exams. Occasionally, he would study with Yan'er. The days were rather uneventful.

In the company, Tang Hao received the quarterly earnings report and perused it.

Out of the seven subsidiary companies of Haotian Group, the plantation company was not meant to be profitable, and Haotian Pictures was just starting out and thus had no profits.

The other five companies were growing steadily.

Haotian Health Products's profits rose from 290 million in the last quarter to 350 million in the current quarter, which was rather remarkable.

Masculine Wind Health Products's profits increased from 310 million in the last quarter to 420 million in the current quarter. That was a bigger increase than Haotian Health Products.

Almost everyone in Huaxia knew about Masculine Wind Aphrodisiac. It was more famous than Viagra, and sales were through the roof.

Moreover, the newly-introduced hair growth tonic, health supplements, and sobriety tonic were also very popular after relentless advertising campaigns.

The hair growth tonic was hailed as the savior of balding middle-aged men. Its reviews were overwhelmingly positive.

Even the traffic police were promoting the sobriety tonic, advising those who regularly consume alcohol to carry a bottle with them at all times. They could take the tonic after drinks to prevent drunk-driving.

All of that had led to the rapid rise in the performance of Masculine Wind Health Products.

Divine Liquor Company's growth was relatively steady, rising from 220 million to 250 million.

New Magical Kitchen grew from 200 million to 230 million. The development had slowed down recently because it took a lot of time to select and train qualified chefs.

Finally, the beverage company had the biggest increase in performance, from 70 million to 170 million.

In total, the net profit for the current quarter was 1.42 billion, up 320 million compared to 11 billion last quarter.

Tang Hao was quite satisfied with the result.

He had a clear idea about how to develop the company in the future. He would continue to increase production and make inroads into the field of health products.

At their current production capacity, they would still be unable to satisfy the entire Huaxia's demand.

He would place more effort on developing Haotian Pictures.

After that, they would use Haotian Pictures as a spearhead to enter the entertainment industry.

Tang Hao discussed the details of his plans with Liu Yan.

As the days passed, Liu Bingyao became more popular than ever.

With the support of her fan base, her hit song remained in first place on all the new song charts, which was another clean sweep.

"Starry Sky" became a mainstream song.

Her album had not even been released yet!

As the song became popular, her popularity began to rise.

She was also on many magazines, online media, and variety shows. Her exposure rate had greatly increased.

Even though she had debuted not long ago, she was already a rising star in the entertainment industry.

The album was eventually released. With its explosive popularity, album sales were through the roof, immediately leaping into the top three of sales charts.

After the album was released, signing events began.

The first stop was Z University.

She was from Z University and had a solid fan base there. The Z University Fan Club was the most coordinated and dedicated among all the major fan clubs.

Therefore, Z University naturally became the first choice.