

The Mightiest Little Peasant Chapter 842

“Here! This is for Mao Mountain, and this is for Hua Mountain...”

Tang Hao took out Artifacts from the sack and handed them out.

Those were simple Artifacts that cost only a few hundred crystals each. On Earth, they were considered precious items.

“Thank you, President!”

The people were grinning from ear to ear when they received their presents.

“That’s all for today. In a few days, I’ll give you alchemical pills!” Tang Hao said after giving out the Artifacts and materials.

He had bought a lot of medicinal herbs, but he needed to make them into pills.

Everyone thanked him profusely.

“Did you find out anything about those people, President?” Suddenly, a Taoist master asked.

The originally lively atmosphere instantly became tense.

“Not yet. That place is too big. It’ll take some time, but there’s no rush. Moreover, we’re not powerful enough to take revenge on them. We should cultivate first!” Tang Hao said.

“That’s true!”

Everyone nodded.

After a while, after the crowd dispersed, Tang Hao saw Mu Xintong, who had been standing behind the crowd the entire time. She was looking at him silently.

“You’re here too!”

Tang Hao walked over and smiled.

“Mm,” she responded softly. She stared unblinkingly at Tang Hao with her beautiful eyes.

Suddenly, she seemed to have thought of something. Her beautiful face blushed slightly and she looked away.

“Is it... fun over there?” She stammered as if she was priming herself for the main topic.

“You have to be more careful!”

She was a little annoyed when she heard his casual reply.

“I know!” Tang Hao smiled.

“It’s good that you know. Did you... did you read the book?” She stuttered weakly.

Tang Hao was stunned. He scratched his head and said awkwardly, “Yeah!”

“Oh,” she replied softly.

“Then... I’ll be going!” As she said that, she turned around and walked away. After a few steps, she turned around and looked at him reluctantly.

After watching her leave, Tang Hao chatted with Taoist Master Qian Ji and the others.

He had only left for about ten days. Nothing much happened on Earth.

It was already late at night when he returned to Westridge.

After he stepped out of the cab, the door of his house opened. A beautiful figure rushed out and fell into his arms, hugging him tightly.

“Lil Tang! I missed you so much!”

Qin Xiangyi buried her face in his arms and greedily inhaled his familiar scent.

Tang Hao stroked her hair and said gently, “I’m back!”

The cab driver chuckled mischievously and drove away.

The two of them stood at the door for a long time, hugging each other tightly.

“Alright, let’s go in!” Tang Hao whispered.

“Carry me!”

Qin Xiangyi raised her head, pursed her lips, and said coyly.

“OK!”

Tang Hao picked her up and walked into the house.

She hugged Tang Hao’s neck and giggled. Suddenly, she stopped smiling and leaned close to Tang Hao’s ear. Her breath was warm.

“Lil Tang, let’s not sleep tonight...”

Her tone was seductive.

Tang Hao’s urges flared. He quickened his pace, walked into the house, and kicked the door shut.

The soft moans lasted the entire night.

Early in the morning, there was a sizzling sound in the kitchen.

Tang Hao in an apron and grilling meat. The summer morning sunlight shone in from the outside. Everything was peaceful and homely.

Qin Xiangyi sat at the dining table, resting her chin on her hands. She watched the scene quietly.

“This... is really nice!”

She murmured and laughed to herself.

“What are you laughing at?” Tang Hao said.

“Nothing!” Qin Xiangyi smiled brightly. She stood up, walked over, and pecked Tang Hao on the cheek.

“What’s up?” Tang Hao was surprised.

“Nothing. Can’t I kiss you?” She scrunched up her delicate nose and grunted lightly.

Tang Hao immediately burst into laughter.

“How long are you planning to stay here, Lil Tang?” She hugged Tang Hao from behind and pressed her cheek against his shoulder.

“Half a month, I guess!” Tang Hao said.

He brought back a lot of medicinal herbs this time. He had to make them into pills. Moreover, he had to lay low for a while.

“Oh!” Qin Xiangyi replied.

After pausing for a while, she said, “Then... after eating, let’s go shopping! After that, we’ll go to Stonegate Town and have dinner with my parents. My brother is back there for a few days!”

“OK!” Tang Hao agreed.

In the next few days, Tang Hao went to work during the day and accompanied Qin Xiangyi. At night, he made pills.

He also made the inner core and soul of the alpha tyrannosaur into a pill. After swallowing the pill made from a Golden Core monster’s soul, he successfully broke through. At the moment, he was in the latter period of the State of Foundation Establishment and was quite close to the peak.

Meanwhile, Haotian Group was also steadily expanding around the world.

The television series was beginning to air, and it became the most popular series in the summer season. As the female lead, Liu Bingyao’s popularity naturally soared.

Half a month had passed in the blink of an eye.

On that day, Tang Hao bid farewell to Qin Xiangyi and returned to Kunlun.

“Hey, kid, come here!”

Tian Xuanzi waved at him.

“What?”

“This is for you!” Tian Xuanzi tossed a jade pendant over. “Didn’t you ask me before how to craft that golem? The knowledge is inside. Let me tell you, this is the ultimate crafting technique in Kunlun.

“I’m not trying to boast, but even those people over there don’t have such techniques. They’re trash compared to us Kunlun.”

His tone was filled with pride.

Tang Hao received it. He was excited.

He had been eyeing that golem for a long time. It would be really cool if he could control a creature of that size.

Tian Xuanzi looked into the distance and sighed. “That golem was left behind by our ancestral teacher, and it has protected Kunlun for thousands of years. It’s called Divine Kunlun.

“Golems of that magnitude are named after gods. If you craft one in the future, you have to continue the tradition. You can call it whatever god you want.

“Of course, crafting something of that size is too difficult even for me. I haven’t fully understood the techniques yet.”

After saying that, he flicked his sleeves and left.

Tang Hao held the jade pendant and regarded it curiously. “I don’t believe that I can’t craft it. I’m not just going to craft one, I’ll have to craft at least three.

“No, I’ll craft seven, and I can combine them together like a giant robot! That’ll be so cool!”

Tang Hao walked toward the underground palace as he fantasized.

He opened the passage and walked in. The next moment, he found himself in the valley.

It was late at night there, and it was dark all around.

Tang Hao looked around to make sure that no one saw him. Then, he rushed toward Nanping town.

He caused a stir as soon as he returned to town.
