

The Mightiest Little Peasant Chapter 895

“If you have the guts, then you all go!”

The people from Primeval Mountain cursed indignantly.

“Isn’t that what we’re doing now? Just wait and see. We’ll capture that brat, eliminate that villain, and bring peace to the Void Realm!” The people from the Di family said smugly.

They glanced at the people from Primeval Mountain disdainfully and continued to rush forward.

Their morale and confidence were high.

They expected the kid to be quite powerful to cause such a big commotion. After all, he possessed the best footwork technique. If he were to open another one or two chakras, normal cultivators would not be able to block him.

However, that was nothing to the Di family. The Di family could crush him easily.

A few minutes later, they saw the kid.

They were shocked when they looked closely.

‘F*ck! When did that kid become so brutal? He did not use sorcery to kill people but instead slapped them into bits. That was a terrifying sight.

“That’s too cruel!”

“That makes him a supervillain!”

They were furious. Fires of righteousness were burning fiercely in their chests.

“Hold it right there, villain! The Di family is here!”

They shouted loudly and rushed forward like a swarm of bees.

Tang Hao slapped another person into bits, then turned around and glanced at them coldly.

His narrowed eyes were brimming with killing intent. He had already gone mad from killing.

Without saying a word, he rushed forward and slapped with his palm.

The palm strike extinguished the sorcery spell that was coming at him and landed on the face of an elder from the Di family.

Bang! His head exploded.

In a single exchange, one person died.

Tang Hao continued to push forward like a bulldozer, killing everyone he saw. The bodies exploded one after another, and blood and flesh splattered everywhere.

That scene was abnormally bloody.

The people from the Di family were already scared out of their wits.

They were prepared to crush that kid, but it turned out that the kid was crushing them instead.

None of them could withstand a single palm strike from that kid. That was insane!

That kid was scarier than the demonic roc!

They finally realized that the people from Primeval Mountain were not lying. The opponent was way out of their league. He must have unsealed six chakras!

It was simply impossible for them to fight a six-chakra cultivator on the first level.

The only people who could stop that kid were similar six-chakra prodigies, but they were busy cultivating in the real world and could not be bothered to step into the Void Realm.

That kid was practically invincible!

“Run!”

They finally swallowed their pride and turned around to escape.

“Just you wait, you filthy brat. We’ll fight another day!”

“Don’t be too arrogant, you filthy brat. I’ll get the whelps from my family to play with you!”

They continued to curse as they ran away.

Tang Hao chased after them and slapped them.

“Mommy!”

They were almost wetting their pants from fright. They stopped cursing and ran away with all their might.

“Oh my god! Even the Di family is running away!”

Those who stopped running to watch from afar were stunned again. They thought that the Di family would be able to get rid of that brat, but all of them were massacred.

As the people from the Di family ran away, they met a group of people dressed in black rushing over in the opposite direction. They were from Broken Sword Mountain.

“Hahaha! Isn’t this the Di family?”

“Heh, why are they all running like dogs?”

The people from Broken Sword Mountain burst into laughter when they saw the people from the Di family.

The faces of the people from the Di family turned deep-red. That was how they had mocked the people from Primeval Mountain previously.

They wanted to warn them about Tang Hao, but they decided otherwise after seeing their smug expressions.

“Go on if you dare!” They shouted.

“Sure. Just wait and see!”

The people of Broken Sword Mountain laughed and left.

“The people from the Di family can’t handle an individual? To think that they keep bragging about how powerful they are!”

They continued to laugh as they rushed forward.

“Just give up, you brat! If you hand over your cultivation technique, Broken Sword Mountain will grant you a quick death. Otherwise, you’ll see what happens to you.”

When they neared Tang Hao, they hovered in the air with their noses pointed arrogantly at the sky.

Tang Hao did not say anything but continued to charge forward.

Bang! Bang! Bang! He exploded the heads of the people in front.

The people of Broken Sword Mountain cried out in panic.

“Ahh!” “Ahh!” “Ahh!”

In a short while, they were running for their lives.

“Oh my god! That kid is inhuman!”

They could not escape, and Tang Hao killed every single one of them.

Broken Sword Mountain was wiped out!

A short while later, another major faction arrived. They were just as arrogant as Broken Sword Mountain, but soon, they were running away for their lives.

The onlookers eventually became desensitized.

People kept coming over, though they were shocked when they heard what happened.

“Why is that kid such a freak?”

They were somewhat hesitant, but they could not resist the temptation of obtaining the kid’s cultivation techniques if they managed to defeat him.

They thought that the kid would not have much strength left after killing so many people. If they captured him, they would be able to obtain the cultivation technique as well as become a hero for saving the Void Realm. That was a good deal.

“Stop it right there, villain! The Hillrazer Sect is here!”

“The Rainmaker Tribe will punish you today, villain!”

The factions came one after another.

However, Tang Hao wiped out each one of them.

“F*ck! How is that kid still standing?” They could not figure it out even as they died.

Tang Hao did not know how many people he had killed before people stopped going close to him. Everyone was running away from that terrifying kid.

“Damn! Those kids back at home aren’t here. Otherwise, they would have easily dispatched that kid!”

“Same here. The kids back home have all gone on voyages!”

The people from the major factions complained as they ran away.

They had never been humiliated like this before.

They had to take revenge for this!

Meanwhile, Tang Hao continued to kill. He was already desensitized, and he had lost count of the number of people he killed.

He used his physical strength and the power of the divine bone. That way, he did not have to use his qi reserves.

Slap!

Another person died. Tang Hao took a step forward and was about to give chase to the other one who was running away.

At that moment, loud thunder could be heard. Instantly, the sky changed color.

In the next moment, the clouds split open, and a beam of light shone down.

The rainbow-colored light was just like the one that had appeared before.

Tang Hao's footsteps stopped. He looked up and was stunned.

'Rainbow-colored light?

'Did I break another record?'

The people stopped fleeing and turned around to look at the sky in a daze.

"Oh my god! That's rainbow-colored light!"

"F*ck! This makes no sense! Did the kid break some record again?"

The people were shocked. Then, they wailed loudly.
