

The Mightiest Little Peasant Chapter 808

"I can't wait any longer!"

The car stopped and entered the house. She leaned over and kissed him in a domineering manner.

It was a long and passionate kiss.

"Cultivation is really beneficial. Recently, I found that I have boundless energy!" She leaned in Tang Hao's arms and said lazily.

Tang Hao laughed and said, "You shouldn't overwork yourself. Your brother called me and asked me to tell you that!"

"My brother? Sigh! He's worrying for nothing again!"

Zhao Qingxue pouted and said helplessly, "My dad says the same thing too!"

"It's normal for them to worry," Tang Hao said.

"I know!" Zhao Qingxue said.

Suddenly, she seemed to remember something and said, "Ah, right. My dad knows!"

"Knows about what?"

“He knows that you have a girlfriend! He investigated you behind my back, then he talked to me. He wants me to either leave you or snatch you over.”

As she spoke, she turned around to face Tang Hao, and she stared at him unblinkingly with her beautiful eyes.

Tang Hao fell silent.

She smiled gently, reached out with her hand, and gently caressed Tang Hao’s face.

“After our first time, I told you that I won’t bug you. I know that she’s more important to you, and I don’t want to fight her for you.

“Now that I can live for a long time and I won’t grow old, I don’t care about those things anymore. I only hope that... you won’t completely break off this relationship.

“If that happens, I’ll be very sad, and I won’t know what to do!”

With that, she gently hugged Tang Hao.

Her hug gradually tightened, as though she was afraid that he might disappear if she let go.

After a long while, Tang Hao looked at the time and said, “Aren’t you going back to work?”

“No!”

She shook her head hard. "I'm calling in sick, and I don't want to go to work now. I just want you to accompany me!"

Tang Hao laughed and said, "Then... are you hungry?"

"A little!"

"Should I go and cook?" Tang Hao said and was about to sit up.

"No!"

She shook her head and continued to hug Tang Hao tightly. "Don't move! I just want to hug you like this. This feels so good!" She said coyly.

"Silly girl!" Tang Hao laughed.

"You're the silly one!" She grunted lightly.

After teasing each other for a long time, the two of them finally got up.

After eating, she answered a phone call and said, "I have to go. They need me there! Don't worry, I'll be careful. I won't let my brother and the others worry."

After sending her to the provincial headquarters, Tang Hao went to school and attended the next two classes.

Another five days passed in the blink of an eye.

The days were uneventful, and Tang Hao was not quite used to it.

He had been preparing for battle and worrying every day for the past few months. Now, he had nothing to worry about.

In these few days, Taoist Master Qian Ji and the others had taken down the demi-worlds of the other six sects. Huaxia was once again at peace.

There was no news of activity in Dongying, and Tang Hao did not want to pay attention to it for the time being.

He would attend classes at the university during the day and continued to study formations at night. When he was free, he would go to the film studio to act as a corpse or a background extra.

The shooting of the TV series was nearing its end. In another month or two, the production would be completed, just in time for the summer season.

The world was at peace, and the Taoist Masters had free time again. Thus, they began pre-production of the third movie in the "Mao Mountain Taoist Priest" series.

Previously, Shabby Taoist Master had already finished the script and cast many actors. However, they shelved the movie because of the incident with the hidden sects.

The news caused a sensation when the people in the Union heard about it.

"Shooting a movie? That seems fun!"

The people of Hua Mountain were very excited, and they clamored for roles.

Compared to Kongtong, the people of Hua Mountain were more receptive to modern things. They indulged in playing video games and women.

Once they were free, Ma Chongyang and the others began to promote video games among their disciples, who heartily embraced the new hobby.

Hua Mountain had made a name for itself in the competitive gaming scene, and they attracted a lot of attention.

Tang Hao also spoke to Thea on the phone.

She had been busy with rebuilding White Mountain. Moreover, the situation in Merrica was quite tense with the recent presidential elections, and those were the reasons why she did not come over to Huaxia.

Tang Hao asked her about any suspicious activity in Merrica, but Thea said that there was none.

Tang Hao thought about it carefully and realized that Merrica only had a few hundred years of history. They would not have any hidden warlock sects.

Even if there were, they should be in Europe!

Soon, it was already May.

The weather grew hotter day by day.

One night, Tang Hao was sitting in the living room studying Artifact formations. Suddenly, his phone rang. He picked it up and saw that it was from Shi Yan'er.

When he answered the call, he could hear booming music from the other end, as though she was in a nightclub.

"Hey! Tang Hao!"

A female voice sounded, but it was not Yan'er.

"You are... ?" Tang Hao frowned.

"I'm Yan'er's classmate!" The person said.

"Oh!" Tang Hao answered. He vaguely remembered that voice.

"What's wrong? Where is Yan'er? Are you in a nightclub?" Tang Hao said.

"Yes!" The person said, "Yan'er... She's... a little drunk."
