

The Mightiest Little Peasant Chapter 699

In the living room, the two of them were stunned.

They stared at each other and froze in position.

Then, the two of them scrambled to their feet and hurriedly straightened their messy clothes.

“Dammit, of all the times they choose to come!” Tang Hao was frustrated.

He could hear the sounds of multiple car doors opening. It meant that there was more than one person.

“Why are you shouting?” Qin Gang’s father’s voice was heard.

The two of them were stunned again. They straightened their clothes once more in panic, afraid that they would give themselves away.

The sound of footsteps reached the door. Then, the doorbell rang.

Tang Hao took a deep breath and was about to walk forward.

“Wait!”

Qin Xiangyi pulled him back. She took a tissue and wiped the lipstick mark on his neck.

“That was close!” Tang Hao almost broke out in cold sweat.

When he opened the door, he saw Mr. and Mrs. Qin, Qin Gang, and even Old Master Qin.

Tang Hao greeted them warmly.

“Old Master Qin, Uncle, Auntie, please come in!”

Then, he went to help Old Master Qin walk.

“I’m fine! My body is very strong! Speaking of which, it’s all thanks to your medicine! I feel so young now!”

The old man waved his hand and said with a bright smile.

He looked at Tang Hao with a satisfactory gaze.

The first time he met Tang Hao, he felt that the kid was unreliable. But now, he was very happy with him!

This kid was very capable and talented. Not only was his business getting bigger and bigger, but he was also gaining more and more influence. Even the major figures in the Capital knew who he was.

He was there at the dinner party of Haotian Group’s opening ceremony.

Mr. and Mrs. Qin greeted Tang Hao enthusiastically.

They completely approved of Tang Hao’s relationship with their daughter.

“Brother-in-law!”

Qin Gang walked in and draped his arm over Tang Hao's shoulder.

"We wanted to go to the dinner venue directly, but we thought we haven't met you for a long time, and that's why we came here! I hope we didn't disturb you!" Old Master Qin sat down and said with a smile.

"No such thing, Grandpa! You can come here any time! This is also your home!"

Qin Xiangyi walked over and sat beside Old Master Qin.

"Haha! Little girl, you're quite the charmer!" Old Master Qin said heartily.

Qin Xiangyi pursed her lips and smiled.

"I say, little girl, your business is very big now. You're already a president of a company or something. Your business is considered a success, right? When are you giving me a great-grandchild?"

Qin Xiangyi's face turned red, and she said angrily, "Grandpa! What are you talking about! I'm not even married yet!"

"You can have a baby even if you're not married! It's nothing!" The old man said.

"Hold on a second, Grandpa. I'll go make some tea!"

Qin Xiangyi quickly ran away.

Mr. Qin, Mrs. Qin, and Qin Gang laughed.

The old man glared at Qin Gang coldly and said, "You're laughing too? Do you think that you have the right to laugh?"

Qin Gang's face stiffened, and he became extremely embarrassed.

"How old are you again? Yet you're still fooling around! Why aren't you married yet?" The old man reprimanded sternly.

Qin Gang kept quiet and lowered his head.

Tang Hao smiled as he watched.

They sat around and chatted for about an hour before leaving for the city. They would take a quick tour before heading to the venue of the dinner party.

"Phew!"

After watching them leave, the two of them heaved a sigh of relief.

They looked at each other and laughed.

"That was close!" Qin Xiangyi said as she patted her chest.

Even though she might be bold and enthusiastic when it was only the two of them, she was nonetheless an obedient daughter in front of the elders.

Tang Hao looked at the time and said, "It's almost time. Let's change clothes!"

"OK!"

The two of them went into the room hand in hand.

Tang Hao changed into a trim black business suit. As for her, she was dressed in an extravagant and alluring black evening gown.

After putting on some jewelry, she looked radiant.

The venue of the dinner party was at the same clubhouse.

It was only five o'clock when they arrived. After checking all the preparations and making sure that there were no mistakes, the couple went to the entrance and welcomed the guests.

She was the host this time. That was why she stood in front, and Tang Hao stood next to her.

The guests started arriving at half-past five.

"Long time no see, Xiangyi! Congratulations!"

Many high school and university classmates came. They greeted her enthusiastically, and some even flattered her.

The high school classmates were the most eager to please her.

In the past, Qin the Femme Fatale was quite wealthy, but now she could be considered a tycoon. More importantly, her boyfriend was the boss of Haotian Group and the most powerful person in Westridge.

“Congratulations, Boss Qin!”

People from the Westridge business world and her business partners came one by one and greeted her respectfully.

Some even offered various gifts, including antiques and jewelry.

Yan Lili also came, bringing her husband with his eight-pack abs.

“Congratulations!”

She greeted him reluctantly with an awkward look on her face.

Qin Xiangyi pressed her lips together and tried hard not to laugh out loud.

After they went inside, Qin Xiangyi could not hold it back anymore and burst out laughing.

“She’s here for the food tonight. How amazing is that? She’s willing to bow her head for food. Her dignity is only worth a meal!”

Qin Xiangyi felt extremely happy.

Soon, Secretary Qian and the others also came and greeted Qin Xiangyi enthusiastically.

They heaped praise and flattery upon her, which made her feel glamorous.

Eventually, the people from the provincial administration came, which caused a huge commotion.

“Oh my god! That’s the provincial leader! I didn’t know Qin the Femme Fatale is so influential!” The classmates exclaimed.

“Wow! This company is amazing!” The business partners were shocked.

Hearing such exclamations, Qin Xiangyi pursed her lips and smiled. She was secretly delighted.

It was not surprising for people in Qin Xiangyi’s position to feel egotistical.

The scene tonight had satisfied Qin Xiangyi’s ego greatly.

“Thank you, Lil Tang!”

She held Tang Hao’s hand tightly. Her face was blushing from excitement.

“There’s no need to thank me!” Tang Hao said with a smile.

She smiled, gently hugged Tang Hao, and pressed her face into her bosom. “I’m so lucky to have met you...” she muttered.

After a while, she lifted her head and giggled. “Little Tang, am I very pretentious?”

“Not at all!” Tang Hao said dotingly.

“That’s good!”

Another car stopped at the front gate, and two figures came down.

They were Lin Jianjun and his wife.

“Congratulations, Boss Qin!”

Lin Jianjun and his wife walked over.
