

The Mightiest Little Peasant Chapter 843

“Brother Tang is back!”

Tang Hao had just arrived at the entrance of the small town when someone recognized him.

In an instant, the small town was in an uproar.

“You’re back, Brother Tang!”

“We’ve missed you so much, Brother Tang!”

A group of people surrounded him and warmly greeted him.

“Everything’s alright now, Brother Tang. Those people from East Peak Mountain are busy hunting down Ballys Bro, and they don’t have the time to find trouble with you. Hurry up and sell the medicine. We’re all waiting!”

“Right, right! Don’t you know how popular your medicine is? So many people have come to inquire about your medicine. It would be a pity if you don’t sell it.”

Zhao Liu and the others heard the news and came to the town entrance to greet Tang Hao.

The town at night suddenly became very lively. Everyone was happy, except the storekeepers who wanted to cry.

They thought that the kid was gone and their prosperous days would return, but they did not expect the kid to come back in only half a month.

What could they do against the kid with his miraculous medicine?

“F*ck!”

They stood at their stores and looked at the town entrance. They clenched their fists and cursed angrily.

After entering the town, Tang Hao went directly to the place where the medicinal herbs were sold. He bought a large number of medicinal herbs and went to the inn to start making pills.

He did not have much money on him, so he had to earn more quickly.

The next morning, he carried a few sacks out of the door. A crowd instantly formed around him when he arrived at the street.

The prices were still the same as before. The regular version cost five crystals, and the deluxe version cost fifty crystals. In a short while, they were all snatched up.

Tang Hao went to stock up again. He made more pills in the late morning and sold them at noon.

Then, he completed another batch in the evening.

In the evening, the news that he had returned seemed to have spread. People from other towns came over to buy medicine from him.

The next day, many people came from all around to buy the deluxe version of the Rejuvenation Pill.

The two most famous personalities from that incident were Ballsy Bro and Tang Ritian the medicine seller.

People came from hundreds of miles away to fight for the treasure. They had also seen the effects of the miraculous Rejuvenation Pill that Tang Hao sold.

It was called a "Rejuvenation Pill," but the effects were far more potent than any other pill with that name. It was worth it even if it cost three or four hundred crystals.

Word of mouth spread and Tang Hao became famous.

"50 crystals? F*ck! That's too cheap!"

They were shocked when they came to see.

That miraculous medicine was sold for only 50 crystals? That's practically nothing!

They began to fight over the pills.

"Quickly give it to me. I'll buy everything!"

"Get lost! This is for my Li family. Don't fight with me!"

"So what about your Li family? You guys are nothing!"

Those people rolled up their sleeves and hurled insults at each other like hooligans. Eventually, they started getting physical.

“What? Only 50 crystals? Are you kidding me? No, it’s so cheap that it’s an insult to me and the medicine! You should sell it at 100 crystals per pill!”

Some people who were not short of money thought that the price was too low.

Tang Hao’s business was booming day by day.

The medicinal herb sellers were willing to sell all their stock to Tang Hao.

Tang Hao was holed up in the inn making medicine. Eventually, he custom-made molds and mass-produced thousands of pills a day.

Although his supply had increased, the demand was even greater.

Buyers swarmed in from all directions.

Many clans and sects sent their disciples to invite Tang Hao over and offered many lucrative deals, but Tang Hao rejected them all.

That made him even more famous.

People were speculating about his true identity.

Given his amazing pharmaceutical skills, he must be guided by a master expert. Furthermore, they also heard that Tang Hao had a high cultivation base. If he was a cultivator in the middle period of the State of Foundation Establishment in his early twenties, he must be a prodigy.

Considering those two factors, Tang Hao must be someone extraordinary.

“This medicine is amazing! The recipe... is incredible! It’s profound!

“Tang Ritian is definitely not an ordinary person!”

That was the comment from a famous medicine maker.

After that comment, the people placed Tang Hao in even higher regard.

Eventually, Tang Ritian became a household name.

“Ritian! What a domineering name!”

Many people trembled when they first heard that name. It was too shocking.

As Tang Hao’s popularity grew, more and more people came to buy his medicine. Not only people from sects and clans came but unaffiliated cultivators too.

Tang Hao became richer and richer by the day.

Every day, he sold three to four thousand pills, and most of them were deluxe pills. His daily turnover was around 170,000 to 180,000 crystals, and his profit was more than 100,000 crystals.

“Brother Tang, why don’t you run a store instead?”

“That’s right! You’re considered a celebrity now, and you can’t be operating a street stall. It doesn’t look good on you,” Zhao Liu and the others suggested.

“That’s true!” Tang Hao thought for a moment and decided to open a store.

After surveying the area, he decided to open his store next to Liu’s Pharmacy.

That store originally sold medicine. The competition was already tough in that area, and Tang Hao had cornered the market on Rejuvenation Pills. The business owner was suffering.

As soon as he heard that Tang Hao wanted to rent the lot, he immediately agreed and only asked for 20,000 crystals.

He ordered a plaque, and by the next morning, he was open for business.

“Damn! Ritian Pavilion? What a domineering name!”

The crowd exclaimed in admiration when they saw the plaque.

“It’s the store’s first day of business, and there is a storewide 20% discount for all customers! Not only are we selling the regular and deluxe versions of the Rejuvenation Pill, but we are also launching three new products today!”

Tang Hao stood in front of the door and shouted.

“What products?”

The people crowded at the door and looked at Tang Hao excitedly.

The storekeepers of the other stores were extremely nervous.

Tang Hao smiled and said, "Qi Strengthening Pills, of course! For this one, we have regular, deluxe, and super deluxe versions."

Everyone exclaimed in surprise when they heard that.

They discussed whether the Qi Strengthening Pills were as amazing as the Rejuvenation Pills.

The other storekeepers' expressions changed drastically, and they stomped their feet in anger.

That guy had already cornered the market for Rejuvenation Pills. Now that he was selling Qi Strengthening Pills, would they be out of business very soon?

However, their curses were completely drowned out by the clamor. No one paid any attention to them.

The spotlight was on Tang Hao alone.

Tang Hao waved his hand to signal for the crowd to quieten down. Then, he announced, "Currently, Qi Strengthening Pills on the market sell for 50 crystals each. Over here, my regular pills are 25 crystals each, and the effects are the same.

"The deluxe version costs 200 crystals, and the super deluxe version costs 1,000."